Boy Scouts To Regulate Traffic Near School Houses Next Fall

School Committee and Norumbega District Officials Plan Experiment

When the schools of Newton open next September, scores of picked members of the Boy Scouts of this city will begin their duties as traffic officers on the streets near school buildings to guard the pupils from the hazard of automobiles. In many cities throughout the country the Boy Scouts have for some years been performing this work efficiently. Chief of Police Burke has not been favorable to the use of boys as traffic officers, but he finally agreed to allow their use as an experiment. The boys will not stand in the middle of the streets as do the police traffic officers, but will remain by the edge of the sidewalks in front of, and near the school buildings.

The School Committee at the meeting on June 25 voted to accept the report of the sub-committee which considered this matter. The report was:—"Your committee has conferred with executives in charge of Norumbega Council, Boy Scouts of America, and with the Chief of Police of Newton, Bernard F. Burke, with respect to the subject matter of the above communication. At the request of the special committee a joint recommendation dated June 20, 1928, has been received from Mr. L. A. Bruce, Jr., Scout Executive, and Chief Burke, copy of which is attached to this report.

Your special committee recommends:—

1. That the use of Boy Scouts as an aid in directing the school children at the schools and locations named in paragraph 1 of the joint recommendation be approved experimentally subject to the conditions and regulations set forth in the joint communication.

2. That no pupil of the school on traffic duty shall be delayed more than five minutes in joining his class at the opening of school or dismissed more than five minutes before each school session terminates.

3. That the principal of each school affected be requested to report in writing to the Supt. of Schools on or before December 15, with respect to the success of this experiment and definite recommendations as to its continuance with or without modification. The Supt. of Schools is also requested to secure at the same date a similar report from the Chief of Police in order that the matter can be reviewed at the December meeting of the School Committee.

4. That the Supt. of Schools be directed to send copies of this order to his Honor, the Mayor, for transmission to the Chief of Police, and L. A. Bruce, Jr., Scout Executive, and to each of the schools affected."

The report of Scout Executive L. A. Bruce, Jr., and Chief of Police Burke submitted to the members of the School Committee was as follows:—

1. We recommend that the Boy Scouts of Norumbega Council, as selected and trained according to plans hereinafter stated, be used as school Traffic Police at the following points, on an experimental basis:

Mason School, 1 at Willow street and 1 at Centre street, Bigelow School, 1 at Tremont and Park streets, Burr School, 1 at Commonwealth and (Continued on Page 4)

Twice Defaulted In Police Court

Frederic Lyman of Somerville Ignores Court in Automobile Case

Frederic Lyman of Somerville who caused much excitement at Newton Corner a couple of weeks ago when the automobile he was driving knocked down a man on Washington street and then ran into a couple of other cars near Nonantum Square, following which he attempted to escape and was captured by Officer McDonough, defaulted for a second time by not appearing in the Newton court on Monday. Lyman was supposed to have appeared in the Newton court last week. His attorney appeared, but Lyman was absent. At the request of his lawyer, who promised that Lyman would surely be in court on Monday last, the Newton police did not search for the man. They are on his trail following his second failure to appear.

A number of cars have been stolen from near the Charles River bridge at Auburndale. A coupe owned by A. C. Eldredge of Waltham was taken Saturday night. It was later recovered at Riverside by the Metropolitan police.

Fred Devental of 71 West Pine street, Auburndale, reported to the Newton police at 12:52 a. m. Monday that his car had been stolen. Later the Natick police reported that this car had been in an accident in that town and whoever had been driving it had abandoned it after the accident.

Patrolman John Foley found a bicycle at the rear of the Washington building on Wednesday evening.

An Essex coach owned by Gertrude Stewart of Avon was stolen from opposite Norumbega Park on Wednesday evening. It was later found abandoned in Watertown. Monday night a car owned by Lloyd McCrumb of Framingham was stolen from near Norumbega Park and later was found in Lexington.

New National Bank Receives Its Charter

Prominent Citizens to Enter Banking Business in Newton

The Comptroller of the Currency at Washington has granted a charter for a national bank to be opened in September at Newton Corner and to be known as the Newton National Bank. The bank will have a capital of $200,000 and a paid in surplus of $100,000. The incorporators of the bank are Thomas Weston, attorney of Newton and Boston; George W. Sweet, president of the Studebaker Company of Boston and a resident of Newton; James K. Bancroft of the American Institute of Finance of Boston; George P. Hatch of the B. S. Hatch Coal Co. of Newton and Guy M. Winslow of Lasell Seminary of Newton.

The application for a charter for a bank at Newton Centre to be known as the Central National Bank of Newton was not allowed, the opinion of the Comptroller being that conditions did not warrant additional banking facilities at Newton Centre.

When the above bank becomes operative, Newton will have banking facilities provided by Newton Trust Company with six branches located throughout the Newtons, with capital, surplus and undivided profits of $2,074,827 and deposits of $14,797,011 and the First National Bank at West Newton with capital, surplus and undivided profits of $230,170. Both of these institutions are owned and controlled by interests identified with the Old Colony Trust Company of Boston whose capital, surplus and undivided profits amount to $31,266,110.

ORDERLY "FOURTH" IN NEWTON

Once again the boys and young men of Newton deserve praise for conducting themselves in orderly fashion during the celebration of the "Fourth." But one fire occurred in the city during the 24 hours and the police and firemen had a quite time of it in contrast to other places. The only casualty reported as having been caused by explosives was that of Morris Rainsford of Newton Lower Falls who was treated at Newton Hospital after pieces of a cannon cracker had been blown into his eyes. He was not badly injured.

Government Figures On Municipal Costs

Show Expenses of $58.05 Per Capita And Receipts of $82.80 Per Capita

The Department of Commerce announces a summary of the financial statistics of the city corporation of Newton, Mass., for the fiscal year ending Dec. 31, 1927. The per capita figures for 1927 are based on an estimated population of 56,000.

Expenditures

The payments for operation and maintenance of the general departments of Newton, Mass., amounted to $3,250,845, or $58.05 per capita. In 1926 the comparative per capita for operation and maintenance of general departments was $58.07, and for 1917, $33.21. Payments for the operation and maintenance of public service enterprises in 1927 (waterworks and cemeteries) amounted to $172,518; interest on debt, $306,649; and outlays for permanent improvements, including those for public service enterprises, $1,375,964. The total payments, therefore, for operation and maintenance of general departments and public service enterprises, for interest, and outlays, were $5,099,976. The totals include all payments for the year, whether made from current revenues or from the proceeds of bond issues.

Revenues

The total revenue receipts, were $4,638,636, or $82.80 per capita. This was $12,654 more than the total payments of the year, exclusive of the payments for permanent improvements, but $463,310 less than the total payments including those for permanent improvements. These payments in excess of revenue receipts were met from the proceeds of debt obligations. Property taxes represented 76.5 per cent of the total revenue for 1927, 74.4 per cent for 1926, and 58.5 per cent for 1917. The increase in the amount of property taxes collected was 169.8 per cent from 1917 to 1926, and 6.6 per cent from 1926 to 1927. The per capita property taxes were $63.37 in 1927, $60.89 in 1926, and $27.78 in 1917.

Earnings of public service enterprises operated by the city represented 6.2 per cent of the total revenue for 1927, 5.8 per cent for 1926, and 8.1 per cent for 1917.

Indebtedness

The total funded or fixed debt outstanding Dec. 31, 1927, was $5,575,500. Of this amount $489,000 was for public service enterprises.

The net indebtedness (funded or fixed debt less sinking fund assets) was $4,634,246, or $82.75 per capita. In 1926 the per capita net debt was $75.72, and in 1917, $51.42.

The increased per capita net debt noted for 1927 was principally due to bond issues for schools and waterworks.

Assessed Valuations and Tax Levies
The assessed valuation of property in Newton subject to ad valorem taxes for city corporation was $149,071,690. The levy for all purposes was $3,837,962, of which $3,469,482, or 90.4 per cent, was levied for the city corporation; $186,840, or 4.9 per cent, for the State; and $181,640, or 4.7 per cent, for the county. The per capita tax levy for the city, State, and county was $68.54 in 1927, $67.69 in 1926, and $32.37 in 1917.

CAPSIZE ON RIVER

Patrick Watts and Annie Maloney of Roxbury were thrown into the Charles River near Norumbega Wednesday afternoon when the canoe in which they were paddling collided with a launch. Sargent Watts, 17, of Allston leaped in to the water from his canoe and rescued the woman. Watts reached shore unaided. A police launch took the drenched pair to the Metropolitan Police station where their clothes were dried.

Teachers' Salaries Increased $100 Making Maximum Of $2000

School Committee Takes Action on Primary and Grade Teachers After Long Consideration

At its last meeting the Newton School Committee voted to increase by $100 the salaries of 84 teachers in the primary and grammar grades of the Newton schools. For several years there has been a difference of opinion between the School Committee and Boards of Aldermen of Newton over the matter of increasing the salaries of Newton school teachers so that a maximum salary of $2000 will be given to teachers in those grades below the junior high and high schools. Some years ago the then School Committee of Newton decided that the grade teachers of this city's public schools should receive a maximum salary of $2000 and the teachers were so informed. Two years ago the Board of Aldermen made an appropriation to raise the maximum salaries of grade teachers from $1800 to $1900. Last year when the School Committee asked the Aldermen to make an appropriation to raise the maximum from $1900 to the $2000 limit which it was contended the teachers had been assured they would receive, the Aldermen refused to do so. The refusal was based on the fact that Newton's teachers rank second or third among those of the entire state in the matter of salaries, and on the fact that the necessity for increased school appropriations in this city has made it necessary to cut down appropriations for the other city departments and thus prevent the accomplishments of many needed improvements in streets, drains, playgrounds and other municipal activities.

Again this year the School Committee asked that the appropriation be made so that the teachers would receive the $2000 maximum. Again the Aldermen refused but not until after the City Solicitor, in answer to an inquiry, had ruled that the School Committee was within its rights in insisting on the increase, and that the Board of Aldermen must provide money for such increases as the School Committee sees fit to favor. The refusal of the Aldermen this year was not received with complacency by the School Committee, so the action of this body in overriding the will of the Aldermen came as no surprise.

At the last meeting of the School Committee, Supt. of Schools Wheeler stated that, barring unforeseen expenditures, there will be enough money available in the appropriation made for school purposes to provide for the increases in salaries. School Committee member Tracy told his colleagues that the chairman of the Finance Committee of the Aldermen, Alderman Collins, had informed him that although the Board of Aldermen did not agree with the School Committee in the matter of the further increase in salaries to the grade teachers, the Finance Committee will recommend an appropriation to care for the increases. Mr. Tracy further informed the members of the School Committee that although the Finance Committee of the Aldermen, will, if necessary, recommend the appropriation of $3466.66 required to give the grade teachers the $2000 salaries, the Finance Committee believes the School Committee is using poor judgment in insisting on the advance being granted.

Grosvenor Calkins, member of the School Committee from Ward 7, voted in opposition to the increase being given. He argued that the School Committee should not vote for salaries which may cause the expenditures of the School Department to exceed the amount appropriated by the Board of Aldermen, and he warned the other members of the School Committee that even though the Finance Committee of the Aldermen may recommend an appropriation to care for the increased salaries, the Board of Aldermen may refuse to vote for the appropriation and an embarrassing situation may result.

One argument offered in the Board of Aldermen against granting the $2000 maximum for the teachers in the lower grades was—that proportionate increases will have to be given to teachers in the junior and senior high schools with the result that eventually $40,000 will be added to the cost of running the Newton public schools. It was further argued in the Aldermanic meeting at the time this matter was being debated that many of the teachers who were supposed to have been included in the $2000 maximum class, are already receiving more than this amount because they now are included in those teaching in junior high schools. It was also alleged in the Board of Aldermen that teachers in the Brookline and Newton schools have been bringing pressure to bear on the Selectmen and Aldermen of these two municipalities by contending in each of these two places that the teachers in the other place had been, or would be, granted the increase.

SPECIAL MEETING OF ALDERMEN

It is probable that a special meeting of the Board of Aldermen may be called next Monday night to take action on some school matters. The School Committee proposes to remodel the Oak Hill School so that it will meet modern sanitary requirements. This school has been considered unfit for use and it had been planned to tear it down. It is now thought that by spending about $5000 on the old building it can be made suitable for use. A portable school building now at the Pierce School will be moved to the Horace Mann School at Newtonville, to relieve congestion at this district. Another school matter to be considered is the recommendation from the School Committee that an architect be engaged to draw plans for an addition to the Day junior high school. The Aldermen have spent numerous evenings the past few months attending committee meetings as well as regular meetings and of course they will be quite pleased to come up from their summer homes to attend this extra meeting.

NEWTON DOG RUNS AMUCK

A collie dog owned by Louise Delaney of Jackson road, Newton, was seized with rabies on Tuesday and ran to Waverley Oaks where it bit other dogs. The animal was pursued by Motorcycle Officer Dwyer of the Waltham police and was cornered in the hallway of a building on Main street. Inspector of Animals Sibley was called and stated that the dog was suffering from rabies. The animal was then shot by the policeman. Two other dogs afflicted with rabies were killed in Waltham last month.

DOG BITES MAN

A dog owned by Dr. R. N. Shields of 17 Park street, Newton, bit Peter Russo of 48 Jefferson street, Newton, last Saturday afternoon. The animal was ordered restrained by Patrolman Teegan and Dr. Boutelle was notified to examine it.

STORM DOES DAMAGE IN CITY

The heavy wind and rainstorm of Wednesday caused several washouts along Eliot street, Upper Falls, and on Collins road, Waban. A tree on Institution avenue, Newton Centre, was hit by a lightning bolt and parts of it thrown to the street.

SPAIN MAKING GOOD ON CAPE

Frank Spain, Newton high star shortstop was the fielding luminary in the opening game for Chatham-Harwich in the Cape Cod league on Monday against Wareham. Garrett, the Wareham pitcher allowed but three hits while his mates collected six safeties to shut out the home team, 4 to 0. Spain who batted second in the Chatham-Harwich lineup, failed to hit safely in his two official times at bat but got on once and stole second. In the field the former Newton high athlete accepted six chances without an error and started one double play. Many of the players in the Cape league are college players and the Waban lad is traveling in fast company. He has the ability to stick and his many local friends are watching his game with interest.

Wednesday the Chatham-Harwich team took two games from Orleans, one in the morning and the other in the afternoon. Both contests were one-sided with the Chatham team winning 17 to 9 and 11 to 4. Chatham had a regular field day at bat and Spain chalked up six of the total of 28 runs Chatham scored.

The local youth moved up in the batting order to the position of lead off man, where he batted in the high school line-up for most of his career there. As a lead-off man Spain has no peer among players of his class. In the morning game of the holiday Spain was credited with but one official time at bat and on this occasion hammered out a triple. On two other occasions he was hit by pitched balls. He was credited with two stolen bases and crossed the plate three times. In the field he was about as busy making four putouts and three assists without an error.

In the afternoon affair his batting average suffered a little as he was at bat four times and failed to hit safely. He scored as many runs in the afternoon as he did in the morning however after getting to first on three occasions by fielder's choices. Three assists were the only chances he had in the field.

CRONIN IN FIRST GAME FOR BRAVES

William "Crungy" Cronin, former Newton high star catcher, joined the roster of the Boston National league baseball team, the Braves, on the holiday afternoon. In the sixth inning of the first game of the double-header the local lad relieved the veteran, "Zach" Taylor, who has been in there every day and deserves a rest. Cronin finished the game and on his first time at bat singled. On his next appearance he slammed the ball into the centerfielder's hands. Manager Hornsby had Cronin behind the bat in the second game which was postponed after the Phillies had scored two runs in the first inning by the wind and thunderstorm.

Cronin made an impressive appearance in the catcher's box. When the West Newton lad was behind the bat for Newton High he was noted for his enthusiasm and display of pep. Apparently he has not lost any of these qualities, which went over big with the Boston fans who thus far this season have but occasionally seen pep displayed by the Braves.

Cronin has been the property of the Braves for several years and for the past two seasons has caught for Providence of the Eastern league, the Braves "farm." He was taken South with the Hub squad last spring along with a number of other "Rookies" among whom was a catcher named Williams, obtained in the draft. As the Braves management could keep Williams until the 20th of May under the draft law before putting him permanently on the roster or releasing him under option to a minor aggregation Cronin was sent back to Providence at the start of the season. The local youth now has the best chance he ever had to clinch a place on the Braves team and his many Newton friends are pulling for him to succeed.

VIRGINIA RICE WINS 3 TITLES

Miss Virginia Rice of Newton Centre played a prominent part in the juniors girls' singles and doubles and the mixed junior doubles tennis tournaments at Longwood last week by winning the first and sharing first honors with her partners in the other two tournaments. Arthur Noble of Newton Centre, captain elect of the Newton high tennis team for 1929 was her running mate in the mixed doubles. David Scott, captain of this year's Newton high team, provided an unexpected upset by conquering his teammate Noble in the semi-finals of the junior boys' tourney but was conquered in turn by Barry Wood in the finals.

Miss Rice experienced little difficulty in her march to the junior girls' single title until the semi-final round in which she met Miss Charlotte Miller of New York. In this match the New York girl won the first set 7 to 5. In the second set Miss Rice raced through it to win at 6-1. Miss Miller fought hard the final set but Miss Rice finally broke through to win at 8-6 and gained the right to meet Miss Louise Packer of Winchester in the final. Miss Rice had met Miss Packer thrice previously and been the victor each time. Miss Packer was undaunted by this fact however and she forced the Newton girl to extra games in each set. Miss Rice had to come from behind in each set to win at 7-5, 7-5.

In the junior girls' doubles Miss Rice paired with Miss Miller. They raced right through to the title defeating Miss Packer and Miss Carolyn Mercer, 6-4, 6-3.

Miss Rice's third title was won in the mixed junior doubles in which she played with Arthur Noble. In their second round match with Miss B. Pope and W. Porter, the local pair was forced to 8-6 to win the second set. After that they had little trouble winning from their opponents by a comfortable margin. In the semi-final match they conquered Miss Packer and John Ray, 6-1, 6-3 and met Miss Miller and David Scott in the finals. The first set went to Miss Rice and Noble handily at 6-1. The second set was an entirely different affair. Scott and Miss Miller fought on even terms with their opponents until the set stood at 6 all. At this point Miss Rice and Noble broke through to win the next two games and the match.

W. Barry Wood, Jr., of Milton, was the outstanding player in the junior boys' tourneys. He won the junior boys' singles, and he and his partner won the junior boys' doubles. In the finals of the singles he faced Captain David Scott of the Newton high team. Scott had gained the final round at the expense of his teammate, Noble, in one of the biggest upsets in the tournament. Wood's success against Scott left little doubt as to his superiority over the entire field. He never gave Scott an opening and forced the issue all the way. In the eleven sets he played in the singles tourney he won them all and lost but nine games. His margin of victory over Scott was 6-1, 6-0, 6-0.

In the junior boys' doubles Wood and his partner, Samuel P. Hayes, an Amherst College freshman, romped through to the finals to face Noble and Scott. The Newton pair were soundly trounced Wood and Hayes winning 6-0, 6-2, 6-2.

THE NEWTON ARCHERS

Paul W. Crouch of Newton Centre again won the York and American Rounds, becoming Double Champion, at the Eastern Archery Association Tournament at Deerfield, Mass., June 28, 29 and 30. Due to the rainy spring and consequent limited practice, scores for all averaged lower. Crouch's nearest competitor in the York Round was A. W. Dick of Worcester and in the American Round Donald Mackenzie, a seventeen year old boy of Greenwich, Conn. Crouch also won the men's clout shoot, a distance of 180 yards.

Other Newton Archers winning prizes were Miss Eleanor True of Waban who won third place in the Columbia Round also the first place in the clout shoot, (120 yards) and the prize for the most blues. Mrs. Natalie True Bartholomae won third place in the National Round and also acted as Lady Paramount, taking care of the Ladies' side of the field in a most efficient way. Miss Ruth Brewer of Newton Centre was the only other Newton lady in attendance. She shot only on the first day thus not competing. Due to Miss Brewer's untiring work beforehand, the tournament was a great success. About a hundred registered at the Academy, including Boy Scouts from four places, junior boys and girls, and college delegates from three colleges. Smith college took the college delegate medal, and a Springfield scout won the first prize Scout medal. The Junior girl's medal was won by Miss Clark of Newburyport. Most of the honors thus stayed in Massachusetts, although competitors came from North Carolina, Pennsylvania, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, etc.

F. E. Jordan of Newton Highlands, who competed for only part of the time, rendered valuable assistance to the Association by reporting for a Boston paper. Mr. L. C. Smith also efficiently helped with reporting and records.

SPORT NOTES

Miss Rice Reaches Finals

Miss Virginia Rice, junior girls' singles champion, reached the finals of the women's singles in the Tedesco Club tennis tourney Wednesday by defeating Mrs. J. H. Blodgett, 6-4, 1-6.

Bell Breaks Record

Alfred W. Bell, Jr., of Newton Highlands, won the three-mile walk at the games in Lawrence last Saturday in the record breaking time of 23 minutes 16 4-5 seconds. Ed. G. Wilson, another local athlete finished second. Both wear the B. A. A. colors as does G. C. Clemons, who finished third. Bell broke the former record of 23 minutes 32 seconds which was made in 1926 by Peter Laurino of the Dorchester club.

Scott Advances

David Scott, Newton high tennis star, is playing in the tournaments at the Old Town C. C. in Newburyport. The tourneys began on the holiday but were interrupted by the rain. Scott and Miss F. Pettingill reached the third round in the mixed doubles. Scott and L. Plummer won their first round match in the men's doubles but were eliminated in the second round. In the men's singles the local player reached the fourth round.

Hill and Partner Lose

Malcolm T. Hill and his partner Captain Brainerd H. Whitbeck, the Harvard number one doubles team, were eliminated in a semi-final round match of the national intercollegiate tennis tourney last week Thursday. The Waban youth and his partner were beaten by Mesmer and Pare of Georgetown University, 6-3, 8-6, 6-2.

Noble in Ontario Tourney

Arthur D. Noble, captain-elect of the Newton high 1929 tennis team, is playing in the Ontario Lawn tennis championships this week. Noble is present holder of the Ontario junior title won last year. He disposed of his first and second round opponents on Monday with ease.

Hunnefeld Hitting Well

The past week or ten days Bill Hunnefeld, local product with the Chicago White Sox, has been getting his share of hits and cutting off many opponents' hits. Always a good fielder the former Saxony star has taken part in many double plays and taken care of many hard chances. In Monday's double header with the St. Louis Browns which team was defeated in both games, "Honey" hit safely five times in his ten appearances at the plate. For some time he has been getting his daily blow and if he continues this pace he will keep up in the .300 class. His average as announced Monday is .302.

Noble Wins at Ottawa

Wednesday Arthur D. Noble, Newton high tennis captain-elect, paired with Miss P. S. Rykert of Ottawa to defeat Miss D. T. Lurie and R. Dillon of Ottawa in the mixed doubles of the Ontario lawn tennis championship. The scores were 6-2, 6-0.

THE NEW CHRYSLER "PLYMOUTH"

The new Chrysler "Plymouth," placed on the market yesterday by Chrysler, is the largest, roomiest and most powerful car in the low-priced field of motordom. It is built in six body styles, priced from $279 to $725 at Detroit. Various of these body styles are on display at Fitzgerald & Wing's, 294 Washington street, Newton Corner. Chrysler executives believe the New Plymouth with its entirely new developments both in body and chassis design, will revolutionize the entire field of low price motor cars just as the original Chrysler cars of 1924 have since revolutionized the whole motor car industry.

Finer smoothness of operation at all speeds, 60 miles an hour with a smoothness unlike anything approaching its price; rides the roughest roads at 30 miles an hour without jar; the only car in the low priced field with the safety factor of Internal Expanding hydraulic four wheel brakes—wet weather does not affect their efficiency; dirt is kept out of them; Silver Dome high compression cylinder head, using any grade of gasoline and extracting more from each grade in power, hill climbing ability, speed and acceleration than has hitherto been considered possible. Brand new style and distinction in body lines; large, comfortable bodies affording unusual head and leg room for two to five adult passengers according to body model. The Plymouth has been so named because it typifies the endurance and strength, the rugged honesty, the enterprise, the determination and achievement of that Pilgrim band who were the first American colonists.

EDITORIAL

The Republican party would excel in judgment in refusing to make a recommendation regarding candidates for the United States Senate, at the recent conference. We have no doubt but what that conference would have endorsed the candidacy of former Speaker Loring Young for that nomination, and we have no doubt that Mr. Young will be the winner at the September primary. We do question however, the proposition that there should be any kind of a pre-primary convention. The direct primary is cumbersome enough without creating a pre-primary convention for politicians to manipulate.

Secretary Work may be right in his statement that the presidential campaign this year will be made on the issue of the tariff, but we very much doubt it. In our opinion the chief issue will be the personalities of the two candidates, with prohibition as close second.

Newton had a safe and sane observance of the national holiday and many a parent breathed a sigh of relief when the last firecracker was exploded.

State Senator Edward T. Simoneau has rendered valuable service to this district and certainly deserves the honor of re-nomination and re-election.

Hon. B. Loring Young will make an admirable candidate for United States Senator. We nominated him for that office many months ago.

It may be the moist weather, but the newly laid or recently repaired sidewalks are most unpleasant to walk on.

AUBURDALE BOY SHOT

William Chadwick, 16, son of Buildings Commissioner Chadwick of Oakland avenue, Auburndale, was accidentally shot Monday afternoon at Camp Frank A. Day conducted by the Newton Y. M. C. A. at East Brookfield. Young Chadwick with a couple of companions was at the rifle range of the camp when a 22 calibre Winchester rifle which was lying on the shooting platform was discharged and the bullet plowed into young Chadwick's back. Fortunately it did not strike any vital organ and the boy was not seriously wounded. He was taken to the Worcester Memorial Hospital where the bullet was removed. It is expected that he will be able to return to the camp in a few days.

Box 241 at 1:48 p. m. Monday was for a fire in a shed at the rear of 221 Adams street, Nonantum, owned by Giuseppe DiAngelo. The cause of the fire is unknown.

Box 120 was pulled at 5 p. m. Sunday for a slight blaze in the house at 11 Willard street, Newton, occupied by Charles Barba. The cause given was "children playing with matches."

AUTO ACCIDENTS

An automobile driven by R. W. Gortridge of 56 Boyd street, Newton, hit Anna Flannery, 5, of 93 Pearl street, Newton, near her home last Saturday causing an injury to one of the child's heels. The driver of the car stated that the little girl ran from behind an ice wagon.

Sunday night autos driven by John Fagan of Kimball terrace, Newtonville, and Frank Igo of Murray Hill road, Cambridge, collided at 6:30 near the corner of Washington and Adams streets, Newton. At 2 a. m. Monday Igo came to police headquarters and informed Serg. Moran that after the accident had occurred, Mrs. Igo, who was a passenger in the car, discovered her back had been injured and she had been treated by Dr. J. A. Greene of 2203 Massachusetts avenue, Cambridge.

A car driven by W. Uriah Fogwill of Crescent street, Auburndale, and a truck owned by Bell Brothers of Waltham and driven by Norman Dugan that of city, collided Monday afternoon at the intersection of Centre and Homer streets, Newton Centre. Mr. Fogwill received a severe gash on his forehead and Ernest Delesdernier who was riding with him suffered a broken knee-cap. They were taken to the Newton Hospital for treatment. Fogwill's car was badly damaged.

Royalty Had Eye to Saving the "Bawbees"

The collection of books made by the late King Leopold I of Belgium is extremely valuable. A French writer tells of how Leopold, hearing that a particular book he desired was in the possession of a small dealer in a poor quarter of Paris, set out to obtain it at the lowest price possible, for Leopold counted with care every penny he spent on his hobby and part of the pleasure it afforded him, according to a writer in the New York Herald-Tribune, was the getting of a valuable volume at a low figure. This particular book was a French translation made in the sixteenth century of a Latin work by a writer named Creteneus, written about 200 A. D.

When Leopold arrived in Paris he clad himself in the attire of a man of the working class, called on the dealer and bought the book for a few francs. But coming back to the hotel where he was staying the king was robbed of his purchase. Some years later, when in Vienna, he saw the book on a dealer's shelf. The price asked for it was $150 and after much bargaining Leopold paid the money.

It does not appear clear why he should have been so eager to obtain this particular volume, for from time to time he obtained far more valuable and interesting ones.

More Ways Than One to Take Nourishment

When a person is suffering from a throat or mouth wound, or some trouble that prevents him from eating, it may be possible, in the future, to feed him through the skin.

That adequate nourishment can be obtained in this manner has been proved after a year's experiments by an Austrian doctor. At present artificial feeding is practiced in two ways: injections into the blood and injections into the digestive tract. As food thus given is not completely absorbed, neither method is satisfactory.

This new discovery is, therefore, of great importance. The digestive organs can be rested for long periods while the patient keeps up his strength and body heat by the nourishment absorbed through the skin. A mixture of fat, protein, sugar, and the necessary vitamins in a concentrated form will constitute the element with which the patient will be massaged.

Brain Weight Unimportant

Whether a person's brain becomes larger after intellectual development is still a disputed question. Smith Ely Jelliffe, an authority on the subject, says: "Weight of brain, however, has no direct relationship with intelligence, as idiots' brains are known to have weighed just as much as those of the ablest men. Intellectual capacity consists in the great multiplicity of nerve cell connections. While it is true that a number of celebrated men of recognized brain power have had larger brains, there are many more of equal capacity whose brain weights have not been remarkable."

Use for Spiders' Threads

Miss F. Watts of Tisbury, England, keeps a colony of spiders. As they spin their fine silky threads for her she winds these upon cards for use in the scientific instruments manufactured by her brothers. Although the scratch of a diamond is thick by comparison with the tenuous threads she handles, some of these, such as those intended for fixing the center of range-finders and microscopes, must be split four times. This task is carried out under a high-power microscope and requires rare steadiness of hand.

His Turn Next

A farmer walked into the bank, sought out the credit manager, and proceeded to apply for a $1,000 loan. After the interview had been in progress for some little time, and it appeared that the loan was going through, the farmer said: "Well, Mr. Credit Manager, suppose at the end of six months this note 'perspires' and I am unable to repay you, what then?" "In that event," replied the banker quickly, "we'd make you sweat for it."

The Awful Truth

Two faces were close together, the man's grin, tense; the other face was small and white, with two slender hands pressed tightly against it. It was those trail hands that riveted the man's horrified gaze. "Heavens!" he said, still staring; and in his voice was hopeless, stark tragedy, for that other face was the face of his watch, and those little hands told him that he had missed the last train home.

Faith in Dog's Judgment

A lady in London has two dogs (dearly not thoroughbreds), who have been her constant companions for years. She makes a point of having them in the room with her whenever she engages a new member of her servant staff. She says she is able to judge the character and disposition of the person much more easily by the dogs' attitude, and has never known their sagacity to be at fault.

Essentials for Girls

Girls should be taught, above all, how to dance and to sew. Then they will know what to do with both their hands and their feet.—Woman's Home Companion.

ED HOWE SAYS:

I usually find people admirable in their private lives, but crazy in considering public affairs. I've observed that poor writers also usually write about wrong things. Those of us who are old have one comfort: we knew the fine old-fashioned women. How modest, engaging, lovable, they were!

Better conduct should be the first ideal of every man and woman; it is the most important aid in living.

Chinese Actors Under Ban

Prof. Edward Thomas Williams in his book, "China Yesterday and Today," says: "The actors theoretically form one of the despised classes in China. Under the old regime they and their descendants for three generations were not allowed to enter the examinations for civil service. They were classed with beggars, barbers, butchers and chair-bearers, who, because of the mental services performed or, in the case of butchers, because they were familiar with the sight of blood, were regarded as unfit to hold office. There were always ways of removing the handicap, however, if one were eager to enter the service, for he could be adopted as a son by some one who was free from the disqualification."

Prosperity and Pie

Apple pie is now blamed for American prosperity. "American pie breeds dyspepsia, dyspepsia breeds restlessness and restlessness begets a feverish but none the less formidable material progress," declares the London Evening News in lamenting displacement of the good old English apple tart by foreign substitutes. "The American apple pie is the sadder gastronomic equivalent of an incendiary bomb."

Real Bravery

A man may have sufficient courage to beard the lion in his den yet be shy when it comes to facing the cook in her kitchen.

BOY SCOUTS TO ACT AS TRAFFIC OFFICERS

Ash streets. Stearns School, 1 at Washington and Watertown streets, 1 at Green and Pearl streets. Horace Mann School, 1 at Watertown street and Brookside avenue.

2. It is understood that the Scouts shall not stand in the street in directing traffic, but shall remain on the sidewalk in order to eliminate the possibilities of serious accidents or mishaps.

3. We recommend that the Scouts for duty be selected by the Principals of the schools where the plan is to be tried and that such selection be approved by the council Headquarters.

4. We recommend that a—Such Scouts be trained by the Police Department for traffic duty.

b—That Scouts so appointed shall, after training is completed be "commissioned" at some public or semi-public ceremony and awarded a badge approved by the Chief of Police and the Boy Scout Council Headquarters;

c—That, while on traffic duty, Scouts shall wear the Scout uniform, the approved badge and white, crossed shoulder straps;

d—Duty schedule be worked out by the Principals of the schools concerned, the Council Headquarters and the Police Department co-operating as requested;

e—That Scouts assigned to this work in each School be under a Lieutenant, or Captain, and that a Chief be selected from among the Scouts by them, to head the Division.

5. If the Plan works satisfactorily at these experimental points, we then recommend that it be expanded as approved by the School Committee and the Police Department, with the co-operation of the Boy Scout Council.

As a result of the acceptance of the offer of the Boy Scouts to assist in traffic work at schools Chief Burke may not have to ask for more police officers for such duty in his budget recommendations next year—and a number of policemen who have to do traffic duty daytimes near school buildings after having worked on the night shifts may be relieved from the added burden on their time and energy.

CITY HALL NEWS

Leon Mayer of the Public Buildings Department was operated on for appendicitis last week. He is making rapid progress towards recovery.

Clarence Hosmer, plumber of the Buildings Department, narrowly escaped fatal injuries and received a badly burned right hand yesterday afternoon while soldering a leak in the gasoline tank on the patrol wagon of the Police Department. Precautions were taken to get all the gasoline out of the tank, high air pressure being used to blow the tank clear of the inflammable liquid. Notwithstanding this, some gasoline must have drained back into the tank from the pipe lines, because when Hosmer applied a torch to the tank flames burst forth burning his hand. As he was lying under the automobile when the flames issued forth, he was fortunate to escape more serious injuries.

Miss Katherine Kimball of the City Clerk's office has returned from a vacation spent at Newagen, Maine. Miss Margaret McMullen of the City Clerk's office is enjoying her vacation.

The Louis J. Maney Co. has been awarded the contract to paint the Contagious ward at the Newton Hospital for $1645.

MISS DWINNELL DEAD

Miss Mary J. Dwinnell, who resided at 206 Summer street, Newton Center, and her niece, Mrs. Ethel Svenson, and her sister, Miss Nellie Dwinnell, died last Sunday after an illness of five weeks.

Born in Tolland, Conn., eighty-five years ago, Miss Dwinnell was the daughter of the late Lucius Dwinnell and Maria (Westcott) Dwinnell. Most of her life was spent in Springfield, but since 1913 she had resided in Newton, first with her brother, the late George S. Dwinnell, and later with her niece, Miss Dwinnell, who was a member of the First Church of Newton. Her niece and sister are her only survivors.

MICHAEL A. WELCH

Michael A. Welch of 14 Emerald street, Newton, died on July 4th in his 80th year. He was a retired employee of the Newton Water Department and had resided in this city for about 60 years. His funeral service will be held tomorrow morning at the Church of Our Lady. Burial will be in Calvary Cemetery.

—A difference of opinion as to the pleasantest way to get across the continent has occasioned an interesting race to California between a Newton High Junior and his mother, Mrs. Frank Meserve, for some years a resident of Brooks avenue, Newtonville, chose to go by steamer through the Panama Canal to reach Los Angeles where she will make her home with her eldest son, who is in business there. Her son Nat, 17 years old, preferred to "hitch hike" the entire distance accompanied by his shepherd dog, Jack. A start of two weeks was allowed Nat and on July 2nd he had reached Chicago, mailing back a report that he and Jack have had to do very little walking and that their original capital was practically intact. Were not the Rocky Mountains in their path it would seem that Nat and Jack should be at the landing when Mrs. Meserve's steamer docks.

Miss Helen E. Barry, daughter of Mrs. Nora Fitzgibbons of 245 Webster street, West Newton, became the bride of Mr. Francis J. Coughlan, son of Lieut. and Mrs. John J. Coughlan of 14 Greenwood avenue, Hyde Park, Mass., on Saturday morning at ten o'clock in St. Bernard's Church. A nuptial mass was celebrated by Father Dwyer, the pastor.

The bride's gown was of ivory satin trimmed with Duchess lace, over which fell her tulle veil trimmed with old family lace, and caught with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and orchids.

The maid of honor was Miss Mollie Barry, a twin sister of the bride, who wore a flowered chiffon dress, with milan hat trimmed with velvet and carried a bouquet of tulleman roses and larkspur.

The two bridesmaids were Miss Nona Barry, a sister of the bride, and Miss Mary Coughlan, a sister of the groom. The bridesmaids wore yellow and orchid gowns with hats to match. The two little flower girls were Betty and Margaret Barry, nieces of the bride.

The best man was Mr. Leo Coughlan, a brother of the groom. The ushers were Mr. William Coughlan, a brother of the groom, and Mr. Frank Barry, a brother of the bride.

The services were rendered by Mr. Paul Ryan of West Newton.

The only guests were members of the two families and close friends. Rev. William E. Austill performed the ceremony and Miss Ruth Balfour played the wedding music. The house was attractively decorated with the season's flowers, which came from the estate of Palmer York in West Newton. GIRL SCOUTS Camp Mary Day, the Newton Girl Scout camp, opened on Monday for the summer season with a full enrollment of 25 Girl Scouts from all parts of the city, eight counselors, four staff members, and two cooks. Three of the staff members have been in charge of the activities of the camp in previous years. They are Miss Caroline Freeman of West Newton, camp director, Miss Mildred Lovejoy of West Newton, assistant director, and Miss Dorothy Colby of Newton Upper Falls in charge of nature work and Red Cross life saving.

Improvements at the camp this year include a new road from South avenue to the Camp House, screening of all tents with mosquito netting, and alterations to the infirmary which will make it more comfortable in case of sickness.

Mrs. Warren, the field captain of the Newton Girl Scouts, has returned from two weeks at Camp Edith Macy, the great National Training School in Westchester County, New York, where she took the field captain's training course under the direction of Mrs. Sybil Gordon Newell, National Field Secretary for the Girl Scouts. This camp was given in memory of Mrs. Everett Macy, former member of the National Board, and serves as an instruction center for leaders from all parts of the country and even from as far as Porto Rico and the Philippines. The camp is a large one and is divided into four separate units where instruction is given in many different phases of Girl Scout technique. These courses include elementary and advanced troop management, camp craft, dramatics, handicraft, and other allied activities, and help to unify the standards of Girl Scouting throughout the country.

ROTARY CLUB

There was a notably smaller meeting of the Newton Rotary Club at the Woodland Golf Club on Monday noon, due undoubtedly to the advent of the summer vacation season.

Vice President Ansley was in the chair and the only business was an interesting descriptive report from Frank J. Perry who was the club delegate to the recent Rotary International convention at Minneapolis.

Andrew J. Ford was greeted as the club champion at golf, after winning a 21 hole match from Archie W. Osgood.

EMBASSY THEATRE

Two feature photoplays and some surprises in the all-star vaudeville program are highlights in the coming week's attractions at the Embassy, Waltham's Wonder theatre. Still another big feature has been added to the variety of features which mark this theatre's program. This is the Chews, that Charles Hatch has been selected as the leader of the new Embassy orchestra. He has been connected with Public theatres for 16 years and many of his original ideas have been widely copied. He will assume his new duties Monday.

For the first three days the photoplay will be "The Brandeis Man," featuring Jane Marlowe and Charles Farley. For the last three days "Good Morning Judge," Reginald Denny's new comedy will be presented.

The special Sunday night concert will have for the feature picture "When Seconds Count," and is full of pep. The vaudeville will be loaded with surprises.

The moonlight promenade by the waterfalls with the free cigarettes and refreshments for all is making a decided hit among the patrons of the Wonder theatre.

BARN BURNED AT NONANTUM

An old vacant barn at 47 Bridge street, Nonantum was burned about 2:30 on the morning of July 4, the blaze being apparently set. The building was the property of Theophilus Frye and the blaze was apparently set by youths whose idea of patriotism is confused with arson. The old barn burned rapidly and the structure, valued at about $300, was completely destroyed in a few minutes.

DEATH OF MRS. ALLEN

Mrs. Emily J. Allen, who on Sunday died at Chestnut Hill, was born in Boston and was the daughter of the late Major Edward J. Jones and Emily Durant (Campbell) Jones. She had been in failing health for the past few years, but her final illness, to which she succumbed, began about a fortnight ago. Before her health failed Mrs. Allen attended the First Baptist Church in Boston, of which she was a member. Her daughter, Blanche G. Allen, was married about four years ago to William H. Godfrey and since then Mrs. Allen had made her home with them at 191 Commonwealth avenue, Chestnut Hill, where she passed away.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

Fireworks in the Newtons are sold almost entirely by persons who hire vacant stores for a couple of weeks or who build small shacks for this purpose. Permits for the sale of fireworks are issued by the Chief of the Fire Department. In the opinion of many—the sale of fireworks should be limited to not more than three days preceding the 4th of July. There is no good reason why invalids—or persons not invalids, should have to endure the noise of cannon crackers, torpedoes and other racket making contraptions for 10 days (and nights) preceding July 4. Chief Randlett will earn the approval of many if he places further restrictions on the sale of fireworks—and noise-makers.

Newton Corner's nighthawk is again very much on his job this summer. This is the second season this bird has been performing the very commendable task of assisting in ridding Newton Corner of insect pests. Every night his raucous call may be heard above Nonantum Square and from the number of persons who look upwards with a puzzled expression, Mr. Gale can tell many who have not heard or seen night hawks. The other day, on our surprise, this bird was flying over Centre street at noon, under a blazing sun. We remarked to Attorney "Jim" Gallagher, with whom we were talking, "It is strange to see the night hawk flying around at midday." Mr. Gale replied, "Perhaps he has become confused because of day-light savings time."

We hope that ex-Mayor Henry E. Bothfeld enjoyed a reasonably quiet "Fourth" at his farm in Sherborn, or wherever he spent the holiday. Years ago a mob of indignant youths, some of whom are now discredited middle-aged residents of Newton, marched upon Newton Corner to Mr. Bothfeld's home on Hunnewell Hill to vent their indignation against him because of his activity in stopping lawless acts in this city on the night before the Fourth of July. Misdirected energy on the part of some youths in Newton caused them to confuse hoodlumism with patriotism with the result that many overt acts were committed against private property and public safety. Hen-coops, sheds and haystacks were burned, street signs, fence gates and outhouses were stolen and removed to other locations, false alarms of fire were pulled by the wholesale, dynamite was stolen and exploded. To curb the growing tendency towards lawlessness on the "night before the 4th," Mayor Bothfeld issued an order forbidding the discharging of firearms, firecrackers and other noise making devices until 4 a. m. on the morning of July 4. This order, he believed, would keep young men and boys off the streets and out of mischief during the hours when darkness covered up acts of dangerous rowdiness. Results proved that Mr. Bothfeld was correct, but, for a year or two after he issued the restraining order, he was a very unpopular man among the Newton boys of that time.

One of the regular events of the "4th" in the days of yore was the "parade of the horrors" early on the morning of that holiday. Young men, and older men, who thought they had become young again, under the influence of a liquid now supposed to be obtained only with a physician's prescription for medicinal purposes, would array themselves in outlandish costumes, many of which were purloined from the wardrobes of their mothers, sisters and other female relatives. Those of the paraders who did not march afoot, would ride the most ancient and decrepit nags obtainable, or clatter behind sorry looking steeds in buggies, carryalls or coaches that were quite dilapidated.

The members of fire departments in those gay old days, entertained their friends and acquaintances on the "night before," and also on the 4th itself, provided that the refreshments lasted until the holiday. The fire departments in those days were for the most part, composed of call members who served at small salaries. Partly from contributions from the call firemen, and partly from donations, an enjoyable time would be had by all, and sufficient inspiration would be provided to cause the firemen to respond zealously to the many alarms, mostly false, which would come in during the early hours of the holiday. The horses pulling the fire apparatus were the martyrs of the hectic activity of the "4th." They were run to a state of complete exhaustion.

Many communities around Greater Boston open the celebration of Independence Day by lighting huge bonfires. Newton was one of the first places hereabouts to start this custom. For some years residents of Nonantum would gather huge quantities of railroad ties, barrels and other fuel at Allison's pit off California street, and at 12 a. m. on July 4th the big bonfire would be lighted. We recall attending one of these bonfires. As we were returning to Newton Corner, after the bonfire, one of the members of the party, now a member of the City Government, threw a well lighted cigar across the street in the direction of a well-known resident of Nonantum. The cigar landed in the midst of that gentleman's bushy crop of whiskers and stuck there, causing the hirsute adornment of the surprised victim to commence to singe. As soon as he had brushed the cigar from his facial foliage, he started to relieve his indignation by a flow of language that was forceful, if not polite, and by hot-footing after his assailant with the unmistakable intention to commit assault and battery. After one of the fastest pursuit races ever witnessed on Los Angeles street, (or any other street in Newton) the perpetrator of the insult and assault on the gentleman with the whiskers, because of the advantage of youth, managed to escape from the wrathful chase of the offended person.

Do you patronize "chirotonsors?" Almost all males and many females do. If you don't know what a chirotonsor is, walk down Centre avenue. If you don't know where Centre avenue is, perhaps you know where Centre place was. It ran from Centre street opposite Vernon court to Washington street nearly opposite Channing street. Recently business men on Centre place concluded that this increasingly busy little street should have a more dignified name. Accordingly it was re-named Centre avenue. Inspired, perhaps, by the new name given to the street, Harry Tompkins, who formerly conducted a barber shop in the Eliot Block at 390 Centre street, but who moved to Centre avenue when the Eliot Block was about to be torn down, has applied to his shop the title now commonly in use in the western States by tonsorial establishments. Mr. Tompkins has had a sign painted on the window of his shop which reads "Chirotonsors." It is the trend of the day to dignify occupations and professions. Old trades and callings using improved, modern methods, have been given new labels. Real estate men have become "realtors," undertakers have become "morticians," gardeners have evolved into "landscape artists," plumbers have become "sanitary engineers," and the Master Barber Association of America has decided that henceforth the old medieval name "barber" will be replaced by the title "Chirotonsor."

NEWTON HOSPITAL

In June the hospital admitted 332 patients and discharged 332, a larger number admitted than in any month since June, 1927. Because the number discharged equals the number admitted, the daily average of 122.77 does not give a true picture of the busy life at the hospital during the last thirty days.

The largest number remaining for any twenty-four hours was 134 and the smallest 107. The out-patient department treated 478. There were 280 patients admitted to the operating room of which 46 were accidents, 46 babies were born, 26 girls and 20 boys. Miss Elizabeth Wheeler of the Social Service department made 95 calls.

Miss Nell A. Hostetler, Supt. of Nurses and several other members of the staff are on vacation. On June 30, Dr. Herman Norton completed his internship at the Newton Hospital. The two internes for the year 1928-29 are Dr. Virgil J. Casten and Dr. Harold F. Brown, both 1928 graduates of the Harvard Medical School.

July first Dr. Henry F. Keever of Auburndale with Dr. G. F. Bowers of Newton Highlands as associate physician took charge of the medical service. Dr. Eastman of Auburndale also has a service. The surgical service is in charge of Dr. Edward Leonard of Newton Centre with Dr. Natham Brackett as assistant.

Several accidents were admitted to the hospital on the fourth of July as the result of fire cracker explosions and one a "friendly" contact with a big milk can.

SCHOOL AFFAIRS

The School Committee at its last meeting voted to request the Mayor to ask for an appropriation for architect's plans for an addition to the Frank A. Day junior high school at Newtonville.

The School Committee voted to re-appoint Janitor Frank Sampson at a pension of $500 yearly. Sampson, who is 70 years of age, has served as janitor for 35 years. Committeeman Calkins, while sympathizing with Mr. Sampson, did not vote on the matter. Mr. Calkins contended that inasmuch as this was the first case of the kind to come before the committee, the matter should be investigated to determine whether or not the new contributory pension act recently accepted by the city should govern such a case.

As a sequence to the recommendation made by Mayor Childs in his inaugural address last January that the Buildings Commissioner have charge of engineers and janitors of school buildings, the School Committee at its last meeting voted to create the position of Supervising Engineer of School Buildings. This official will supervise the employees who care for the heating and ventilating systems in Newton's schools. After the Mayor made his recommendation, protests arose from the school janitors and citizens as to its feasibility or practicability. The action of the School Committee is a compromise. The report of the sub-committee of the School Committee which investigated this matter is:

"The Sub-Committee on School Buildings and Playgrounds has investigated the desirability of employing a properly qualified engineer to assume direct responsibility for the maintenance and operation of the heating and ventilating systems in all buildings under the jurisdiction of the School Committee. It has conferred with the Public Buildings Commissioner, the Secretary to the School Committee and others, and recommends as follows:

1. The appointment of a qualified engineer to direct and supervise the maintenance and operation of the heating and ventilating apparatus in all school buildings. The engineers, firemen and janitors operating the heating and ventilating systems of all school buildings shall be under the immediate direction and supervision of this official. He shall be subject to the direction of the Superintendent of Schools and of the Secretary to the School Department. Requests and recommendations for repairs or the alteration or replacement of heating and ventilating plants in any school buildings should be presented by the engineer to the School Department and, subject to the approval of the School Department, transmitted to the Public Buildings Commissioner. The School Department may appoint and designate the duties of an assistant to the engineer. The salary of the engineer shall be determined by the School Committee.

2. If the foregoing recommendation of your Sub-Committee is approved by the School Committee, your Sub-Committee recommends that further action be deferred until the next meeting of the School Committee in order to give the department time to recommend a candidate for appointment to this office and determine the amount of the additional appropriation which may be required to meet his salary."

The School Committee at its meeting last week voted to accept the report of the sub-committee on School Buildings and Playgrounds relative to the acquiring of additional land adjacent to the Emerson School at Newton Upper Falls. A petition had been received from residents of Upper Falls asking that the Keyes estate adjoining the yard of the Emerson street be taken for playground purposes. The school children have had to play on Pettie street because of lack of better facilities. The report of the sub-committee was:

"Your committee appointed to consider the above petition has held two public hearings and has carefully viewed the premises preliminary to making this report.

Your committee believes that additional land adjacent to the Emerson School at Newton Upper Falls is desirable for use as a school playground.

2. There are two parcels of land adjacent to the School suitable for this purpose.

A. The land now owned by the City of Newton on Pettie street between Emerson School and the Fire Station, provided the old Wade School building now located on this site is removed.

B. Part of the land referred to in the petition. If this land is taken the committee recommends that the rear half of the lot extending approximately 150 feet from the boundary line between the land in question and the City property will be sufficient for this purpose. This land has an estimated area of approximately 30,000 feet.

3. While disclaiming on behalf of the School Committee any responsibility in the premises your sub-committee desires to report that the old Wade School building is now used exclusively as an auditorium for moving picture performances presented several afternoons and evenings each week, as the committee is informed, attended by many pupils of the Emerson School. It is the unanimous opinion of your sub-committee that the attendance of children of school age at this place of amusement is not in the best interests of the health and safety of said children inasmuch as there seems to be no adequate sanitary arrangements, the ventilation appears to be wholly insufficient and that the building would seem to constitute a fire hazard."

Residents of the Upper Falls are anxious to retain the old Wade School, abandoned years ago

LIGHT HUMOR

Douglas Jerrold, the famous wit, once said to a dealer in candles: "The candles you sold me last week were very bad."

"Indeed, sir, I am sorry for that," replied the dealer.

"Yes, sir; they were very bad. Do you know they burnt to the middle, and then would burn no longer?"

"You surprise me! What, sir—did they go out?"

"No, sir, no; they burnt shorter!"

No Chance

"This night club game is all shot," said one waiter to another. "I've tried half a dozen times to grab off a little extra money by raising the checks, but I've been caught up at it every time."

"Serve you right," the other waiter replied. "You oughta know better. These men here tonight are in town attending a convention of auditors."

Efficiency Expert

"I am an efficiency expert."

"What are your duties?"

"To report that everything is going on o. k. in the shop."

"But is that the case?"

"You are behind the times. Modern business requires imagination."

MUST BE GOING NOW—

She—The man I marry must not smoke, drink, gamble, or stay out nights. He must be quiet and not easily led off.

He (departing)—Yes! Well, you'll find plenty of that kind at the morgue.

Running and Walking

A candidate remarked, "It's fun in a campaign so swift to run, but true success disdains the talk, and is a winner in a walk."

A Winter Thaw

Motorist—I say, my car's stuck in the mud; can you tell me where I can get help before it sinks further in?

Native—Oh, that's all right for the time being—there's another car underneath it.

Roses Too Expensive

"What is your act?"

"I dance, I sing, I throw roses to the audience."

"I'll sign you up at thirty a week."

"Then I'll have to throw kisses in stead of roses."

Nice View!

Doty—Phyllis is rather vain, isn't she?

Mertrand—Vain? Why, she's so stuck on her good looks that she wears mirrors in her spectacles!

GOOD AND BAD

He—He's a pretty bad liar.

She—He's a pretty good one, I think.

Her Only One

Mary had a little joke.

She read it in the paper.

He gave his name as Harry Jackson, 16, of Spokane, Washington, and claimed to have run away from that remote city. In the Newton court on Tuesday he was held in $500 bail for the Grand Jury.

Antonio Massimo of Nonantum was given a suspended sentence of two months in the House of Correction and ordered to pay his wife $5 a week by Judge Bacon on Tuesday. Massimo and his wife have separated and Judge Bacon ordered temporary Probation Officer Melea, who is substituting for Officer Enegess, to accompany Massimo to his erstwhile domicile so that he could obtain his personal effects.

He was in the Waltham court on Tuesday and held in $200 bail for a hearing on July 10. According to the Watertown police, Lenturi was shooting a 22 calibre rifle on Monday at a target in a yard on Pond street near the Newton line. New Pension System Now In Operation

A. Stuart Pratt and Charles A. Mahoney on Retirement Board

At the special meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night the names of A. Stuart Pratt and Charles A. Mahoney were submitted by Mayor Childs as members of the retirement board which will have charge of the new retirement system recently adopted by the city for its employees. These two members, together with the City Comptroller, will compose the Retirement Board and will direct the operation of the contributory pension system for city employees. A. Stuart Pratt resides at 73 Highland street, West Newton.

Charles A. Mahoney, appointed for the one-year term on the Retirement Board, is district foreman of the Street Department for the South Side of the city. He will represent the city employees on the Board. According to the provisions of the pension act, one of the three members of the Board must be an employee of the city. It was originally intended that this member would be elected by the employees participating in the pension system, but the Board of Aldermen voted that the employees representative on the Retirement Board should be appointed by the Mayor rather than elected by the employees.

It was voted by the Aldermen that City Treasurer Newhall, who will have custody of the funds for the retirement pension system, shall be bonded for $15,000. The three members of the Retirement Board will each be bonded for $500.

ARCHITECTS NAMED FOR NEW SCHOOL

The Mayor has named as architects for the proposed new school near Cabot street and Parkview avenue, Newtonville, William Hollings and Charles Greco. Mr. Hollings is a resident of Newton. Mr. Greco lives in Winchester. Buildings Commissioner Chadwick is to call for bids as soon as plans are received. It is expected that the building will be ready for occupancy in September, 1929.

contact with the country's development.

The policy of the Old Colony Corporation is to recommend securities only after they are passed upon by its statistical, legal, engineering, financial and other experts. Its many clients, situated in various parts of the country, are served either in person or through correspondence by an extensive force of representatives.

Either as individual underwriter or as a member of syndicates, Old Colony Corporation has originated and distributed many millions of dollars par value of bonds and preferred stocks of sound investment types. Its first-hand contact is of great assistance in determining the value of the security behind a purchase. The close association between its main office and all of its branch offices and correspondents in other cities permits of the broadest scope in attending to its client's varied investment needs.

Hopes For Stadium Are Much Brighter

City Appropriates $32,000 For Grading Clafin Field

As a result of a recent appropriation of $32,000 by the board of aldermen followers of Newton high school sports are again hopeful that athletic facilities in the shape of a new stadium, and new football and baseball fields will be on a par with the excellent educational equipment before many years. The appropriation will extend the grading of Clafin field on which about $25,000 was spent last year. The contract for the work was awarded to the John MacDonald Construction Company which is now going ahead with the work.

Under the present contract it is first planned to finish the grading of the section started last year. It will be seeded over as soon as possible so that by next Spring it should be in shape for use by the baseball squad. The portable steel stands purchased last year for use inside the gymnasium will be used at the baseball games. The appropriation will also cover the cost of removing the hill south of the Technical School building, grading and seeding this entire section. In short when the work under the present contract is completed only undeveloped section will be that where it is proposed to locate the stadium.

Nothing will probably be done in regard to the erection of a new stadium until next year. The past winter a bill was introduced before the State Legislature to permit cities and towns to charge admission to athletic contests on public fields. The committee which had it under consideration recommended that it be referred to next year's General Court. Thus the plans for the erection of a stadium had to be postponed as this question was closely connected with them. But a big step towards its final erection has been taken through the continuance of the grading works and it seems more than likely that before many years have passed it will be a reality.

At the special meeting of the aldermen on Monday night an appropriation of $600 was made to provide for the replacement of the portable stands to accommodate spectators at the football stands. These stands encroach upon the present baseball field and had to be taken down last spring but with the expectation that the new baseball field will be ready for use in 1929 it is hoped that the stands will not be removed again until the stadium is completed. Work on the reconstruction of these stands is now going on so that in September there will be sufficient seats for spectators at the opening game on September 29th at Belmont High. This past spring there was some misunderstanding regarding the removal of the stands and the first baseball game had to be transferred to the opponents' field. This fall there will be no repetition of the instance with the erection of the stands now going on.

Newtonville Schools Are Much Congested

Portable Building to be Located Near the Horace Mann Building

In compliance with requests made by the School Committee, the Aldermen on Monday night voted to appropriate $2500 for repairs and alterations on the old Clafin School at Newtonville, and $1800 for the removal of a portable school building at the Peirce School, West Newton, to the Horace Mann School at Newtonville. So crowded has the latter school become with pupils because of the large number of new dwellings in the district it serves, that unless immediate relief is afforded, a number of pupils could not be given accommodations next September. Recently the aldermen voted to take land on Nevada street, Newtonville, for a new school site and the school which will be erected on this site within a few years will afford relief to the congestion in the Horace Mann School and will also take some of the territory now cared for by the Stearns School. Inasmuch as the reports of the Buildings Department show that more new buildings have been erected in other parts of Newton than in Ward 2 during the past several years, the fact that the greatest congestion in schools exists in Newtonville would seem to indicate that there has been no race suicide in that section of the city.

School At Oak Hill To Be Continued

Aldermen Authorize $4000 For Much Needed Improvements

At a special meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night, called for the purpose of making appropriations to provide for work on school buildings, it was voted to appropriate $4000 to make repairs and improvements on the school at Oak Hill. This school is a wooden structure, erected in 1864, and for a number of years it has been used for only the lower primary grades and attended by but a small number of pupils. Most of the children from the Oak Hill district have gone to the schools at Newton Centre, having been carried by barge in former years and by bus in recent years. There has been constant agitation for better school accommodations at Oak Hill and the School Committee have had a number of delegations of Oak Hill residents coming to the meetings demanding action on this matter.

Various solutions of the Oak Hill school problem have been considered. It has been agitated that a new school be built in that district but because Oak Hill is sparsely settled it is rather difficult at the present time to determine just where a new school can be placed to best advantage in that part of the city. The question of placing a portable school building at Oak Hill is being considered.

Business Men Hold Successful Outing

Newton Business Associates Enjoy Day at Shore Gardens

The annual outing of the Newton Business Associates was held Wednesday at the Shore Gardens, Nantasket. Headed by President Harold Moore, about 85 members and friends departed from Newton Corner about 1 p. m. in a fleet of automobiles and made a quick trip via Chestnut Hill, Forest Hills and the Southern Artery to Nantasket. There, a dinner was enjoyed, in which clams and lobsters were the principal vands. Larry Frederick's orchestra furnished the instrumental music, and the vocal selections were contributed by Joe Antonelli. Mr. Antonelli also officiated as leader of the competitive choral singing between the different groups in the party.

Vice President John T. Burns of the organization spoke briefly on the advantages of good-fellowship produced by such affairs and urged more cooperation among Newton's business men. At the request of President Harold Moore, the gathering stood in silence for a minute as a tribute to the memory of "Eddie" King who died recently. "Eddie" had been a member of the associates and had given freely of his musical talent at the organization's meetings.

Following the dinner, the party assembled on the lawn to have the

Edited by WARREN K. BRIMBLECOM

TWI-LEAGUE RACE STARTS NEW MONDAY

The City of Newton Amateur Twi-light league has reorganized its teams and schedule and will begin play again next Monday night. The rainy weather during the first part of the season caused many postponements until it was finally deemed necessary to call off all plans. With the present reorganization five teams will make up the circuit with the members of the team confined to certain districts of the city so that no team will have a single outside player. This restriction should create more local enthusiasm and prevent one or more of the teams from corraling all of the best players which in turn will make for closer competition between the league members.

As stated the race gets under way Monday night and will continue through the 31st of August. Early in September the leading teams in the league will play a series for the city championship and for the third leg on the Graphic Cup. The teams that are members of the league are Newton Upper Falls which will draw its members from Upper Falls and part of Waban, Lower Falls which draws from Lower Falls and the north of Waban, West Newton which draws from that village and Auburndale, Newtonville which draws from there, Newton and Nonantum, and Newton Highlands which will get its players from the Highlands and Newton Centre.

John Simpson retains the management of the Upper Falls nine, 1927 city champions; Carol Leary is managing the West Newton team; Larry Concannon, the Newton Highlands outfit, Matt Pendergast, the Lower Falls club and Tommy Gilligan, former Newton high and Exeter athlete, now of Harvard, holds the reins on the Newtonville aggregation which will use Victory field, Nonantum, as its home diamond.

Next week's schedule of games follows:

Monday, July 16th—Lower Falls vs Highlands at Highlands.
West Newton at West Newton.
Tuesday, July 17th—Newtonville vs Wednesday, July 18th—Upper Falls vs Newtonville at Victory.
Friday, July 20th—Highlands vs Upper Falls at Upper Falls.

SPORT NOTES

Miss Rice Defeated

Miss Virginia Rice of Newton was defeated by Miss Eleanor Holton in the finals of the women's singles tennis tournament at Tedesco C. C. last week. The match was a grueling three-set affair in which the local girl won the first set at 6-4 but Miss Holton wore down her more youthful opponent to take the next two sets, 8-6, 6-4.

Noble Put Out By Doeg

Arthur D. Noble of Newton Centre was eliminated from the men's singles tourney in the Ottawa championships last week in a quarter-final match by John Doeg, young California star. The Newton High school boy forced his Western opponent to the limit before the latter won the match at 7-5, 6-1, 14-12.

Bell Second, Wilson Third

Two local athletes were entered in the three mile walk at the Olympic tryouts last Friday. Although the event was held in connection with the Olympic trials none of the walkers were competing for a chance to make the trip across with the remainder of the Olympic team as the U. S. will not be represented in the walk. However the national A. A. U. championship went to the winner, Harry Hinkel of the New York A. C., as was expected. Alfred W. Bell, Jr., of Newton Highlands, was second and his B. A. A. teammate Edgar G. Wilson, another local athlete, was third.

Bell was clocked in 22 min. 48 sec. by Jack Ryder, B. A. A. coach. This is 28 seconds faster than the time the Newton Highlands athlete did in winning the New England championship title the previous Saturday at Lawrence when he made a new New England record of 23 minutes 16 4/5 seconds. In telling of the walk on Friday one of the metropolitan reporters wrote that Wilson had the best form of any walker in the race and that some day he may finish ahead of Bell. With Bell walking in the time he has recently made up Wilson may find this a difficult thing to accomplish.

Cronin Gets In For Braves

Bill Cronin got his first chance to play against St. Louis, National league leaders, Sunday in the double header which the Cardinals won at the Braves expense. He relieved Taylor behind the bat midway of the first game. Although he was credited with two trips to the plate the West Newton boy went hitless. When he came up again in the seventh he drew a pass and eventually crossed the plate for one of the Braves four tallies.

Hunnelfield Gets Double and Triple

In Sunday's game between the Chicago White Sox and the Washington Senators which the former won 13 to 7 Bill Hunnelfield, local product and Chicago Sox second baseman collected four hits in six times at bat. Two of his bingles were for extra bases, one a triple and the other a double. He crossed the plate three times. In the field he was just as busy accepting eight chances without an error and starting one double play.

In Monday's game with the Senators Hunnelfield's single, in the first inning, followed by a triple and a double, gave the Chisox a lead that was never relinquished. The final score was 3 to 1. The win moved the Chicago team up a notch in the league standing and tumbled the Senators into sixth place, below the White Sox.

Peppard Playing for Roslindale

Another local youth is making good in Greater Boston twilight league circles. Matt Peppard, former Newton high star first baseman, is holding down the initial sack for the Roslindale team in the Hub league. He is batting third in the lineup and is getting in many timely blows as well as his share of extra base hits.

Hill and Johnson Lose in Singles

Both Malcolm Hill and Henry Johnson, Jr., local players participating this week in the Rhode Island State singles tennis championships at the Agawam Hunt Club courts were eliminated in the fourth round on Wednesday. Johnson gave George Abbot a stiff battle before the latter was victorious by scores of 2-6, 7-5, 7-5, while Hill was easily conquered by Arnold Jones, of Providence and one of the three seeded players, 6-3, 6-0.

Waban Pair in Doubles

In the New England sectional doubles tourney for men at the Agawam Hunt Club courts Malcolm T. Hill and Henry L. Johnson, Jr., Waban youths who have teamed in doubles for several years, advanced to the quarter-finals on Wednesday. The local youths, who are cousins, renewed their doubles partnership for the first time since last summer. Hill is attending Harvard where he is ranked second on the Crimson team while Johnson is a student at Dartmouth where he won his numerals as a freshman this past year in football, hockey and tennis. They defeated Wood and Tower in the second round, 6-1, 6-2, 6-1 and then conquered Shaw and Shaw in a third round match, 6-2, 6-1, 6-3.

POLICE NEWS

A few of the many "speeders" who drive at a reckless rate along Newton's streets were in the Newton court Friday morning and paid fines. Included in the number were—Albert Stevens, Arlington, who was fined $10; Steve Mikevich, Barnstable, $10; Edward Mead, 28 Lincoln road, Newton, $10; Angelo Abadasso, 347 Elliot street, Upper Falls, $10; Charles D. O'Malley of also charged with speeding, had his case placed on file. George Kirkleski of Centre street, Dover, was fined $10 for driving without proper lights.

city. In addition to appropriating money to relieve the congestion at the Horace Mann School, the aldermen on Monday night also made an appropriation to provide much needed additional accommodations in the Claffin school district, and discussed the enlargement of the Frank A. Day

Junior High School at Newtonville. Two rooms in the old Claffin School have been used for school purposes and by making additional egress facilities there to conform with State building requirements, three rooms in the old school can be used.

The Frank A. Day junior high school has been crowded the past couple of years and it has become imperative to provide additional room there. This school was so designed that wings may be added to it. It is proposed to add a wing which will have eight class rooms and additional room for the cafeteria. Work on this addition will be started early next year and it is hoped to have the building completed before the end of the year.

NOW OPEN

At Cambridge A Complete Retail Department Store

Thanks to the friendly and co-operative spirit of the residents of metropolitan Boston, we are ready to open our retail department store in Cambridge. Everybody has been so good to us that it is impossible for us to know whom to thank. We feel that we have been here a long time and have formed friendships we hope will never end. We want the folks of Greater Boston to think of us, not so much as the World's Largest Store, but as Sears, Roebuck and Co., Cambridge.

At 9 o'clock Thursday morning our new retail department store was opened. Thursday was the first day of a Three-Day opening. From past experience we know that it will take three days to take care of the many thousands who will want to see and buy in our new store. To this enterprising city we are bringing the resources of our entire organization, now serving over 11,000,000 customers, with more than 300,000,000 dollars' worth of merchandise.

Consider the scope of this institution, its tremendous buying power, the large factories we own, besides the many whose operations we control. Consider that we eliminate all unnecessary steps in handling. Then you will realize why we are able to sell quality merchandise at low prices.

The values advertised in the Boston papers are only a few of the many thousands to be found in the Cambridge store. Everything you need for yourself, your family, your home, your garden, or automobile, can be bought over the counter in this new department store.

SEARS, ROEBUCK AND COMPANY OPEN NEW STORE

The coming to Cambridge of Sears, Roebuck and Co., nationally known merchandising house is one of the outstanding events in the business world of New England for this summer. This company, which has located a retail department store at 1815 Massachusetts avenue in Cambridge, has built a handsome three story building and there is selling goods "over the counter" just as they are sold in any other retail establishment.

This company, which does an annual business of over $300,000,000 in sales, has brought to Cambridge all of the manufacturing, handling and selling advantages which has been followed by the company for 40 years. The retail manager for the district is Walter S. Mapes, who has been with the company for 12 years and who, as a boy lived in Cambridge. The Cambridge store manager is Charles M. Lafferty, for nine years employed by the company.

For this store, Sears, Roebuck and Co., has employed about 400 salespeople and other assistants. Most of these were employed from among residents of metropolitan Boston, 85 per cent of them being residents of Cambridge. In addition a total of $300,000 was paid to local labor in the construction of the Cambridge store.

The interior of this newest retail department store for metropolitan Boston presents an attractive and orderly appearance as the customer enters. Modern display equipment along with wide aisles and well arranged merchandise make the visitors feel the spaciousness of the merchandising floors. There is a soda fountain and luncheonette at the rear of the main floor.

Merchandising is done on three floors of the building. The basement is for the automobile tires and automobile accessories, heavy merchandise of all kinds, sporting goods, kitchenware and hardware, roofing, paint, wall paper and kindred lines.

On the main floor is found men's furnishings, jewelry, piece goods, boys' wear, drugs, tobacco and candy departments and kindred lines.

On the second floor are the women's wear, misses' ready to wear, infants' goods, furniture and rugs, women's hats and similar kinds of merchandise.

The third floor is for reserve stock and store offices.

"It is always difficult to get across to the general public that we have a real department store in every sense of the word," said W. S. Mapes, manager. "Because we have been a mail order house, most people have the idea that we are opening a sample room where goods may be inspected and then ordered from a catalogue. Nothing could be further from the truth. We are opening a store which will sell goods right over the counter just as any department store sells goods. We want the people of Metropolitan Boston to come and see our display and inspect our store."

"The three-day opening of the store started on Thursday, July 12, and will continue through Saturday. On these days the store will open at 9 o'clock in the morning and remain open until 9 o'clock at night. I hope that all who possibly can will visit our store on these days. I am sure it will be worthwhile and they will learn of the kind of merchandise we have to sell to more than 11,000,000 customers in the country."

EDITORIAL

As we view it, the leading issues of the coming campaign for president will be prohibition, Tammany, Catholicism, the oil scandals and the personalities of the two leading candidates. We believe that prohibition will be the principal subject of debate with many Republicans voting wet and thousands of Democratic women voting dry. What at first strikes one as a peculiar slant on the question, but which after reflection does not seem so strange, is the current opinion of the average voter that if Smith is elected all the present trials and troubles of prohibition and law enforcement will be ironed out and that as President Mr. Smith will repeal both the 18th amendment and the Volstead law. That such is not the case is plain to everyone cognizant of the real situation. As President Mr. Smith might be able through appointments of district attorneys, judges and court officers, to partially nullify or impede the operation of the Volstead law, but Congress alone can repeal or modify the Volstead law or take steps to repeal the 18th amendment and with Congress 80% dry, such action appears out of the question. We fail, therefore, to see why any Republican should vote for Mr. Smith on these grounds. The only effective way for wet Republicans to vote is to defeat Republican candidates for Congress.

In matters affecting the future growth of the city, it is false economy to save a few thousand dollars here and there by taking a narrow and prejudiced view of present day conditions. We believe it is false economy to locate the John Ward school in such an out of the way part of the district. It is false economy to take land in Newtonville for a new school, and purposely allow two houses to cut into the approach to the front of the proposed new building. It is false economy not to adequately widen St. James street in the Newton Corner district. As a general rule it might be said that on street widenings and the location of public buildings, every effort should be made to provide for ample accommodations for those who come after us.

We are glad to endorse the candidacy of Mr. Frank L. Nagle of this city for the Republican nomination for councillor in this district. The present councillor is a woman, appointed to that office by the Governor following the death of Councillor Charles S. Smith. The duties of the council consist of an oversight of the finances of the State, confirmation of gubernatorial appointments and to advise the Governor on matters of pardon. With such a program the council is no place for a woman and Mr. Nagle's candidacy, therefore, should appeal to everyone interested in an efficient conduct of that office.

NEWTON WOMAN INJURED

Miss Gertrude Rooney of 46 Gardner street, Newton, was badly injured last Friday at Mason, N. H., where she was spending her vacation. She had gone riding on a bicycle and was later found unconscious on the road, having been thrown from the wheel. She was taken to the Burbank Hospital at Fitchburg where it was found she had sustained a severe concussion of the brain. She is reported as slowly improving.

MRS. CLARA M. KELLAR

Mrs. Clara M. Kellar of 174 Webster street, West Newton, wife of William Kellar, died at her home on Tuesday of septic sore throat. On July 3 Mrs. Kellar, accompanied by her husband and her daughter, Miss Bertha Kellar, travelled to Lee to visit another daughter, Mrs. Walter Aiken who resides in this town. While there they became exposed to the epidemic which broke out in the town and on July 7 she became ill and returned to Newton. Mrs. Kellar was apparently recovering from the disease, when her heart weakened and death ensued. Miss Bertha Kellar and Mr. Kellar also fell victims to the disease. Miss Kellar is recovering, but Mr. Kellar is in a serious condition. Mrs. Aiken and members of her family at Lee were among the victims in that stricken town but are recovering.

Funeral services for Mrs. Kellar are being held this afternoon in the Congregational Church at West Newton. Rev. Boynton Merrill officiating. Interment will be in the Newton Cemetery at a later date. The deceased was born in Boston 56 years ago and had resided here for 33 years. Besides her husband, she is survived by one son, John W. Kellar of Newtonville, and three daughters, Mrs. Walter Aiken of Lee, and the Misses Bertha and Helen Kellar of West Newton.

MRS. ALICE H. DORSEY

Mrs. Alice H. Dorsey, wife of Andrew J. Dorsey of Cummings road, Newton Centre, who died on July 5th, was buried last Saturday in Calvary Cemetery. The deceased, who was 35 years of age, is survived by her husband and eight children.

Radium in Quantities

Would Change Nature

The Biblical prophet spoke of the wilderness and the desert place "blossoming as the rose," and the agriculturist, by means of irrigation, has succeeded, within limits, in fulfilling the seer's words. But the dream of making the poles of the earth habitable and fruitful seems a vain one.

Yet a way has been suggested. It is not impossible, but highly improbable. If ever a method should be discovered of manufacturing radium, or if a method should be found of extracting radium from natural materials in great bulk, even the problem of fertilizing the poles, by making them temperate in climate, might find a solution.

So great is the heat produced by radium in proportion to its bulk that a quantity easily transported by manual labor would be sufficient to change the temperature of the polar regions. Indeed, if enough were taken there it would produce tropical conditions.

At present there is not a pound of radium collected in the whole world, and it is the most costly thing known. But the time may come when we shall be able to make radium from chemical elements in bulk, and then many things now regarded as impossible will be easy.

Found "Boss" of Home Busy Washing Dishes

A local man who frequently boasts of being "the boss around his shanty" is busy trying to make a certain group of women desist from spreading the tale of how he was "bossing" the day that they called on his wife.

On the day in question a group of about seven clubwomen decided to call on his "better half" to induce her to join a club which was in the process of formation. They went with some misgivings because the "lorc and master of the establishment" had frequently stated that he was not in harmony with clubwomen and that his wife would not join such silly affairs as long as he "was boss."

As the group entered they found his wife smoking a cigaret and reading a novel. In the kitchenette they heard a clatter of dishes and as conversation became difficult with the din that came from the crockery, the wife shouted: "Oh, John, do be less noisy when you wash the dishes."—Springfield Union.

Didn't Like the Color

"I can let you have 'twos,' lady, no more one cent stamps," said the man behind the window.

"No," replied the dreamy eyed girl, "they won't do," and she stepped aside to allow the woman who was next in line to make her purchases. She was still standing there as the woman stopped a moment to put her supply of stamps in her purse.

"I just can't make myself use two-cent stamps," confided the girl; "they're such a dreadful color they positively make me shudder and they won't go with any kind of letter paper. I suppose I'll have to go up to the next post office, but it's better than using pink stamps."—New York Sun.

Famous Scholar

Gregor Mendel, who gave to science the laws of heredity that have made his name immortal, was a monk in the monastery of Konizgloster, in Brunn, Austria. He began his work as a teacher, was one of the outstanding (or in driving) events of the day. The "skill" shown by the amateur carpenters rivaled that of the ordinary woman. The nails were driven into two planks, one of these being of much harder wood than the other. The soft plank was used by the perceiving contestants. After many trials he won in which some of the "drivers" hit their finger nails instead of the other nails, this event was won by the team composed of Hugh Boyd, Bill Parker and Doc Paul. The Newton Trust team composed of Heislain, White and Davidson was second. The tug-of-war contest was won by the team captained by Edgar Burkhardt.

Bridegroom's Awful Fix

A Los Angeles bridegroom just married in a fashionable church filled with society folks discovered he had forgotten to get the license. It was an awful bad forget. The pastor immediately cut the knot he had tied, the prospective bride was hustled home by her father. Meanwhile the bridegroom was frantically canceling reservations for train and hotel accommodations in order to camp on the license bureau doorstep to complete the formalities at the earliest possible moment. And yet all he forgot was the license.—Capper's Weekly.

Benevolent Thrush

A rare instance of birds extending a helping hand, or rather beak, to youngsters other than their own, has been reported to the California ornithological journal, Candor, by Stanley G. Jewett, of Portland, Ore. A russet backed thrush was observed to make twelve visits within four hours carrying food to a nestful of young robins. When mother robin appeared on the scene the thrush hastily jumped back from the nest and showed every evidence of fright at having been caught at its benevolent work.

Oh, Peter!

Peter was playing at Johnny's house. When it was time to go home, it started to rain. Mrs. White, however, gave Peter Johnny's raincoat and gloves.

"Don't take so much trouble, Mrs. White," said Peter, politely.

"I'm sure your mother would do as much for Johnny," she replied.

"My mother would do more," said Peter. "She'd ask Johnny to stay to supper."

tomary group photograph taken and then repaired to the athletic field where a program of sports was conducted under the direction of Edgar Burkhardt, Dwight Colburn and Frank Wing. The first event was a 75 yard dash. Because of the lack of condition of the entrants, instead of running this event in trials and a final, trial heats were dispensed with and 15 men participated in one heat. After a false start, resulting from Attorney Hugh Boyd's inclination to "beat the gun," the platoon got off. Leo Hughes proved the fleetest; Duffy was second and Hugh Boyd was given third prize, to which he was not entitled as he for the second time had started before the signal.

In the shoe race, Jeff McGrath finished first but was disqualified as he neglected to tie his shoe. The first prize in this event went to Lagerblad, C. W. Davidson was second and Napoleon was third. The "bag race" attracted another big entry list—a dozen "athletes" participating, running with their heads and faces covered with large paper bags. Jeff McGrath proved to be the best blindfolded sprinter; Davidson was second, Brimblecom finished third.

The potato race proved popular and several heats were necessary to eliminate the "spud" gatherers. In the final Watts was first, closely followed by Henderson and Brimblecom. The horse-shoe throwing contest attracted a large field which finally narrowed down to two teams, one composed of Eddie Mason and Joe Delaney and the other including John T. Burns and George Connolly. In the play-off, the Mason-Delaney combination showed greater accuracy in tossing the hoof oxfords. The nail-driving contest, as in other years, was one of the outstanding (or in driving) events of the day. The "skill" shown by the amateur carpenters rivaled that of the ordinary woman. The nails were driven into two planks, one of these being of much harder wood than the other. The soft plank was used by the perceiving contestants. After many trials he won in which some of the "drivers" hit their finger nails instead of the other nails, this event was won by the team composed of Hugh Boyd, Bill Parker and Doc Paul. The Newton Trust team composed of Heislain, White and Davidson was second. The tug-of-war contest was won by the team captained by Edgar Burkhardt.

The baseball game between the Newton Corner team and the Newton Automobile men was won by the former by the close score of 3 to 1. Seven innings were played during which Hugh Boyd, who was on the mound for the victors, held his opponents to three hits, fanning seven. He was in fine form. Watson Baker caught for the Newton Corner team and handled Boyd's pitching well. Holton and Leo Hughes divided the pitching duties for the automobile men and deserved a better fate. Although Holton kept the hits scattered his team-mates contributed sufficient errors to allow the winners to score all their runs in the second inning. Many bases were also stolen.

Brimblecom led off with a single, stole second, and scored on a wild throw to first on Colburn's rap. Colburn taking second. Colburn stole third and came home on a passed ball. Fredricks had reached first meanwhile and he also worked his way around. In the first of the third Hughes tallied the losers' only run. He singled stole second, and scored on two infield outs.

The Newton Corner nine nearly broke the game up in the fifth, filling the bases with no one out. Hughes tightened and fanned the next batter and Lagerblad, catching for the automobile men's nine, shut off two runners at the plate. Holton reached third three times during the game but his teammates failed to provide the punch to bring him home.

LEONORA E. SULLIVAN

Miss Leonora E. Sullivan of 930 Walnut street, Newton Highlands, died on July 8 in her 52nd year. She was a life long resident of this city, the daughter of the late Henry and Annie Lombard Sullivan. Her funeral service was held on Wednesday at the Sacred Heart Church, Newton Centre. Burial was in Holyhood Cemetery. She is survived by one sister, Miss Annie Sullivan.

$4000 FOR OAK HILL SCHOOL

Hill has been given serious thought, but, according to the Building Code of Newton, portable buildings cannot be erected, except under temporary building permits, and portable school buildings, at best, are far less comfortable and practicable than are regular school buildings. With the certainty that a new, modern school must be erected before many years at Oak Hill, the School Committee has hesitated to ask for alterations or improvements on the old school building here but so insistent have the demands become from parents of Oak Hill children, that it was decided to do something definite to provide better school accommodations there.

The $4000 appropriated by the aldermen will allow for modern sanitary conveniences to be installed in the Oak Hill school, proper heating and electric lights to be provided, new floors to be laid, and additional means of egress given to conform to the State laws.

NEWTON HOSPITAL

As it does not seem wise to use the "portable" building any longer for student nurses, the hospital has leased a house outside of the hospital grounds for the use of the next class entering. To distinguish it from the other residences for nurses, it has been named "Woodland Hall."

Dr. Herman T. Baldwin of Chestnut Hill, Newton, a member of the Hospital Staff, is on a vacation at Grand River, in the Province of Quebec. Last Saturday, Dr. George L. West, also a member of the staff, received a handsome twelve-pound salmon from Grand River.

The trustees are very grateful for the beautiful flowers which friends have sent to the Hospital during the past few weeks.

Generous contributions of magazines have also helped the patients to endure the hot, muggy days.

It is encouraging to report that fires have been started in the new power house preliminary to the dismantling of the old plant. Connections have also been made with the Edison electric current, preparatory to changing the entire hospital system from direct to alternating.

Miss Vera A. Houston, R. N., Assistant Superintendent, is spending her vacation in Augusta, Maine.

Miss Kathleen Parks, R. N., Theoretical Instructor, in the School of Nursing at the Newton Hospital for the past three years, has resigned to accept the position of Assistant Superintendent of the Henrietta D. Goodall Hospital, Sanford, Maine. She goes to her new position July fifteenth.

During the week ending Sunday, July 8, there were seventeen emergency admissions to the operating room. Of the five admitted on July 4, only one was the direct result of fire cracks. A small boy picked up a fire cracker that "did not go off." Consequently, for a time, he did not see as well with his right eye.

Three fatal accidents were three women, one suffering with laceration of a thumb, one with a strained back, and one with a fractured wrist—all three the results of automobile accidents. Ten were men suffering with lacerations of the forehead, lacerations of the head, abrasions on the nose, abrasions on the face, lacerations of the face and left arm, lacerations of the left hand, a fractured pelvis, a bad sprain, a particle of iron in his eye, and one had a sprained right ankle. Seven of those were the result of automobile accidents. The crushed foot was caused by a falling cake of ice.

The remaining three were boys, one a baby who fell out of his high-chair, fracturing his arm, one with a question of glass in his throat (he had been playing with a glass ball) and one the boy with the inflamed right eye, the result of his curiosity regarding the fire cracker.

On the last day of the week ending Saturday, July 7, 1928, there were 112 patients. Of these, 41 paid as much or more than the cost of care, 39 paid less than cost of care, and 32, including babies, were treated free. Ten babies were born (six girls and four boys).

One hundred and one patients were treated in the Out-Patient Department, and seventeen accidents were cared for in the operating room. Thirteen calls were made by the Social Service Department, and six patients were transferred by the Social Service car.

Poet's Glider Almost Too Eager in Action

Long ago in Algeria, a French poet contributed unknowingly to the advancement of aerial conquest, says the Air Station News, biweekly publication of the naval air station at Pensacola, Fla. Mouillard was his name and he constructed his glider from the study of birds.

Starting early, as is the custom of later-day pilots, he buckled on his wings and started down the road waiting for a favorable breeze. The road down which he "took off" was raised five or six feet above the surrounding plains and was bordered on both sides by ditches some ten feet wide. His wings felt light. Running forward to test their life, he thought to amuse himself by jumping one of the ditches. The result is told in his own words:

"So I took a good run across the road and jumped. My feet did not come down to earth. I was gliding on the air and making vain efforts to land, for my airplane had set out on a cruise. I dangled only a few feet from the soil, but do what I could I could not reach it, and I was skimming along without the power to stop. At last, my feet touched the earth. I fell forward on my head and broke my wings and all was over, but goodness, how frightened I had been."

Word Inventors

Shakespeare invented the word "besmireh" and "chryle," "besmireh" and "chryle" produced "betrayal" and "Coteridge" "resemblance"; Goldsmith contributed "cantankerous"; Burke "disorganize," and Bernard Shaw "superman," according to the Oxford English dictionary.

Butter and Ash Wood

In some parts of Britain, to make sure that the butter will not be bewitched, it is usual to make the churn-staff of ash, and for the same reason herd-boys use an ash-stick for driving cattle. In like manner the Cornish peasant, in dread of the evil eye, twines an ash-twiz round his cow's horns.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER

Washington, July 11.—This city is preparing for a long political siege. The battle of the partisan mimeographs will be waged from here as it has been decided to establish headquarters for the Republican and Democratic campaigns in the capital city. Herbert Hoover will probably deliver the major of his radio speeches from Washington supplemented by high-calibered publicity. While it is expected that Governor Smith will make more personal appearances than the Republican candidate, the Democratic party will mobilize its publicity here. In previous campaigns the Republicans maintained their main quarters at Chicago.

Ordinarily when Congress is not in session the volume of political news emanating from Washington is materially reduced. The absence of the President likewise diminishes the circle of political intelligence. As evidence that a retiring President is gradually stepping out of the picture of current news dispatches, observers point to the fact that the corps of correspondents stationed at the summer White House is very small compared with other years. Though the headquarters are maintained in Washington the real political battle ground is in the middle west and east. These two sections are considered contested territory by the party leaders. The regional officers will be charged with the responsibility of getting out the vote and selling the candidates and the ticket to the voters.

Of particular interest to citizens of the voting age who have been flooded with unwelcome and sometimes useless government documents by their legislators, is the tendency on the part of the Government Printing Office to restrict this waste. Approximately forty five million copies of publications were distributed by government departments, usually at the request of a Member of Congress. An effort has been made to regulate the distribution of "official" documents by having a board of review determine whether or not the franking privilege is being abused in the distribution of these documents. The Public Printer apparently expects an increase in the distribution of free documents this year because it is campaign year.

An illustration of how the Congressional franking privilege is used and abused may be gleaned from the report of a congressman to his constituents as published in a late issue of the Congressional Record. This legislator rounding out his first term makes a bold bid for re-election by reciting his achievements in behalf of his constituents. The record stamps him as a messenger. The salary of $10,000 a year. Among his contributions to the reading matter and eventually the waste baskets of his district was the distribution of 350,000 pieces of franked mail. No doubt, he was obliged to pay a portion of the printing costs, but a private citizen mailing this tremendous volume would have paid nearly $70,000 postage, an item which is now checked off and paid by the general taxpayers.

At the beginning of the political campaign the Civil Service Commission is passing the word that political activity on the part of Federal employees having a civil service rating is not good form. The Commission has a difficult task in attempting to restrain office holders, especially those having sufficient political influence to give them a paid office over the rank and file of the government employees. All of this class realize full well that a change in Administration assures a race for their jobs. The Commission endeavors to enforce the law but ordinarily they find themselves helpless against the loopholes that political exigencies permit.

The Federal Trade Commission has wound up the first of a series of investigations into propaganda activities of the public utilities. The hearings will be resumed in the fall when the "higher ups" or executives of the utility companies will be compelled to testify as to the financial affairs of their concerns. Certain groups intend to keep the "power trust" alive during the electioneering period. This fact encourages the Federal Trade Commission to renew fishing expeditions into the files of the utility companies.

AUTO TAKES A SWIM

An automobile owned by Alderman Norman F. Pratt of Grant avenue, Newton Centre, displayed evidences of adaptability last Tuesday evening. Mr. Pratt went visiting that evening and parked his car in front of a house on Berwick road. Terminating his visit, he emerged from his friend's home to re-enter his automobile and discovered that the car was missing. Some distance away, at the edge of Crystal Lake, he noticed a gathering of people. Upon investigation he found the crowd had gathered at the spectacle of his car which was reposing in the water of the lake. To reach the position the car had backed for a considerable distance down the slight grade of Berwick road, navigated through a narrow opening in a fence, hurdled a 3 foot wall and landed right side up and little damaged in the lake. Mr. Pratt's car is not alone amphibian, but can take to the air.

EMBASSY THEATRE

Another all-feature program has been arranged for the patrons of the Embassy, Waltham's Wonder theatre, for beginning Monday the feature photoplay will be "Across to Singapore" starring Ramon Navarro, while for the last three days of the week the screen feature will be "Buck Privates."

The vaudeville features for the week are of high standard. The Embassy summer policy of big-time vaudeville and feature photoplays has been a decided hit among patrons of the popular theatre. In addition to those features there is at all performances special music on the Kilgen organ by J. Leslie Cahill, and by the Embassy Grand Orchestra under the direction of Charles Hatch. The regular Embassy screen features are shown at every performance.

On Sunday night there will be a special program. "You Can't Beat the Law" is the feature picture, while there will be special vaudeville.

NOTED LAWYER DEAD

James Mott Hallowell of Reservoir avenue, Chestnut Hill, a well-known Boston lawyer, died Wednesday morning at his summer home at Wianno, in his sixty-fourth year. His health became impaired early in the year and he went to Nassau in the Bahamas, in the hope of deriving benefit, which he apparently did, as his health had improved some since that time.

He was born in West Medford on Feb. 13, 1865, the son of Richard Price and Anna (Davis) Hallowell. His father was a wool merchant and his mother, the daughter of Edward M. and Maria (Mott) Davis of Philadelphia, was a writer of ability.

In 1888, Mr. Hallowell received his
A.B. from Harvard and was graduated from the Harvard Law School in 1893 and in that year began practice in New York city. He remained there only a short time and the following year came to Boston and became second assistant attorney general, in 1894, and for four years later was made assistant attorney general, from which office he resigned in 1902, when he entered the law firm of Knowlton, Hallowell & Hammond. On the death of Mr. Knowlton, the firm became Hallowell & Hammond, and in 1911 the law business was conducted under the firm name of Mayberry, Hallowell & Hammond. The present firm is Mayberry, Hallowell & Mayberry.

Mr. Hallowell was city solicitor of Medford, from 1902 until 1906, and a trustee of Atlanta University, in Geo-gia. He was a member of the American and also the Massachusetts Bar Associations, as well as the Bar Association of Boston. In his politics, Mr. Hallowell was a Republican. He was a member of the Union Club and The Country Club, Brookline.

On April 14, 1903, Mr. Hallowell married, in Boston, Louise Tucker Harding, by whom he is survived. She is the daughter of the late Benjamin F. Harding, who for many years was senior master of Milton Academy. In addition to his widow, Mr. Hallowell leaves two sons, James M. Hallowell, Jr., and Benjamin H. Hallowell, and a daughter, Miss Anna D. Hallowell.

DEATH OF FORMER RESIDENT

Mr. Edward F. Hamlin, whose death took place this week at the home of his son, Mr. F. C. Hamlin in East St.
Louis, Ill., was a well known former resident of Newton Centre, his home for many years.

Mr. Hamlin was for 42 years executive secretary of the Governor's council, having been appointed to that office by Governor Rice in 1877 and serving until his resignation, October 1, 1919.

During the time that Mr. Hamlin was an official in the State House, he made his home in Newton Centre, where he had an exceptionally attractive place and a multitude of friends. His co-workers had nothing but praise for him, when in 1919, he finally retired.
He served under Governors Rice, Talbot, Long, Butler, Robinson, Ames
Brackett, Russell, Greenhalge, Wolcott, Crane, Bates, Duggan, Guild, Draper,
Foss, Walsh and McCall.

Mr. Hamlin was born in Plainfield in 1842, and spent the early years of his life there. He was educated both in public and private schools. In his youth he served in the Civil War as sergeant of Company I of the Fifty-second Massachusetts Volunteers. Following the war, Mr. Hamlin returned to his home in Northampton, where he resumed his retail shoe business. Not long after this he was appointed by Governor Washburn to the position of adjutant general, at that time he was captain of the Northampton Company of the Massachusetts Militia.

GIRL SCOUTS

Activities at Camp Mary Day, the Newton Girl Scout camp in Natick, are in full swing as the first encampment of the summer draws to its close.
Camp opened on July 2nd and on July 14th this first group of twenty-five happy campers will return to their families, fatter and browner, and very much wiser in scout lore after their two weeks in the open. The Camp is divided into two teams, the Bows and the Wows, who compete vigorously in all manner of games and sports.
Swimming under the direction of Miss Dorothy Colby, of Newton Upper Falls, is a very popular sport, and already almost every girl in camp has earned the coveted fish emblem for her bathing suit, and there are only 4 girls left in the beginner's red cap group.
Singing is taught by Miss Grace Wil-lamson, also of Upper Falls, and a song contest held on Monday night, won by the Robin Patrol, resulted in several good songs being added to the Camp repertoire. The following girls are in Camp at present. Newton Centre, Troop No. 3, Helen Boyd, Anne Kendall (patrol leader), Katherine Randall, Helen Randlett. Troop 23, Elizabeth Curran, Sally Pratt, Barbara McCurda, (patrol leader), Peg-ton Troop 15, Jane Taber, Barbara Smith, Newtonville, Troop 22, Priscilla Tracey, Newton Highlands, Troop 26, Nancy Coan, Anne Collins,

Barbara Stimpson (patrol leader).

A hike to Camp Mary Day for all Girl Scouts living on the South side of Newton (Newton Centre, Highlands, Waban, Upper Falls) will take place on Saturday, July 21st. Captain Warren will be on the Worcester car running out Boylston St. at about 8:50. Each girl should have with her, lunch, an extra sweater, bathing suit and towel, a note from home giving her permission to go into the water, and fifty cents carfare. The girls who will be living at camp at the time will plan a program of games for the hikers in the morning. In the afternoon they will go in swimming and will return home about 5 o'clock. There will be no hike if it rains hard on the morning of the 21st.

RAE-VUILLEUMIER

Miss Martha L. Vuilleumier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vuilleumier of Wyoming road, Newtonville, was married to Dr. Cameron A. Rae of Bridge street, Newton, on Tuesday evening, July third, at eight o'clock.
The ceremony which took place at the North Congregational Church, Newton, was performed by Rev. R. L.
Rae, father of the groom.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Charlotte Vuilleumier of Newtonville as maid of honor. Miss Rachel Seaward of Fall River and Miss Olivia Vuilleumier of Newton, a cousin of the bride, were the bridesmaids.
Dr. Robert C. Rae, a brother of the groom, of Brockton, was the best man.
Those assisting as ushers were Hon.
Edwin O. Childs of Newton, Dr.
Franklin P. Lowry, a brother-in-law of the groom, of Newton, Edgar J. Livingston of Mt. Hermon and Henri Vuilleumier, brother of the bride, of Cohasset.

The gown worn by the bride was of ivory satin with train and veil. She carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor wore peach colored taffeta faced with turquoise blue taffeta and carried pink roses and delphiniums. The bridesmaids wore turquoise blue taffeta faced with peach colored taffeta and also carried pink roses and del-phiniums.

A reception was held at the church from eight thirty until nine thirty.
The couple were assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vuilleumier, Rev. and Mrs. R. L. Rae and the maid of honor and bridesmaids.

Mrs. F. P. Lowry, a sister of Dr.
Rae, gave a short organ recital of very pleasing numbers preceding the ceremony. A trio under the direction of Miss Mary Pucciarelli furnished music during the reception.

After a wedding trip to Maine, Dr. and Mrs. Rae will reside on Oakland street, Newton.

The groom is a graduate of the Harvard Dental School, 1924.

"THE serpent is in man," said Victor Hugo. "It is the intestine. It disturbs the equilibrium between soul and body. It fills history. It is the mother of vices. The Colon is King."

But science in recent years has discovered that it is not the colon itself
—but its contents—that are responsible for the headaches, "nerves" and the chronic fatigue that afflict so many millions of city dwellers today.

For lack of exercise weakens the intestinal muscles—and our soft, rich foods form an ideal medium for the growth of germs of decay in the intestinal tract that send out poisons to all parts of the body.

Now for three years physicians have prescribed Walker-Gordon Acidophi-lus Milk to drive out these harmful organisms from the digestive tract—and replace them with the healthful Bacillus Acidophilus which nature originally put there to protect us.

And amazing evidence is at hand to prove its benefits!

For thousands of users—once depressed and lacking in vitality—constantly below par—enthusiastically testify to their remarkable return to health—to a sense of well-being that they had rarely known before.

Walker-Gordon Acidophilus Milk is made with pure cultures received at regular intervals from the New Haven Laboratory which also makes periodical examinations of the product.
These cultures are placed in Walker-Gordon Milk, a product already given the closest supervision by highly trained bacteriologists. And then, to make doubly sure that this remarkable drink shall retain all its energizing, health-giving effectiveness, it is hygienically bottled—specially sealed —and rushed to your door within twenty-four hours of production. For to win its battle with the bacilli of decay, Acidophilus Milk must be absolutely fresh and vital.

Start drinking Walker-Gordon Acidophilus Milk for health at once. A word to any Whiting route salesman—a call to CHARLESTOWN 1100 or your local Whiting branch—will bring it to your home tomorrow.

Genius of Holbein

Recognized by King

When Hans Holbein, the celebrated portrait painter, went to England, he became a favorite of King Henry VIII, who took him into his service, and paid him a salary of two hundred florins a year.

One day, it is said, a nobleman called upon Holbein when the latter was very busy, painting from life. Holbein sent a message asking to be excused the honor of the visit for that day. The nobleman, highly offended, walked straight upstairs and broke open the door of the studio. At this, Holbein also lost his temper, and aimed a blow at the intruder which sent him from the top of the stairs to the bottom. When his passion had cooled down, the artist realized his danger, and wisely went at once to the king, to whom he told the story of the quarrel. Shortly afterward, the nobleman made his appearance, clamoring for vengeance. Henry made Holbein apologize, but the angry peer declared that nothing but the offender's death would content him. Whereupon Henry replied, "You have not now to deal with Holbein, but with me. Whatever harm you do him shall rebound tenfold on your own head. Whenever I please, I can make seven lords out of seven plowmen, but of seven lords I could not make one Holbein."

Frenchman Sees Them

"American children are 'insouciant,' open-minded and gay," so writes a noted observer in Comedie, a Paris paper, after a visit to the United States. "They work without effort, that is to say, very little. They only learn the indispensable. In the big cities many streets are reserved for them and their plays. They are safe from the life-crushing juggernauts of modern traffic. At the age of twelve an American child upholds his own opinion against that of his parents and opposes his 'reactions' to their 'reactions.' They are treated and addressed as if they were adults. At fifteen they go out to earn a living, without losing their insouciance and their gaiety. They will have known neither laziness, nor indolence. And they will die without having noticed that they have lived. Quietness and retreat in the eventide of life, preparation for death; those are unknown things in a country where death is but an insignificant detail."—Pierre Van Paassen, in the Atlanta Constitution.

Like Dynamite

There is nothing that a man will not do for the woman he truly loves! There is a type of woman who knows this and who, after having won the devoted love of a man, proceeds to use that love as a means of gaining her purely selfish ends.

Many a woman of this type is hopelessly extravagant. She knows that her husband will make any sacrifice to gratify even her slightest whim. But she often does not know that the very love which makes him spoil her will make him violently condemn her if she indulges in dangerous indiscretions.

Love is somewhat like dynamite. If properly handled, it can serve the most useful purposes. If treated carelessly, it can cause havoc and even death.—True Story Magazine.

Army Rations Long Ago

How the American soldiers in the old fort of Detroit used to fare is indicated by a warrant recorded in September, 1797, contained in the records of Otto Stoll, register of deeds, and signed by Edward Day, department commissary. The warrant reads: "The United States owe at Detroit to Messrs. Leith, Shepard and Duff, 5,185 rations of soap at 22 cents a pound; 121 pounds beef at 10 cents a pound; 31,736 rations of whiskey at 82 a gallon (one-half a gill being a ration); 5,394 rations of candles at 21 cents a pound; and 24,882 rations of vinegar at 6 cents a quart. All of which quantities have become due to the soldiery anterior to this date as appears by due bills of the assistant commissary."

Mirrors 3,000 Years Old

When the modern girl picks up a hand-mirror to admire herself, she is only following the example of young women of 3,000 years ago.

Archaeologists in Media, in Greece, have discovered in tombs of the Mycenaean period several hand-mirrors, one with an ivory handle. Silvered glass was unknown in those days, and mirrors were made of sheets of polished metal.

Even before polished metal was used, girls had their mirrors. They used polished stone, dipping it into water so that the thin film of liquid would serve as a reflecting surface.

Skunks Show Mercy

Under the skunk Geneva convention the use of a gas-attack is strictly forbidden in any battle which only skunks are engaged in, says Nature Magazine. In such a fight the combatants depend entirely on tooth and claw. Sometimes that fierce death-in-the-dark, the great horned owl, will occasionally pounce on a strutting skunk. Usually, however, he finds that the latter's antiaircraft armament is too strong for him and retires without honor to bear about with him the aftermath of his raid until his next molting.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

A number of Newton business and professional men have arranged to lunch each business day in a room especially reserved for them at one of Newton's leading eating places.

A delightful way to spend one's vacation is to take a trip from Boston on one of the boats of the Merchants and Miners Transportation Company to Atlantic City, Philadelphia, Norfolk, Baltimore, Washington and other points. These boats are large, seaworthy and have all modern improvements. The cruising is excellent. The cost of these trips, including all expenses, varies from $34 for a four day trip to Philadelphia and return, to $72 for a 9 day trip to Norfolk, Baltimore, Annapolis and Washington. Complete details may be obtained from the Newton Steamship Company at 421 Centre street, Newton.

George W. Wightman is one man who is, and always has been, interested in athletics out of sheer love of amateur sport. Unlike others prominent in "amateur" athletics he has not been actuated by selfish motives. He has been responsible for large donations to the support of amateur athletics and funding of American Olympic teams. His action regarding the Paddock situation should tend to bring about a reform in so called amateur sports. The "fastest human" asserts he received no money for his tour of the big "movie" theatres of this country. Possibly, the famous blonde sprinter from the Pacific Coast even lost money in paying his own expenses. Apart from the matter of starring in the big theatres, we believe Charlie displayed poor judgment in flaunting those tailor-made blue and white striped silk pants at the athletic meets. It gave some folks the impression that Mr. Paddock was endeavoring to focus attention upon himself. Neither did Paddock's demand that he be allowed to compete in the 100 meter final at the Stadium, after he had failed to qualify in the trials, cause many to hold him in greater esteem.

Amateur athletics in this country have become more, or less, of a joke. It is hard to convince many folks that amateur athletes in various branches of sports travel hither and thither, covering thousands of miles, and spend much of their time competing, without receiving compensation, even though such emolument is in the form of well padded expense accounts. Fortunately "amateur" hockey has been succeeded by professional hockey. Why not cut out the hypocrisy in other branches of athletics by having those who profit by their skill in them compete in their true guise—as professionals.

Harry Chin who works early and late in his laundry on Washington street, near Engine 1 house at Newton Corner got a big thrill and gave others big thrills about 2 a. m. on the morning of July 4th. One of the numerous permits to sell fireworks in Newton had been given to a couple of youths who were conducting their temporary business in a store across the street from Engine 1. Early on the morning of the "Fourth" Mr. Chin, having completed his day's (and night's) labor emerged from his laundry for a little fresh air and some relaxation. He could not inhale fresh air because the atmosphere was filled with the acrid smell of powder from discharged fireworks and noise. Chin caught the spirit of the occasion, or the spirit caught Chin. Anyhow, it was not difficult for the twain to come together because fireworks and firecrackers were invented in China and have been quite popular in that old country for many centuries. So, Chin walked across the street to the store where fireworks were sold and exchanged some of his hard earned coin for pyrotechnics.

First, he purchased a couple of Roman candles and touched them off. The little balls of colored fire puffed from these candles out into the street and Chin registered disgust. Roman candles were too tame for Chin's fiery temperament. He wanted something with more zip. And, he got it—in the shape of a sky-rocket. Action followed: plenty of it. Chin stood on the edge of the sidewalk in front of the fireworks store near the corner of Washington street and this Newton place, held the sky-rocket in his hand and touched it off. This particular rocket did not soar towards the sky. It whizzed in a low trajectory up Washington street through Nonantum square into the doorway of the Newton Lunch. James Themelis, one of the owners of the lunch-room was at the counter and a nunch when the rocket crashed into the heavy screen door, which fortunately was shut, and spent itself as it poured a dense cloud of smoke into the eating place.

Patrolman Frank Feeley, standing near the lunch-room door, was startled to observe the rocket soaring through Nonantum square and hastened down home. She and her sister, who was employed nearby, took the midnight bus from Newtonville and the victim had just alighted from the bus and was crossing Walnut street when the automobile operated by Fitzpatrick came along and killed her. After striking the Slattery girl, the automobile collided with a car driven by Patrolman William Maloney, throwing Maloney, and Patrolman Elliot, who was riding with him into the street. Maloney suffered a broken toe and Elliot, who was hurried through the windshield was cut and received a severe shaking. The police ambulance rushed the Slattery girl to the Newton Hospital where she was pronounced dead, her skull having been fractured. The Slattery girl was a native of Ireland and had formerly been in West Roxbury. Her funeral will be held tomorrow from the home of her uncle in Winthrop.

Now that the head of General Motors is Al Smith's right hand man in the contest for the Presidency, it is quite probable that Henry Ford will come out for Hoover. It is certainly unselfish for Mr. Raskob to urge a reform to correct the present laxity in the enforcement of the Prohibition Enforcement Act. If prohibition becomes a reality, rather than a mere law, one of the principal uses of lacquer will be abandoned. Much of the alleged "Scotch" and other "imported" brands of "whisky" being purchased today by persons who want to be devilish by drinking hard liquor, is alcohol, of a sort, obtained by redistilling lacquer. Mr. Raskob, one of the important factors in the huge DuPont corporation, would close a large field for the sale of lacquer products should present day bootlegging methods be wiped out.

After January 1, according to a ruling of the Public Health Council of Massachusetts, pasteurization of milk containing more than 750,000 bacilli per cubic centimeter, will be forbidden on milk to be sold in this state. So when you receive milk next year, just count the bacilli in it.

Now that the head of General Motors is Al Smith's right hand man in the contest for the Presidency, it is quite probable that Henry Ford will come out for Hoover. It is certainly unselfish for Mr. Raskob to urge a

Save The Children From Serious Harm

2000 Booklets With Safety Stories
To Be Distributed in Newton

The serious record of children's fatalities on the highway last July, when automobiles killed 28 in the State, has caused the Massachusetts Safety Council to call upon the cities of the metropolitan area to put over a two months summer safety drive on the playgrounds. The August fatalities last year were reduced to 17, and few of them occurred in the cities carrying on the playground safety campaign. The plan to start this earlier during the present season will, it is hoped, get the situation well in hand during the present month.

Mayor Edwin O. Childs was one of the first to respond to the call for an inter-city campaign, and 2000 booklets, "Eight New Safety Stories," bearing the Newton imprint, have been issued this week for use here. They will be sent into homes whose children make use of the playground, and a banner will also be awarded each week to the playground showing the best increase in attendance. There are other features that will also be introduced, and an appeal will be made to motorists, passing through Newton on their way to Boston, to keep their speed down to reasonable mileage, especially on streets where pedestrians are attempting to cross.

Fireman Detective Captures Burglar

Hoseman Enegess Surprises False
Key Worker in Tremont Street House

Thomas W. Enegess, dean of Engine 1's crew, displayed detective ability and courage last Friday when he captured Harold Drummond, 37, of 414 Second street, South Boston, as the latter was attempting to enter the home of Crowley at 240 Tremont street, Newton. Enegess, who had been home to dinner at his house, 229 Tremont street, was waiting for an electric car to return to the fire station, when he observed Mrs. Crowley hasten from her home and board a Boston bound car. Just after she departed, Enegess saw a man, who had been walking along Tremont street, go to the rear of the Crowley house and disappear. The fireman decided that the circumstance looked suspicious and started to investigate. Walking towards the house he inquired of a couple of carpenters who were working in the next dwelling as to the number of persons in the Crowley family. Being told that the family consisted of but Mr. and Mrs. Crowley, Enegess went to the back entrance of 240 and found the door open a few inches. He entered the vestibule and could hear someone trying to unlock a door upstairs at the flat occupied by the Crowleys.

Walking stealthily up the stairs,

Newton Men Honored By Governor Fuller

Mr. Harriman and Prof. Owen on Charles River Basin Committee

The special Charles River Basin committee, created under a resolve of the Legislature this year to "provide means and methods of making the Charles River Basin more safe, suitable and attractive for recreation," organized recently at the offices of the division of metropolitan planning, 44 School street, Henry I. Harriman, chairman of the division of metropolitan planning, was elected chairman, and Edwin H. Rogers, secretary of the metropolitan planning board, was named secretary.

There was a general discussion of the problem, after which the chairman was directed to have preliminary sketches made as the result of suggestions at the first meeting. Later it is planned to hold public meetings.

Gov. Fuller recently appointed Prof. George Owen of M. I. T., James W. Rollins, Henry Parkman, Jr., and Arthur A. Shurtleff, all of Boston, to serve with Mr. Harriman as the special commission.

Enegess surprised the shabbily dressed individual he had seen. The latter straightened up from his efforts to open the lock and was asked by Enegess, "What are you doing here?" The intruder replied that "he was going to inspect the flat with the idea of renting it." Enegess asked the man to tell his name and address and the suspect stated that his name was Brown and that he was a furniture mover by occupation. The fireman detective commented that furniture movers ordinarily do not rent $85 apartments and placed "Brown" under arrest. The latter then admitted his name was not "Brown" and pleaded to be released. Upon emerging from the semi-darkness of the house onto the street, the captive discovered that the uniform worn by his captor was that of a fireman and not a policeman, and as Enegess started to march him along Tremont street, he commenced to struggle in an effort to escape.

As Enegess was pushing the captive along Tremont street, the carpenters who had been working nearby called out and beckoned him back. Upon returning with "Brown," the carpenters handed Enegess several skeleton keys used by thieves to enter houses. The carpenters had observed "Brown" slyly dropping them onto the ground as he had been taken from the Crowley house by Enegess. The latter halted a passing autoist and sent word to Traffic Officer Ray Taffe at Nonantum square. Taffe hastened to Tremont street in an automobile and took the captive into custody. The latter then gave his real name and address and was found to have a long criminal record. He had been arrested for breaking and entering, for committing indecent assaults, had served time in the Concord Reformatory and had been paroled from that place last April, his probation period extending until 1932. Taffe observed Drummond tearing a leaf out of a small note book and dropping it on the ground. Upon being recovered, this leaf was found to have written on it a number of house and telephone addresses.

Drummond was in the Newton Court Saturday on the charges of attempted breaking and entering, and of having burglars' tools in his possession. Judge Bacon held him in $2000 bonds for the Grand Jury. The judge commended Enegess, saying, "Mr. Enegess, you are entitled to the thanks of the community."

TRUCK RUNS OVER MAN'S HEAD

Monday afternoon at 4:45 Joseph Esposito of 194 Adams street, Newton, employed as a laborer by the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway ran from the sidewalk on Washington street, West Newton, opposite Play-ers Hall, and attempted to jump on a truck owned by the Middlesex & Boston and operated by Martin Tracey of Warren street, West Newton. Elected President Of Boston Chamber

Mr. H. I. Harriman Honored By A Re-election to Former Office

Henry I. Harriman of Centre street, Newton, was unanimously elected president of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, at a meeting of the board of directors this afternoon. Mr. Harriman served as president in 1917, 1918 and 1919, and long has been closely identified with all the chamber's activities.

Mr. Harriman is chairman of the board of the New England Power Company. He has been closely identified with development of waterpower and manufacturing in New England since his graduation from Wesleyan University in 1895 and from the law school of New York University in 1897. He is an officer of many public utility organizations, particularly in the power field.

In the civic development of the community Mr. Harriman for years has been a consistent worker. He is chairman of the Metropolitan Planning Board and, as such, has helped to bring about the construction of the Northern and Southern arteries. He also has taken a prominent part in the effort to solve problems confronting the Boston Elevated.

TAX RATE HIGHER

In all probability the tax rate of Newton for this year will be at least $28, and it may be higher than this figure. Comptroller White is preparing estimates for the Finance Committee of the Aldermen so that the Board can determine how much money can be appropriated for various projects.

Newton Rotary Club Hears Wilbur Thompson

Newton Rotarian Visits Yellowstone Park and the West

Mr. G. Wilbur Thompson, one of the prominent members of the Club, was the speaker last Monday at the weekly luncheon held at the Woodland Golf Club.

Mr. Thompson, who attended the recent convention of Rotary International at Minneapolis, extended his trip so as to include the Yellowstone Park and other points of interest in the West.

Mr. Thompson stated that "pen nor tongue cannot describe the park" which covers 3700 square miles and has many wild animals roaming about without restraint. He entered the park from the Gardiner entrance and had time enough before dark to visit the hot springs and Mammoth terraces.

The next day a ride of 35 miles brought the party to Old Faithful Inn for a full day's stay with opportunity to witness many of the geysers in operation, including the reliable Old Faithful which plays a stream 150 feet in the air every hour. At the Lake Hotel, an opportunity to fish was too tempting to refuse and the 13 trout secured made a delicious breakfast. The last night in the park was spent at the Grand Canyon, with an escort of bears begging candy all the way over.

Mr. Thompson was much interested in Utah and said it was very rich in natural resources including silver and copper. One of the copper mines is said to be the largest in the world producing 25,000 tons a day. Five million tons of bituminous coal are mined yearly only 35 miles from Salt Lake City. There are mountains of limestone, and unlimited quantities of potash, gypsum phosphate rock, asphalt, cement, lime, sulphuric acid, fire clay, brick clay, petroleum and mineral waters. The Great Salt Lake produces 400,000 barrels of salt annually.

Mr. Thompson also visited Colorado Springs and Chicago on his homeward trip.

Newton Girl Scouts At Camp Mary Day

Summer Work at Camps Greatly Enjoyed by Groups of Girls

A new group of Girl Scouts have entered Camp Mary Day for the second jolly encampment of the summer. Work on scout projects goes on apace under the able leadership of Miss Caroline Freeman, director for Newton and her assistants Miss Mildred Lovejoy, and Miss Dorothy Colby. Counsellors for this encampment are Miss Grace Williams of Upper Falls, Miss Louise Lovejoy of West Newton, Miss Florence Hills of Newtonville, a former scout in Troop 10, now in training at the Newton Hospital, Miss Ruth Houghton, of Watertown, for several years assistant dietitian at the camp, and also training for the nursing profession at the New England Baptist Hospital; Eleanor Collins of Troop 21, Newton Highlands, and Elsa Brandt of Troop 15, West Newton.

On Saturday, July 21, a group of Girl Scouts from the South Side of the city are going on a day time hike to camp. A program of sports and swimming has been planned by the girls already in camp for the hikers. Anne Kendall of Troop 3, Newton Centre, was given the silver pin for Camp Spirit on the last Friday evening of the last encampment. This is an honor which is given to one girl in each encampment of the summer, voted to her by the girls themselves.

An officers' training camp for Girl Scout officers of New England is being conducted at Pine Tree Camp, Long Pond, Plymouth, by the Regional Director, Miss Ruth Hedlund. Assisting her is Miss Margaret Gould, of Newton Upper Falls, Field Captain for the Eastern Division of Massachusetts. Sixty odd leaders are taking this course, among them Mrs. Duane White, Captain of Troop 4, Waban, and Mrs. Duncan Wright, Captain of Troop 24, Waban.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

HOME RUN WINS FOR SAXONY MILLS

Opening games in the Newton Twi-League this week Monday and Wednesday were featured by that on Wednesday night at Victory Field, No-nantum, when a home run with two runners on the bases by Phil Forsyth, former Y. M. C. A., and Boston Twi-league player, in the latter inning of the game gave the Saxony team a 6 to 5 victory. The other game of the week, that on Monday night was won by Lower Falls by a 10 to 4 score over Newton Highlands. Thus the two new teams in the league with line-ups containing the names of many former and present Newton High School athletes seem to have brought new life into the circuit. The other three teams, Upper Falls, Newton Highlands, and West Newton will find the competition keener than it has been in the past and more interest is thus assured.

The Saxony Mills team is being managed by Tommy Gilligan, former Newton High and Exeter Academy athlete now at Harvard. He has apparently gathered together a strong aggregation and has hopes of winning a leg on the Graphic cup. Previous winners were the Newton Catholic Club in 1926 and Newton Upper Falls in 1927.

For pitchers the Saxony team has "Jakey" Pass and Bob Pickard, both former Newton High twirlers of note. Pickard attended Hebron Academy this past year where he excelled in baseball and hockey. Pass has pitched for the Newton Pals and at Waltham the past few summers. He was on the mound against Upper Falls Wednesday night.

Harold Andres, Dartmouth freshman and a former Newton High three sport star, is playing first base. Andres won numerals at Dartmouth this past year in football, hockey and baseball. He is also an excellent catcher, that being his position while at Newton high and should Gilligan be injured would be able to fill the bill creditably.

Butler, former Newton Pal, is at shortstop and Johnny Mullen, Newton High athlete, is on third. The outfield is made up of Rooney and Forsyth, former Boston Twi-league players and Phil Andres, younger brother of Hal and also the catcher on this year's championship Newton High nine.

With Gilligan, who while in high school was noted for his baseball head as much as for his playing ability, handling the reins the Saxony team should make the going rough for the other league members.

HILL AND JOHNSON WIN NEW ENG. TITLE

Malcolm T. Hill and Henry S. Johnson, Waban youths and cousins, added two more doubles titles to their long string on Sunday by winning the New England sectional doubles and Rhode Island State championships. In the past few years they have won the national indoor junior doubles championship three times and the outdoor title once. Sunday they served an impressive straight set victory over John H. Doe and John Wheatley in the finals at the Agawam Hunt, 6-4, 6-4, 6-2.

The Waban pair completely outplayed their opponents in every department of the game except the service where Doe was the star. They took and held the net most of the time thus enabling them to make kill after kill for many points. Saturday they had defeated the intercollegiate doubles champions Ralph McElvenny and Allan Herrington of Stamford University who were seeded first in the tourney. Hill and Johnson were seeded third.

The clock work play of the local youths gave them the lead over their California rivals all the way in the first and third sets. Only once were the Westerners dangerous and that in the second set when they led 2-1, 3-2, 4-3. Hill and Johnson then ran off the remaining games and set with only the last game going to deuce.

This week Hill and Johnson are entered in the doubles tournament at Longwood where they are favored with a high ranking. They won their Greatest advance in motoring comfort since balloon tires...

STUDEBAKER'S Ball Bearing Spring "Shackles"

In these new cars a patented invention at last solves a problem that has long baffled automotive engineers.

Every motorist knows the importance of spring shackles—those joints or hinges which form the connecting link between body and axles. Engineers have sought to reduce friction to a minimum at these vital joints—to make them flexible yet firm and uniform in action—to make them noiseless—to reduce the necessity for frequent lubrication.

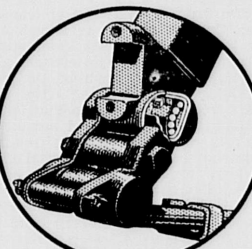

All these objectives have now been attained in Studebaker cars.

So revolutionary is this sensational innovation that the word "shackles," with its implication of restricted movement, is no longer applicable. The incessant action and reaction between body and axles is now carried by 172 steel balls rolling in lubricant—no binding, no squeaks, no rattles, no sideway. Instead, smooth, silent resiliency, an undeviating uniformity of action and an enduring buoyancy that will keep your Studebaker young.

In place of complicated centralized systems for oiling and greasing, each ball bearing spring "shackle" contains, sealed within it, ample lubricant to last for more than twenty thousand miles.

Come ride in a new Studebaker today. Thrill to its champion performance. See rare new beauty of line and color. Then compare Studebaker's new low One-Price prices—the triumph of 76 years' manufacturing experience!

At last... ball bearing spring shackles... the secret of the remarkable riding comfort of the new Studebakers.

they advanced still further by running from Wheelwright and Dawson
7-5, 7-5.

Another former local athlete,

first round by the New York pair,
Fred Mercer and Frank Shields.

In the Longwood hand singles both Johnson and Hill were put out before the finish of the third round. John-the youthful New Yorker, who won a hard fought match 7-5, 6-4. Hill reached the third round by defeating G. A. D'Arcy in the first round and F. L. Luce in the second. John Doe, holder of one leg on the bowl was Hill's opponent in the third round.

The Waban youth made it a four set match by winning the second set.
Doe's margin was 6-4, 2-6, 6-0,

SPORT NOTES

Lower Falls Nosed Out

The Ailton Collegians nosed out a 2 to 1 win over Newton Lower Falls at the Grove St. playground Sunday with Kelley holding the locals to four hits. Cooney, Lower Falls first baseman, scored the solitary run after rapping out a two base hit. He also got a single. Mal Hemeon, former Newton High and Cushing Academy athlete, played centrefield for Lower Falls and made one of the local's hits.

Hunnefeld Out With Injuries

Bill Hunnefeld, Chicago White Sox second baseman, and a local product, has been out of the game for the past week with slight injuries. Prior to being forced to rest the former Saxony star was putting up a great game not only in the field, where he has always been a steady performer, but with the bat. He boosted his average into the .300 class by several points margin. Apparently the recent wire he received telling him that he is the father of a baby daughter hastened his return to the line-up.

NEWTON VS SALEM

Strum, Jacob Cantor and Arthur
Marshall, all of Burr Playground, George Billings and Allan Rust of

Y. M. C. A.

The first three weeks of the nine week season at Camp Frank A. Day has passed and most of the boys who signed up for the first three week period wish they had made reservations for the whole season and are reluctant to return home. Arrangements have been made for most of them to remain at the camp for another three weeks. Among those who want to camp last Wednesday are: R. Ohler, R. Maynard, R. Snow, G. Lamb, C.
Steinbeck, R. Fogarty, W. Hutchinson,
H. Mellus, H. Sebring, W. Fish, A.
Young, D. Cotting, C. Harris, V. Haven, H. Hesse, D. Jordan, A. Maddock, H. Shaw, and E. Meissner.

The second group of boys sent out by the City Missionary Society were entertained at the Y. M. C. A. on Thursday. These boys came from churches in Jamaica Plain and Charlestown. The Y. M. C. A. as usual is entertaining these groups during July and August. First the boys use the playground and then a swim in the pool before dinner. After dinner there is singing and motion pictures and another swim just before they return to Boston.

Mr. Richard B. Simmons has returned from his vacation, having been visiting relatives in Holyoke and Springfield.

Some interesting trips have been taken by the boys under the leadership of Mr. Thompson, Assistant Boys' Work Secretary. On Friday they are planning to visit the Museum of Natural History and on the 23rd the ice cream factory. The boys are hoping that the day will be warm and they will get plenty of ice cream.

By Edw. H. Powers

Hoseman "Tom" Eneagess of Engine 1 should get a week or two extra vacation for the keenness and courage he displayed in capturing the false-key worker who was attempting to enter a residence on Tremont street. Eneagess took a considerable chance when he crept, unarmed, up a back stair to seize the fellow who had a bad criminal record.

The maple trees which have been making a valiant effort to grow along Washington street are apparently losing in the struggle. Many of these trees have been attacked by a fungus which blights the leaves, causing them to wilt. The Forestry Department has been combating this blight by spraying the trees with a Bordeaux mixture, but, to effectively overcome the fungus, the trees throughout the city should be sprayed with oil while dormant. To accomplish this more thorough method requires much more money than the Forestry Department has at its disposal. Apart from the blighting fungus, the shade trees planted along Washington street are severely handicapped in their fight for life. The huge locomotives of the Boston & Albany railroad belch forth volumes of soft coal smoke which contains carbonic-acid gas. This gas is very injurious to vegetation and it works havoc with the foliage on the trees nearby.

A traffic signal of some description should be placed on Washington street opposite Jewett street. Many automobile accidents, including several fatal ones, have occurred at this place. It is very well lighted, a powerful arc light being located at the corner of Washington and Jewett streets, and a large incandescent light across Washington street at the Church street bridge. But, these lights have no effect on the speeders who whiz along Washington street. A trap should be set frequently at this place to catch the speeders.

The flashing traffic signal which was installed some weeks ago at the intersection of Watertown and Walnut streets, Newtonville, was made by the General Electric Company. It is attractively designed and mechanically well constructed. But, for the purpose it was installed at this particular spot, it is anything but effective. This signal, like similar signals, erected at dangerous street intersections is supposed to cause motorists travelling on the less travelled of the two streets to bring their machines to a stop before crossing; it is supposed to cause motorists on the heavier travelled street to slow down. The signal at the intersection of Watertown and Walnut streets does not do much of either. It is a quick flashing signal with a rather small sized lamp. Two of the glass sides of this lamp, facing Walnut street, are colored a pinkish red and are lettered "Stop." The two glass sides of the lamp facing Watertown street are colored a pale yellow and are lettered "Caution." So small are the letters that the operator of an automobile cannot read them until he gets within a few feet of the signal. The result is—that this signal is failing to accomplish the purpose for which it was intended and the several hundreds of dollars paid for it have been ineffectively spent to date.

The traffic signals for use at the intersection of Walnut and Washington streets, Newtonville, and at the intersection of Lexington street and Commonwealth avenue, Auburndale, are finally in position. They were ordered last February from the General Electric Company.

In former years if one wished to acquire publicity, if one desired to have his or her likeness prominently displayed in newspapers, one testified that Blank's Sarsaparilla, Yellow's Nervura, Alkiruna, Lydia Gypem's Compound—or some other "medicine" had wrought a wonderful cure. Now, if one desires to get "free," or subsidized publicity, one commands some highly advertised brand of cigarettes. A certain brand of "fags" appears to have the peculiar faculty of tasting like nectar when some blindfolded celebrity smokes it.

How much longer will the placing of the oft promised traffic tower in Nonantum square be delayed? For several years the authorities delayed asking for or making an appropriation for this tower because they believed the business men of Newton Corner would "dig down into their jeans" and pay for this much needed traffic aid. But, the merchants had troubles enough of their own without paying for traffic signals and towers. The first of this year the Traffic Committee of the Board of Aldermen reported to the Board that "a traffic tower should be placed at Nonantum square." The Edison Company in conjunction with the General Electric Company furnished plans and estimates for the tower. The tower, with its auxiliary lights and the work thereon, will cost $2700 according to the estimate submitted. Street Commissioner Stuart is ready to ask for the appropriation. It is hoped that the Aldermen will, without further delay appropriate money to buy a tower and its equipment from some concern prepared to provide it promptly.

A number of street intersections in Newton are not wide enough to allow for the placing of traffic signals in the roadway without seriously interfering with traffic. It has been suggested that at such places traffic signals be suspended in mid-air. This suggestion met with opposition because it is contended that signals in mid-air are dangerous and the Edison Company is opposed to them. Notwithstanding the objection of the Edison Company, such signals are in common use in many cities throughout this country. We observed at least one of them at the principal street intersection in Pittsfield, the home of one of the large plants of the General Electric Company. Traffic signals placed at street corners are difficult to see and impracticable. Strangers do not notice them, and motorists who are aware of their presence cannot see them when they are hidden by other automobiles in front.

Much abuse was heaped upon Germany and the Germans because of the late war, but it must be acknowledged that the Germans do something better than the people of other nations. Ridicule was cast upon the "Verboten" laws of Germany which inflicted penalties on residents of that land who did things which militated against public welfare, which caused discomfort to others, which offended those who have consideration for their neighbors and who desire some consideration from their neighbors. The United States and its sub-divisions, might well, and probably will someday, copy some of the "Verboten" laws of Germany.

One such law in force in certain German cities empowers policemen to impose a fine, on the spot, on any person detected throwing rubbish of any kind onto a street. The policeman makes the offender pay a small fine, and gives a receipt. Such fines might well be imposed on those who commit minor offences against our automobile laws.

There is no good reason why this community should be bothered with flies. These dangerous pests, which spread disease breed in filth. With the passing of the horse Newton has few stables. In years past there were many stables in Newton and manure piles were the breeding places of countless millions of flies. Today, about the only places where these disease spreaders can breed in this city are—dirty garbage cans. It never occurs to some persons to regularly clean the garbage can with hot water and soap. Some persons realize that this task is necessary, but they refrain from performing it because it is disagreeable. They seem to prefer to allow their garbage cans to become filthy incubators of flies. Such persons would become quite incensed if a neighbor should make a complaint to the Board of Health. But, in their method of philosophy, it is quite all right for their garbage cans to stench the neighborhood and jeopardize others' health and comfort.

Governor Fuller should be commended for vetoing the bill passed by a very generous Legislature which exempted from license fees hawkers of bakery, dairy and meat products. These vendors of food articles compete with store keepers who must pay heavy rents. Why should the store keepers, who assist materially in defraying the running expenses of the communities where they do business by paying taxes (either directly or through rents) be handicapped by special favors being granted to competitors who do not materially assist in paying public expenses?

Debt-Paying in China Has Humorous Side

Many amusing tales are told of difficulties arising in China from the ancient custom which decrees that each man must pay his debts before the sun rises on New Year's morning. Practically every person in China owes some one else, all transactions being conducted on the basis that one may evade paying one's debts until the new year, and it is not a Chinese trait to pay a bill until payment has been requested at least twice. This accounts for the frantic haste in which the men rush here and there trying at once to collect debts and avoid creditors.

If one cannot meet his financial obligations he must secure a new loan from another person, and as there is no law, he may be forced to pay as high as 50 per cent or more interest. To dun a debtor on New Year's day is not considered good form; hence it is not uncommon to see an anxious creditor carrying a lantern in broad daylight, seeking to find his debtor, on the assumption that, because of his carrying a light, it is still the night before.

Happy is the man who can outwit his creditors during the last precious hours of the old year, for he may then sail along in peaceful, undisturbed waters for another year.—Inez Marks Lowdermilk, in the Dearborn Independent.

Dog Formally Tried for Stealing Chicken

Today the satirists have plenty to wear themselves out on, but one thing that does not annoy them is the trial of dogs for committing the crime of stealing chickens. Racine, the great French poet and dramatist, whom we loosely think of today as a placid soul living in a placid age, satirized such a trial in his day.

He portrayed the case of a dog accused of stealing and eating a capon which had been scheduled to adorn somebody's dinner table. Racine paints a ludicrous picture in his play, "Les Malheurs," which means the attorneys, literally "plunders," of the dog before the court. The lawyers are as windy as ever they should be in such a case. The judge is doggedly intent on impartiality. The dog is condemned to the gallies, although what he would do in the gallies is a subject of wonder. Perhaps he was sentenced to be a mascot. But the lawyer for the dog hits upon the idea of bringing before the court the dog's sons and daughters, a litter of puppies, "poor children that would be rendered orphans." The judge is touched by this scene, for he also has children. The outcome of the case is not related. Probably the dog was "simply knocked on the head."—Kansas City Star.

Ring Fingers

For many centuries wedding rings were worn on the thumb, and even as late as the reign of George I it was the rule for brides, although the wedding ring was placed on the finger now customary, to remove it, after the ceremony to the thumb. Ecclesiastical admonitions, however, had the effect of bringing that somewhat queer custom to an end.

It is a pretty belief, but incorrect, that the fourth finger of the left hand was chosen for the ring finger because from that vein ran directly to the heart. The choice was for practical reasons—to save the ring from unnecessary usage. That also is the reason for the ring being worn on the left hand.

Harvesting Almonds

But few people realize the trouble taken in the cultivation of almonds. They are the most important crop of the island of Malorca, where many varieties are cultivated, and the industry is so prosperous that as old olive trees die they are replaced by almonds.

When the almonds are almost ripe they are knocked off the branches by long bamboo poles and then picked up by women and children. The nuts are separated from the husks after drying, and the shells are then broken by hand or machinery and the kernels extracted.

Real Womanhood Admired

I know a woman who is naturally thoroughly feminine, and has many of those gentle qualities which make men marvel. Sufferage has changed her somewhat; she has heard about her wrongs until she believes she has wrongs. In addition, she is a spinster, and somehow holds the men responsible for that. Still, she has frequent flashes of beautiful natural womanhood, and the men love to hang around and admire her. There is nothing the men admire so much as real womanhood; nothing they so much dislike as the new flapper type. —E. W. Howe's Monthly.

Insects in Disguise

There are beetles that pretend to be wasps, and plenty of flies that try to palm themselves off as unsavory ants. There is even a spider that assumes the appearance of an ant. At first sight it would seem that the possession of eight legs would be a bar to the disguise, but, when occasion requires, up goes the front pair of legs as counterfeited antennae. Instances might be multiplied. One South American fly which happens to be first-class eating goes about under a shield fashioned in the appearance of a highly indigestible ant.

Put Implicit Faith in Flower "Oracles"

Perhaps the most familiar of all ways of consulting fate by means of a flower is the pulling off of the petals. But this is not the only way. An American in England, visiting an ancient and remote country inn, one day missed her way in rambling corridors and entered by mistake the bedroom of her pretty chambermaid. The girl was there, changing her dress, and she offered presently to guide the lady back to her apartment. In the brief wait the visitor noticed something that struck her as odd. So she asked why a certain little plant had been pinned up on the wall. "Surely it will fade unless it is put in water," she said.

"Beg pardon, ma'am, but it won't," replied the girl with pride and satisfaction in her voice. "That's a pin plant and it's been growing there a week. Every bud has opened, too. It's doing fine."

It was a pretty tuft of yellow stonecrop, starred with little golden flowers. A few questions about its uses as a "pin plant," and the girl, laughing and blushing, admitted that it was customary among the girls of the village to pin a tuft of the budded plant upon their bedroom wall as an oracle of love. If it lived feebly but did not bloom, their present love affairs would come to nothing; if it withered and died, they would meet disaster in love; but if at the end of a few days the little plant, suspended by a loosely tied thread head downward from its pin, began to curve its stems upward until they stood upright and finally the tips burst into bloom—then all was well, and they might expect to marry and live happy ever after.

Shakespeare Had to Wait for Recognition

In reading a British review of William Shakespeare's life and works, I found many interesting statements. Jack Malone observes in the Chicago Daily News. One of these depicted the "bard of Avon" as having no rating whatever with the arbiters of literary excellence—Bacon, Marlowe and Green. These critics ignored him utterly, refusing to publish any comments either pro or con, their studied silence attesting a desire to squelch an actor who presumed to intrude upon their particular field—literature.

This intensely interesting and gripping article asserted that the above trio were considered the "cream" of Elizabethan authors, with the power to make or break any upstart seeking to compete with them. So the "Immortal William" was suppressed, and during the next 100 years remained a dim legend. Then came a plea for his rehabilitation among authors of Pope's time. Shakespeare "fans" became more and more numerous, his dramas and verses were collected and read, and the habit was formed. And finally, 240 years following his death, Shakespeare's fame was secured on all time!

South Seas

The Pacific ocean was formerly known as the South sea, due to the fact that Vasco Nunez de Balboa, Spanish governor of Darien, first saw it in 1513 when looking southward. He named it "el Mar del Sur," or the "Sea of the South." Almost from the beginning, however, the English used the term in the plural form and applied it to all the waters of the southern hemisphere. In 1728, only 15 years after Balboa first beheld the Pacific, a man named Thorne wrote to Henry VIII as follows: "Ventil they come to thee, South Seas of the Indies Occidental." In English literature "South Seas" refers especially to that part of the Pacific ocean south of the equator. "The South Sea islands" is a general term designating the more remote and less civilized islands in that region.—Exchange.

Flower Names

The names of many flowers find their origin in proper nouns. Back of them there are often biographies. The beautiful Japanese flower, wistaria, discovered by Nuttall, was not named after him, but in honor of one of his scientific friends, Casper Wistar, a professor of anatomy at the University of Pennsylvania. The gentian gets its name from the Illyrian king Gentius, who was the first to discover its properties. Quassia was named after Quassi, a negro slave in Suriname, Dutch Guiana, who used his bark as a remedy for fever.—Mentor Magazine.

New Test for Diamonds

A method by which the quality of diamonds can be definitely determined and imitations detected has been discovered by M. Malaval, chemical head of the police laboratory at Lyons, in collaboration with Professor Locard. The stones are photographed under the light of ultra-violet rays filtered through a screen, sunlight being too diffused for the purpose.

Diamonds of the first water make a brilliant image, while inferior stones are merely shadows.

Not What He Meant

"Perkins," thundered the farmer to his new assistant, "I told you to get an answer to that letter I instructed you to deliver!" "Well, sir, they just wouldn't give me one. I did the best I could." "Did the best you could, eh? Well, that was a pretty little effort. If I had known a fool was going I'd have gone myself!"

Wise Governor Smith prefers a chauffeur.
Who's had a whiskey drink.
The Constitution sure allows Freedom to all who think
Or drive one's auto, should he choose.
Upon the very brink
Of bridge or cliff along the road
Nor turn his eyes a wink:
And locomotive engineers
Though boozed may run swift cars,
Or yachtsman bold presume to steer
By meter or dimmed stars
That fascinate or bear his eyes
Gazing afar or far:
While Tammany itself proves good
By life it's held so long.
Old Satan must be veriest saint.
Unless such reasoning's wrong.
Appoints a Raskob,—dripping wet,—
Who carries no umbrella.
Sharp "business man"—for th' liquor trade.
Aid customer and seller.
Smith'd have no open, bad "saloons,"
Oh no! Give each his bottle
And leave to drive thro' crowds full speed
Or open an engine's throttle!
Laws which for public safety care
His rule will cause to cease—
False promises, to catch big votes,
And every "wet" to please!
Republicans and Democrats
Together fall in line
To stop all crime, and sales of "booze."
Buy selces champagne and wine!
These one and all unitedly
Will shout and vote for Smith
The candidate with views so "broad."
What alcoholic pith!

EMBASSY THEATRE

"We Americans," featuring Patsy Ruth Miller and George Sidney, will be the feature photoplay which will be presented at the Embassy, Waltham's Wonder theatre for the first three days of next week. As if this big smash week not sufficient, Lon Chaney, in "Laugh, Clown Laugh," will be the feature film for the last half of the week. The special Sunday bill will include June Marlowe and David Torrence in "Stroke of 12," a gripping melodrama. There will be also special vaudeville. At every performance there will be five acts of star vaudeville. These acts are selected from leading talent in the country, and are shown at the Embassy through special affiliations with leading booking agents. The recital on the Kilgen organ by J. Leslie Cahill and the Embassy Grand Orchestra under the direction of Charles Hatch are two other program features, while the moonlight promenade during which free cold drinks and cigarettes are distributed is another of the many Embassy pleasures which have the theatre universally popular.

Important Ballot Change

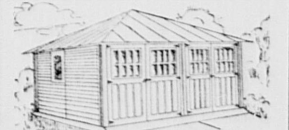

The Australian ballot was first introduced into the United States in 1888 in Kentucky.

KILGIMAN AGAIN TRIES

Jacob Kilgiman has been many times defeated in his quests for junk licenses, garage permits and permits to start a gasoline station at 456 Watertown street, Newtonville, where he owns property. Kilgiman formerly had a junk license but for some years the Aldermen have refused to renew it because people residing nearby objected to the condition of Kilgiman's premises. Despite the fact that he received no junk license, Kilgiman has had his yard well filled with junked automobiles. He promised to remove these a couple of years ago on the condition that the Aldermen would grant him a permit to build a 19 car garage and a filling station. He was refused, petitioned again, was refused again. Repeated defeats have not conquered Jacob's spirit and he has again petitioned. He will be given a public hearing next Monday night at the meeting of the Aldermen.

Conference has taken up the religious issue in connection with the coming presidential campaign, and are more than sorry that a Newton Centre clergyman is stated as saying that a Roman Catholic ought not to be elected to that high office. We also deeply regret that it is a Unitarian who takes that stand. Unitarianism has always stood for liberalism in thought and word and deed and the religion of a political candidate is the last thing liberals should consider. Governor Smith can be successfully fought on his record on prohibition and his connection with Tammany Hall. His religion is not a factor in the matter.

The Republican city committee has its work cut out if the figures of registration in ward 4 printed elsewhere are indicative of the situation in the whole city. The Republican party will need every vote at the coming presidential election and it is none too early to take an active interest in putting new names on the voting lists.

Governor Fuller honors Newton in the appointment of Mr. Henry I. Harriman as chairman and Prof. George Owen, as a member of the special Charles River Basin committee, as authorized by the Legislature. Another resident of Newton, Mr. Edwin H. Rogers is the secretary of the committee.

From the numerous suggestions of a slogan for the coming presidential campaign, we believe that "We do not choose to vote for booze" will be one of the first to catch the public fancy.

If Frank A. Goodwin was a candidate for lieutenant governor instead of governor, we have a hunch that he would be a serious factor in the final vote for that office.

POLICE NEWS

Dennis McCadden of Milford was in court Wednesday charged with speeding. His case was continued until August 3.

Louis Schwartz of 97 Dalby street, Nonantum, was fined $10 in court yesterday for speeding.

Catherine Frasca of 12 Nottingham street, Newton Centre, was in court yesterday charged with concealing leased goods. Her case was continued until July 24. The woman bought two watches and a ring from a Boston jeweler on the installment plan and she was ordered by the court either to return the goods or pay $148 due on them. She was supposed to have appeared in court Wednesday and when she failed to appear a warrant for her arrest was issued and it was served on her yesterday morning by Inspector Goode.

Henry Lawrence of 201 Auburndale avenue, Auburndale, had a black automobile which he started to paint green a few days ago. He had put the new color on one side of the car when some thief stole it from his yard Wednesday night. If the person taking the car was unaware of the two colors on it, some hasty work must have been done to disguise the auto.

Harry Purcell of Eliot avenue, West Newton, was in court yesterday to answer a charge made by Henry Repucci, a Boston taxi operator, that Purcell had refused to pay a taxi fare. As Repucci failed to appear, Judge Bacon found the defendant not guilty.

Martin Whalen of 246 Derby street, West Newton, was in court Wednesday as a result of a collision between Cherry and Derby streets, West Newton, on Tuesday night between a car driven by Peter Casella of 320 Cherry street, and a car which Casella and several witnesses presented by him claim was driven by Whalen. After the crash occurred Whalen was arrested at the scene on the charge of drunkenness by Patrolmen Halloran and Kelly. He denied Casella's accusation that he was driving the other car and demanded a hearing before any complaint should be issued on the charge of driving while under the influence of liquor. The hearing was held Wednesday morning in the office of Clerk of Court Sprague. Casella appeared with three witnesses and Whalen expressed his opinion of their veracity in such terms that he was ejected from the clerk's office by Inspector Goode. The complaint was then issued. The case was continued until July 26.

People residing in the vicinity of 107 Pine street, West Newton, complained to the police early Sunday morning that their slumbers were being disturbed by a riotous party at that address. Serg. Moan with Patrolmen Goodale and Lyons hastened to the scene and from the appearance of things a "real good time" had been had by all. Windows in the house were broken, furniture was askew and a couple of the five gentlemen who had participated in the party were in need of repairs and had to be treated by Dr. Lowe after they had been escorted to Police Headquarters. According to neighbors, some ladies, who had been at the affair, departed before the arrival of the police. Among those present, arrested charged with drunkenness and disturbing the peace, were—Cyrus Kenniston, who is the occupant of the house; Norman Lincoln, John P. O'Rourke and Francis O'Rourke, the latter three giving their residence as B street, South Boston. Kenniston and Lincoln were somewhat cut and bruised and Dr. Lowe was called upon to aid them. The fifth member of the party, fortunately for him, was so sleepy that when the police arrived, he was snoring audibly. He merely was arrested for drunkenness. This gentleman also gave his address as B street, South Boston. In court Monday Lincoln was adjudged the chief offender, sentenced to serve three months in jail on the disturbance charge, and fined $15 for drunkenness. He appealed. Kenniston was fined $25 for disturbance and $15 for drunkenness; the O'Rourkes were each fined $25 for disturbance and $15 for drunkenness.

World News Made Up of Wheat and Chaff

Do not be distressed overmuch by news of evil. This is a wide, wide world. It contains much that is bad, but more that is good. Righteousness is slowly, but surely, triumphing over sin.

If you do not believe that, or merely have not realized it, turn for a moment to contemplation of happier things. Turn your tired eyes from the day's record of evil to the day's golden roll of honor. There is more of good news than of bad news today, every day. There is more to see on the sunny side, and it is more worth seeing.

There are only two reasons for gazing at ugly things: either that we may more fully know evil when we meet it, even in gilded robes; or that we may grapple with it and blot it out.

Broad highroads of honor lead to every worthy goal of life. The mud roads are in the lowlands, leading only to dissolution and corruption. If we travel the mud road it is at our own volition.

Sin is not the harvest of life. It is the chaff threshed from the wholesome grain and will be swept from the threshing floor. Why look upon the chaff when the grain is there?

If some days the volume of chaff seems greater than others, know that the threshing has been more thorough. This is a wide, wide world, and full of sweetness for those who would find it.—Helena (Mont.) Record-Herald.

Proof That Octopus Must Have "Purchase"

Experiments have been made in a specially devised tank in order to test the truth of many stories told of octopi attacking human beings and dragging them to the sea bottom.

In the tank with the octopus experimented with there was placed a "dummy" of the same specific gravity as a human being, and this was baited with a crab. Attracted by this tempting morsel, the octopus made for the dummy, seized it in its powerful tentacles, and tried to drag it under the water, but without success. It then went to one side of the tank, and, holding onto the edge of the glass with some of its arms, it dragged its prey beneath the surface and crushed the crab shell with its powerful jaws.

It is believed that these experiments afford proof that the octopus can drag its victims far below the surface of the water only near rocks to which it can attach its "suckers."

There is one spot in the Bay of Naples where these creatures attain a large size, and now and then a fisherman is reported missing.

Cable Construction

The Western Union says that an Atlantic cable consists of a central copper wire which carries the electric current. Around this are wound flexible copper tapes, which in case of a break in the wire would carry the current around the gap. This is wrapped with a permalloy tape whose magnetic qualities give the cable its great speed. This metallic part of the cable is first incased in a thick covering of gutta-percha, which holds the currents to their path. Around this is a wrapping of jute, which cushions the pressure of several miles of sea water. Eighteen steel armor wires surround the cushion and protect the cable from injury. The whole is incased in an outer coating or wrapping of tarred hemp cords.

A Point Problem

The chairman of a local council in Ireland was not an educated man. He was giving his account of the year's splendid work done by the council. He read the report by the medical officer of health, and quoted the death rate as 129 per thousand.

"Mr. Chairman," asked one of his opponents, thinking to make capital out of his lack of education, "what does 12 point 9 mean?"

"What does it mean?" replied the chairman, looking severely at his questioner. "It means that out of every thousand inhabitants 12 have died and 9 are at the point of death."

Pigs in Clover

In a district near Pretoria, pigsties made of marble and buildings cemented with pure white marble are quite common. Practically every kind of marble is found in this district, which is about forty square miles in extent.

The only reason that this valuable stone is not exploited is because of the lack of transport. The railway does not extend near the district. Stone equal to the best Parian marble could be quarried there if the problem of transport could be solved.

Word to the Wise!

The pint-sized pooch fluttered about the hobo's heels and yapped its tiny best.

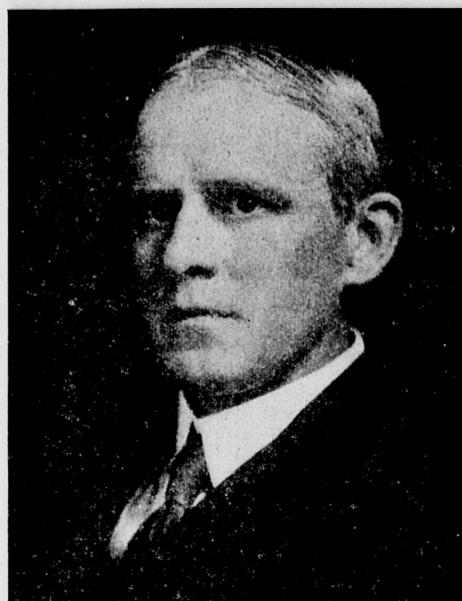

"Heh-heh! Wot good's dat dog?" "To keep off tramps," indignantly replied the nice old lady.

"Well, now, dat is a good laugh. Wot kin dat little runt do?" "He barks and wakes up the big dogs under the porch."

"Y-e-s, m-u-m, good-day, mum."

Much Good in Laughter

Laughter is to life what yeast is to bread. It is a leaven that lightens and makes palatable an otherwise soot den, lifeless mass. Don't be afraid to smile and "pep" things up a little.—Grit.

MR. HENRY I. HARRIMAN
President Boston Chamber of Commerce

By Edw. H. Powers

When will Newton fall into line and allow its policemen to dress comfortably in weather such as we have been enduring the past week? Most progressive cities permit their policemen to discard heavy coats or tunics during the summer months but Newton persists in making its policemen swelter.

Engine 1 of the Newton Fire Department has been equipped with the latest model light to make it conspicuous at night. Instead of showing revolving red lights as does Engine 4, the device of Engine 1 has four red lights which flash alternately.

Last Sunday afternoon as we crossed Harvard Bridge, we noticed an Illinois car parked on that structure with its occupants admiring the imposing view across the basin of the Charles looking towards the esplanade and Beacon Hill. This view is the most attractive feature of Boston, in the opinion of many and it is to be hoped that the contemplated development of the Charles River basin between the Harvard and West Boston bridges will not mar it.

The commission appointed to make this basin "more suitable, safe and attractive for recreation" created by the Legislature and recently appointed by Gov. Fuller, is largely composed of Newton men. Henry I. Harriman is chairman, Edwin H. Rogers, formerly City Engineer of Newton, is secretary, and of the other four members Prof. George Owen is a resident of this city.

It has come! The fad, fashion or reform which the papers stated some months ago as having originated in Hollywood is here. The young ladies are appearing unblushingly in bare legs. Before the female sex became emancipated a few years since, it was improper to refer to the lower limbs of the female sex openly. Legs of ladies were not to be exposed in public—or in homes, before persons of the opposite sex, at least in the U. S. A. or in many European countries. Long skirts were worn by practically all young—and old ladies as recently as 10 years ago. Then the vogue of shorter skirts started. As the skirts became shorter the colors of ladies' hosiery became brighter. Beige became popular and the transition to nude tints followed. Just why the ladies wanted a color that simulated uncovered legs, we do not profess to understand.

A couple of years ago stockings of "nude" shades were largely supplanted by chiffron hosiery which has become more and more diaphanous until the limbs of those wearing this type of covering became more revealed than concealed. Within the past year fish web hosiery has vied with sheer chiffron in popularity among the females who are ultra modern in taste. So, the introduction of bare legs was to be expected. That the ladies of today believe their lower limbs have more of pith and vigor than their faces, and thus should be made quite conspicuous, is an insinuation that will be quite indignantly resented by the young women who seem to be headed towards the Garden of Eden garb.

But, after hearing the comments of many males who have been compelled, against their wishes, to gaze upon the increasingly large exhibits of female limbs on our streets and in other public places, we have reached the conclusion that men think most women have more attractive faces than legs.

One of Boston's leading stores had an advertisement in the papers this week featuring "Cotton Tennis SOCKS." This advertisement contained this explanation—"No stockings! Just bare legs—and the bare legs are gloriously tanned! At least that is the way our fashion experts say the mode is carried out at our—'high style.' Don't forget the tan, though, for that is the soul of smartness—and you've no idea how stunning the effect is—and how cool the reality." How is a red headed girl, or certain types of blondes going to get tanned? They will either get sun burned, or develop a conspicuous crop of freckles.

Criticism is becoming more numerous about the growing use of the sidewalks in the districts of the city for the sale of fruits and vegetables. These criticisms are justified. The sidewalks are public property. They were constructed for the purpose of affording facilities for pedestrians to have safe and unobstructed places on which to walk. In former years sidewalks in this city were not used by store keepers for the display or sale of their wares. Now, in some parts of Newton, sidewalks are so cluttered with boxes and stands of fruit and vegetable that one might think one was on Blackstone street, Boston. Owners of markets and grocery stores who have been in business in this city for many years, for the most part do not invade the sidewalks with their wares. Most of those who have encroached on the sidewalks are newcomers, or comparative newcomers to this city; in many instances they do not reside here. By forbidding the use of public sidewalks for the display or sale of fruit, vegetables or other commodities by anyone, all merchants would be treated partially. Those who desire to make a conspicuous display of fresh fruit and vegetables can do so by adopting the method used in past years by fruit dealers in this city—have windows which can be raised and lowered. Exposing food to the rays of the sun, the dust of the street—and to strolling dogs, does not make such food more palatable. Most of the sidewalks in this city are none too wide for the purpose for which they were constructed—to furnish ample room for people to walk on.

The Community Theatre advertises that its auditorium is 15 degrees cooler than the street temperature during these hot summer days and nights. The theatre certainly is cooler. A citizen informed us he went by the theatre the other evening and observed an employee wetting the street outside the theatre with a hose. It occurred to him that if the temperature inside the theatre at that time, was 15 degrees cooler than on the street, it must have been quite cool inside the building.

We were in the City Clerk's office Wednesday when a well known Nonantum resident came in and asked for a license to permit him to fish. He was informed that such a license is good for a year and is issued in combination with a hunting license. The Nonantum resident stated that he is not a hunter and the only fishing he intends to do for the rest of this year is on a couple of days when he is going to recruit up his country. He considered the cost of the license, $2.25, unreasonable for this brief period, and thought that there should be a temporary permit issued for a nominal fee. We agreed with him and suggested as a compromise that he might buy 5 pounds of fish for 50 cents.

WHY A NEWSPAPER AD COSTS MONEY

The newspaper's stock in trade is space and one of the worst nuisances the business has to put up with is the space beggar. There are certain limits within which the home newspaper, always working for the good of the community, yields to some requests for free space, but ninety percent of the requests are unreasonable and unfair, points out an exchange in a careful analysis of a newspaper's business.

It costs a whale of a lot to produce a newspaper of high standard. Advertising, whether in ready form or display, is the article of sale by which the cost of publication is met. No one expects to go to a grocer and buy a small sack of apples and then get a peck of potatoes thrown in free, yet that very principle seems to govern among users of newspaper space.

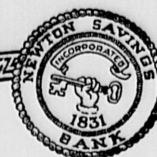

Considering that the advertising matter is our stock in trade, just what would you do if a geek came in with a little ad and then on the strength of that ad requested that you give him a half or quarter of a column free write-up in addition?

Yes, we had thought of hiring a professional barkeeper but his salary would add to our overhead, and besides, the unreasonable publicity grafter would go about proclaiming that we are tight-wads and somebody might believe it, not knowing how unreasonable the howler was.

We must have a certain volume of advertising each issue or our health is all we get out of our job—and the newspaper business was never a health-building undertaking.

He who steals our space steals from our purse. A newspaper has its own policy in regard to donation of advertising space, which it believes to be perfectly reasonable. It willingly donates space to worthy enterprises which are not self-supporting and are for the public good, and it reserves the right to determine what these shall be and what space it shall give them.

A newspaper that has its community at heart, is constantly pulling for

CITY HALL NEWS

The Mayor has appointed Kendall, Taylor and Company of Boston architects for the new fire alarm signal building which will be erected on Centre street, Newton Centre, between the Rice School and Willow street.

Henry H. Kendall of 876 Beacon street, Newton Centre, is a member of this firm.

At the meeting of the Public Works Committee on Monday night a protest was received from the Playground Department against the sale of a part of Allison Park, Nonantum, to Daniel O'Connell who wants the land to add to some property he now owns there.

Allison Park, so called, was formerly a gravel pit and later was used as a dump. At the rear of this dump, along the Charles River was a playground and swimming beach. This playground was abandoned when the city bought Victory Field a couple of years ago and converted it into playground for that section. At that time residents of the neighborhood near Allison Park asserted that the latter place was not only dangerous for playground purposes because of its proximity to the river, and its seclusion from the street, but also it was a rendezvous for immoral persons from other places than Nonantum. The Playground Department contends that there is need of retaining all of Allison Park for future playground needs of the Nonantum district.

FREE SHOW

The fourteen annual interclub meet of the Junior League of Amateur Driving Clubs will be held at the Speedway track in Brighton, Mass., on July 24, 25 and 26, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week. There will be nineteen races on the program and nearly 200 horses will compete for cups and trophies.

This announcement means that one of the greatest outdoor attractions Greater Boston ever has known will be given free to the public. Not since the palmy days of the old Readville track have more fast horses been assembled locally. The Metropolitan Driving Club is sponsoring the meet.

Many committees have been at work for weeks and their plans are now to culminate in three days of speed and fun.

Seats in the grandstand and parking space for automobiles is free. There will be band concerts each day, as well as music by singers. Tuesday will be Governor's Day, Wednesday is Mayors' Day when the mayors of several cities will be guests and Thursday is set apart in honor of members of the Metropolitan District Commission, which controls the land on which the racing plant stands.

On Monday evening at seven o'clock all competing horses, as well as all of the drivers who are to take part in the meet, will be presented to the public in a parade about the track. The Metropolitan Club extends a cordial invitation to all to be its guests during the three days.

Where Courtship Is Privilege of Woman

Not only does the Chalmers maiden in some districts of Indo-China make the proposal, but with her also lies the initiative for divorce. Moreover, when divorce occurs, which it does often, the wife retains the home, the children, and one-third of the property.

Even more favored is the girl of the "maternal kinship" tribes of Assam. She proposes, and, if he accepts, the marriage takes place and the husband must then come and live with her people. And the wife may divorce her husband when she pleases. By so doing, indeed, she gains much, for she not only keeps the children and her own property, but all her divorced husband's property as well. If a husband divorces his wife he must still surrender his entire property and the children to her.

The maiden of Ronda Porjas in southern India resorts to a severe test when selecting a husband. The chosen man has to accompany her into the jungle, where she applies fire to his bare back. If the pain draws a yell from him, he is contemptuously rejected. She takes him for husband only if he suffers in silence.

In Borneo, among the Kalabit peoples, it is always the girl who conducts the courtship.—From the Continental Edition of the London Daily Mail.

Production of Honey Important in Quebec

In the "Jesuits' Relation" dated 1638, it states the Indians used to make a decoction containing alum and honey as a remedy for typhus. The Indians called the English bee the white man's fly. It is said that the first hive was imported into America in 1638.

The first agricultural statistics of Quebec hardly date as far back as 1870. The first census showed 41,285 hives, with a total yield of 648,000 pounds of honey. In 1880 the harvest had considerably decreased, and this year gave only 550,000 pounds. The 1890 census gave 48,418 hives, with a production of 759,000 pounds. The growth for the following years was nothing short of a wonder, 1,001,000 pounds being produced by 60,968 hives. The value of honey production and hives being over $500,000.

The annual production in the province of Quebec amounts to 4,000,000 pounds of extracted honey and 300,000 pounds of comb honey.

Hessians in Revolution

"Hessians" is a term in American history for the German conscripts who were hired and sent over by England to help subdue the revolting Colonists. They came from six of the small states of Germany, but as over half of them were from Hesse-Cassel and Hesse-Darmstadt, the name "Hessians" was generally applied to them. They were first commanded by Lieut. Gen. Philip von Heister, but he was succeeded by Wilhelm von Knyphausen in 1777. They took a prominent part in the battles of Long Island, White Plains, Trenton, Bennington, Brandywine, Germantown, Guilford courthouse, Yorktown and several other smaller engagements. Of the approximate 30,000 who came over to America, only 17,000 returned to Germany. About 2,200 were killed outright or died of their wounds.

Ten Plagues of Egypt

Contrary to the popular notion, there were ten plagues of Egypt. It is a common error to speak of the "seven plagues of Egypt." The ten plagues, according to the Bible, were as follows: The turning of the Nile into blood, covering the land with frogs, turning the dust into lice, sending swarms of flies, killing the cattle by a murrain, afflicting the Egyptians with boils, raining fire and hail, covering the land with locusts, covering the land with a thick darkness for three days, and the destruction of the first born man and beast.—Exchange.

Work for the Blind

Among many remarkable pictures in the annual report of the British National Institute for the Blind, perhaps the most striking are those showing the blind engaged in world industries. A blind man is ringing coins at the royal mint; a blind woman is assembling parts of electric motors; blind workers are assembling toys; a blind girl is employed in photographic envelope folding; while blind girls wrap sweets and fold cardboard boxes.

First Thought

It was little Jacky's first experience in a train and the succession of wonders had reduced him to a state of astonishment.

When the locomotive plunged into a tunnel there came from his corner sundry grunts indicating dismay and suspicion. Then the train rushed into daylight again and a voice was lifted in profound thankfulness and wonder. "Mamma! It's tomorrow."

By Force of Habit

Jane is three years old and wise beyond her years. She is a great favorite with the grocer, who always contributes a sweetmeat on occasions that bring her to the store. Today he handed her some candy.

"What must you say to the man?" mother said, warning her daughter of the etiquette attached to the gift.

"Charge it," was the reply not new to the grocer.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER

With the absence of the President, Members of the Cabinet, Members of Congress and foreign diplomats from Washington, the capital loses some of its usual glamor. However, this summer non-voting Washington has evinced an enormous interest in politics, perhaps due to the fact that the headquarters of both political factions will be established here. For a while there was much talk and gossip concerning the possibility of a third party entering the race, but with the refusal of Senator Norris to accept the farmer-labor nomination this question has apparently passed into oblivion.

President Coolidge will probably have an opportunity to make several important judicial appointments before his term of office expires on March 4. Those closely associated with Oliver Wendell Holmes state it is his intention to resign from the United States Supreme Court next fall. Justice Holmes was elevated to the Supreme Court bench by President Roosevelt and holds the record for service, having served 26 years. If the President does appoint a successor to Justice Holmes, indications are that he will appoint one of the present members of his Cabinet. The other appointments will be made to the Supreme Court of the Philippine Islands, as reports from Manila are that two and possibly three of the American members of the Philippine high court are expected to retire within a year.

The two vacancies which now exist in the Cabinet, occasioned by the resignations of Secretary of Commerce, Hoover, and Secretary of the Interior, Work, will no doubt be filled by the President in the near future. It is rumored here that the President will appoint a man from the middle west as Secretary of the Interior, and the Secretary of Commerce will be appointed from one of the New England states. These positions will be of short duration, but are much sought after because of the prestige attached to being a Member of the Cabinet.

The Federal Trade Commission is exceptionally busy this summer, but no reports on major cases will be made until fall. They have adjourned their hearings on public utilities until fall, after examining seventy-one witnesses and taking thirty-eight volumes of testimony containing 4,877 pages. The Commission is now working on the alleged radio monopoly, their contention being that several of the larger radio companies have entered into an agreement for the cross-licensing of radio patents. Definite plans for chain store investigation by the Commission are now taking shape. The investigation will cover charges of unfair trade practices in relation with consumers, such as selling of second-quality goods under nationally advertised names which are supposed to represent first quality, particularly in canned goods.

The Secretary of Labor believes that immigration stations may do the map of the United States somewhat comparable to the network of important post offices, if airports ultimately develop as at present predicted. The Department of Labor is preparing to meet the immigration problem presented by the growth of airports where people from across the borders may land. Officials of the Labor Department believe that so far as passenger traffic is concerned no new law with respect to immigration in aircraft would be needed. The same immigration laws would be applied to passengers coming by aircraft as if they came by train, boat or automobile.

FOR SALE

FERRY'S LATEST

Youth's the time when young and merry
To buy a home of William Ferry.
And when old you'll settle down in peace.
You are now quite young and haughty
You must save before you're forty
If per chance a sum you would increase.

If you've tried this once before
Try again a little more:
Constant effort up the ladder to success
Round by round you're sure to reach it
Buy of Ferry you will preach it
Do it now, my slogan's good you'll confess.

POLICE NEWS

May McRae of West Dedham street, Boston, was arrested Tuesday morning for violation of probation by Inspector Goode. The girl was one of a party arrested some time ago for disturbing the peace when they toured several streets in Newton making much noise during the early morning hours. Each was fined $20 and the others of the party had paid their fines except the McRae girl and one of the other three girls in the party. Miss McRae, upon learning that a warrant had been issued for her arrest, came to court and paid the $10 balance which she owed on the fine.

The police of cities and towns in Greater Boston have been warned by Supt. Crowley of the Boston police to be on the watch for a shoe salesman who gave the name of Frank Cheney. Cheney has been victimizing the firemen in places about Boston by taking orders for shoes, accepting deposits of $1 from each fireman giving an order and instructing them to pay the balance of the purchase price to the Colt Shoe Company of Boston from whom the shoes were to be procured, according to Cheney. The company knew nothing of its alleged representative.

Peter Bazarian of Watertown was given a suspended sentence of two months in the House of Correction in the Newton court Friday for committing assault and battery on a young girl.

ANOTHER AUTO VICTIM

Hugh Blue, 67, of 266 Nevada street, Newtonville, an old resident of this city, was critically injured Friday night at the fatal corner, Jewett and Washington streets, Newton, where so many bad accidents have occurred. Blue was crossing Washington street at this point when he was hit by a car driven by some dastard who speeded away leaving the victim lying on Washington street. He was taken to the Newton Hospital and found to have several broken ribs as well as internal injuries.

DOGS ORDERED RESTRAINED

Mrs. George Wilson of 132 Harvard street, Newtonville, was ordered by the police on Wednesday to restrain her dog. A complaint has been made that the animal was disturbing the neighborhood by barking.

Tony DeMatis of 332 Boylston street, Newton Centre, complained to the police on Wednesday that he had been bitten by a dog owned by George Kennedy of 361 Commonwealth avenue, Newton Centre. The dog was ordered restrained.

A PUBLIC PERFORMANCE OF SCHUBERT'S "ROSAMUNDE"

The revival of Schubert's opera, "Rosamunde," at the Levi F. Warren Junior High School, Washington street, Auburndale, on Tuesday evening, July 31st, at 8:00 o'clock, will be the first performance of the opera since 1823. It will be given in concert form by soloists, chorus, ballet, and orchestra of the American Institute of Normal Methods, which holds its annual summer session at Lasell Seminary, Auburndale. The program will be devoted to Schubert's works, because throughout the world, the 100th anniversary of his death is being observed with performances of many of his most important compositions.

This program is the third annual music festival to which the people of the Newtons have been cordially invited. In 1926 the program was a performance of "Hör' Novissima," under the direction of the late Emil Mollenhauer. Last year the Beethoven program was conducted by Francis Findlay, Director of the Department of Public School Music at the New England Conservatory, and the Schubert program this year will be under his direction.

Family Suicide

There is much less danger for the future of the race in overpopulation than in our present system of birth control for the unfit and unlimited procreation for the fit. There is practically no danger of race suicide, but there is great danger of family suicide. The human race will go on for millions of years, but it is certain that some of our finest and best families will leave no descendants and have no part in the future of America. Anonymous Author in Harper's Magazine.

NEWTON HELPING TO SAVE LIVES

The past few weeks have been recorded in New England an unusually large number of drownings. During some week ends deaths by drowning have exceeded deaths from automobile accidents. If all communities would make the effort to instruct both young and old in the art of swimming and in the knowledge of resuscitating persons who have been in danger of death from immersion, the death toll from drowning would be appreciably lessened. Instructions in life-saving are being regularly given at Crystal Lake, Newton Highlands, and at the swimming beach at Auburndale. These instructions are under the auspices of Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross and are supervised by Director of Playgrounds Ernst Hermann.

JOHN J. BRADLEY

John J. Bradley of 75 Smith avenue, West Newton, died on Tuesday as a result of injuries a few weeks ago when he was crushed between an automobile and a tree. He was born in this city 29 years ago, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Bradley of Craft street. He is survived by his widow and one son, his parents, four brothers and four sisters. His funeral was held this morning at St. Mary's Church, Waltham. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery.

"200 POISONED BY IMPURE FOOD"

The above startling headlines in the Boston papers on Tuesday told of 200 men in Somerville and Charlestown having been made violently ill and carried to hospitals after eating tainted food furnished them in box lunches supplied by a chain restaurant concern.

The health authorities state that during this hot weather people must use especial care regarding the food they eat. Do you buy your food largely on a price consideration—or do you safeguard your health by purchasing pure food from stores where cleanliness and proper care in handling and delivering assure you receiving untainted food?

About one hundred and fifty years ago, Nathan Hale, one of America's immortal heroes, left this small schoolhouse, where he was teaching, to fight for his country. He served under Washington as a spy, and was caught by the enemy while trying to learn their maneuvers. He was executed and thereby won immortality.

YOUNGMAN A CANDIDATE

The committee formed to secure the nomination of Hon. William Sterling Youngman, present State Treasurer, for Lieutenant Governor by the Republican Party at the primary election to be held September 18, has issued a statement announcing his candidacy:

"Mr. Youngman is fifty-six years old. Beginning at 17 he was for two years the principal breadwinner of his family, yet he managed to complete his course in high school. He earned his way through college and the law school by working on the railroad and on a steamboat. After graduation he returned to Harvard to become an instructor in American history and government. As a Boylston speaker, a debater and an oarsman, he won the friendship of the late James J. Storrow, also a rowing man, and was employed in his law office.

"Mr. Youngman was in the general practice of law until he was elected State Treasurer. He has acted as trustee of important estates. He was executive officer of the State commission which constructed the Charles River Dam and Basin, 1904-1910; member of the Constitutional Convention 1917; State Senator 1923-1924; elected State Treasurer in 1924 by a plurality of 251,000 votes, re-elected in 1926.

His committee consists of Charles Francis Adams, Concord, Chairman; Matthew P. Whittall, Worcester, Vice-Chairman; Capt. W. Bruce Pirnie, Springfield, Treasurer, and Hayward P. Rolfe of Newton, secretary and on representative from each county. The Women's Committee consists of Mrs. James J. Storrow, Boston, Mrs. Frank F. Dresser, Worcester, Mrs. Addington Bruce, Cambridge.

DOES IT PAY?

Advertising has made the Victrola dog famous.

It has made the cash register a big brother to retailers all over the world. It has introduced the world to a substitute for sole leather.

It is displacing the truck horse with 40 horsepower trucks.

It has made the hand-written letter an oddity in business.

It has helped you to an appreciation of Stetson hats, Walk-Over Douglas and Emerson shoes.

It has put hair oil on heads where no hair oil would do any good, and on heads where no hair oil was needed.

It has put Castoria down your throat, left bristles in your gums and then came along with a rubber-set and took them off.

It has put a Gillette against your hay field.

It has put Murine in your eye, sold you Cuticura for pimples, Pears for the bath and Ivory for the tub.

It has put Arrow collars around your neck and Ingersolls around your wrist.

It has jammed your feet in Holo-proof sox, put Paris garters on your legs, and Tiffany rings on your fingers.

It has struck Robert Burns cigars between your teeth, worn out your jaws on Wrigley's and posted you on what to buy to cure corns, warts, bunions and ingrowing toe nails.

Go anywhere you want to, do anything you wish, and advertising has had a hand in it—absolutely.

And then some people ask, "Does Advertising Pay?"

PROHIBITION AND THE LAW

By Judge William M. Maltbie

(The author of the following article is Associate Justice of the Superior Court of the State of Connecticut. He analyzes here, from the point of view of an administrator of the law, the fundamental issue which has been raised by those who defy the enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment.)

If the case of the bootlegger rested solely with his studied defiance of the prohibition laws, the problem would be serious enough. But his calling draws after it all manner of crimes. For his liquor or its proceeds the hijacker plies his ill-omened trade; over it, men have fought and murder has likely been done; because of it piracy is rampant on the seas and smuggling flourishes on the shores; and worst of all, a slimy trail of bribery and corruption reaches out to every man who is seeking to enforce these laws. Upon whose shoulders rests the responsibility for this disorder in our state and this threat to the stability of government? Because the conclusion follows as a matter of cold logic, and not because I am overfond of extreme statement or not given to fairly weighing the import of the words I use, I say that that man, no matter what his station in society, who purchases liquor today is in so far forth a party to crime, an enemy to society, a traitor to his country.

Disposition of Dead

Has Wide Variation

Ceremonies associated with the various methods of disposing of dead the world over are as interesting as they are varied.

Modern nations as well as many primitive and oriental peoples practice inhumation, and with it their many and peculiar rites. But, as in bygone days, funeral ceremonies of today are most sacred and impressive occasions.

Cremation or the burning of dead bodies to ashes, is now practiced to a small extent in several countries, but is by no means new, says the Pathfinder Magazine. At the beginning of the Christian era cremation was the prevailing custom of the civilized world, with the exception of Egypt where the dead were embalmed; Judea, where they were entombed in a sepulcher, and China, where they were buried in the earth. Christian inhumation, which is now universal, probably owes its origin to the doctrine of resurrection of the body. While cremation was practiced by the later Greeks, Romans, Danes and others, the first cremation societies were not formed until the Nineteenth century. This method of disposing of human bodies is now urged by some health authorities on sanitary grounds.

Love and Youth Can

Always "Find a Way"

Will love find a way? asks the Boston Globe, which then goes on to tell this: The observer had missed his train and was forced to wait an hour for the next. As he walked through the crowd of passengers from an incoming train he noticed the warmth of embrace of a young man and his girl friend. Apparently she was well coming him home from a long trip. Ten minutes later he saw them in a strange hold as a train emptied its passengers at another gate. As the crowd dispersed, they parted. The boy friend was trailed to the waiting room, where he met the girl, greeted her sans embrace, and sat down for a chat again. As another train was announced, they again departed. The youth mingled with the incoming crowd and the girl ran up to meet him. To the ordinary onlooker it was a fond welcome home, but to the observer it was an ingenious system of petting in public. Love will find a way.

Concerning "Tightwads"

You are a tightwad, says a government budget expert, if your living expenses are 37 per cent of your income, your savings 60 per cent and the remaining 3 per cent scattered among recreation, education and philanthropy. You are a spendthrift if your living expenses are 58 per cent, your savings zero, your recreation 40 per cent. You are thrifty if your living expenses are 50 per cent, your savings 20 per cent, education, giving and recreation 10 per cent.

It's a pleasure to meet a budget maker who emphasizes some necessities of human living besides savings only, and who will not give the palm to the fellow who saves the most.—Kansas City Times.

First "Weather-Glass"

The first accurate barometer was constructed chiefly for the purpose of demonstrating the fact that air has weight, says Nature Magazine. Later this instrument acquired a great reputation as a means of predicting weather and was nicknamed the "weather-glass." Though its prophetic powers are not now rated so high as formerly, it remains the most important of meteorological instruments. The column of mercury in the barometer rises and falls with changes of atmospheric pressure, and its length is measured by means of an attachment called a "vernier," with a much greater refinement of accuracy than is that of the column of mercury or alcohol in a thermometer.

Naval Range Finder

An accurate method of computing the distance between ships when the height of the enemy ship is not known is by the use of the optical range finder. This instrument is installed in the turrets of battleships. It consists of a long tube with optical prisms. The length of the tube is taken as the base of a triangle. The distance is then figured out mathematically. The degree of accuracy depends upon the visibility conditions and the distance can usually be ascertained within a few hundred yards of the exact distance.

Progress in Lighting

A common laborer of today works about ten minutes each day to pay for the lighting of his home by means of electricity. A half-century ago he would have had to work two and one-half hours to provide the same amount of light by means of gas flames. And if he had supplied himself a half-century ago with the same amount of light from candles he would have had to work 24 hours every day to pay his lighting bill. For this great reduction in the cost of artificial lighting, modern science is responsible.—Scientific American.

Set Training Tables

for Fighting Crickets

The sporting element in China has been training fighting crickets for hundreds of years. Huge sums are still bet on cricket fights and the owners of champion crickets are nationally known. In his booklet, "Cricket Champions of China," Dr. Berthold Laufer, famous sinologist of the Field Museum of Natural History, discloses the interesting methods used by the Chinese in training these scrapping insects. Even in ancient times the trainers prescribed strict diets for their battlers. The usual diet consist of a dish of rice mixed with fresh cucumbers, boiled chestnuts, lotus seeds and mosquitoes. Some of the owners and fanciers allow themselves to be bitten by mosquitoes, and when the mosquitoes are full of blood they are given to their favorite crickets.

The fighting crickets are kept in specially devised jars, which are made to serve as both summer and winter homes. The jars are furnished with tiny beds and water jars. The champion crickets are transported in finely wrought cages, some of which are filigree gold.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Now Cast Doubt on

Myles Standish Tale

Capt. Myles Standish may have asked John Alden to propose to Priscilla Mullens for him, as Longfellow wrote (there is historical doubt on the point), but despite the means he may have taken the redoubtable soldier was married twice and left many children.

Proof of this has been found through twenty-one years' record searching by Dr. Myles Standish of Boston, eighth lineal descendant of the soldier.

"The legend about which Longfellow wrote 'The Courtship of Miles Standish' is not very convincing," said Doctor Standish. "Before coming to America, Captain Standish was in Holland and there he married his first wife, Rose. Rose died the first winter in America. Later the soldier married Barbara, who is said to have been a first cousin of Rose. They had several children. It is between the death of Rose and his marriage to Barbara that the captain is supposed to have courted Priscilla. It is a pretty story."—Miami Daily News.

Brotherly Love

A large crowd was waiting breathlessly on the beach. In the distance a small black object could be seen bobbing up and down on the crest of the waves. It was a bottle—and inside was a message!

A party of brave men ventured out in a row boat to see what tragic news it contained. After some difficulty the bottle was picked up and brought back to shore. With shaking fingers the leader of the party pulled out the message.

"The finder of this bottle," he read, "might please send it to my brother in Aberdeen and tell him to take it to the Pig and Whistle. There is two-pence on it."—London Answers.

Too Much Pep

Norma, age seven, was visiting her grandma, and they were telling jokes. Grandma told Norma the one about the boy who went to the grocery and bought some pepper for his mother, and when he arrived home and opened the package he found the pepper was half peps.

Norma was quiet for a few moments, and then she said: "Grandma, here is one for you:

"A little boy went to the store to buy some pepper for his mother, and when he came home and opened it he found it was half pep."

Appropriately Named

Little Rock, Ark., was named from a rocky promontory which rises on the south bank of the Arkansas river some 50 feet above the river and now used as one of the abutments of one of the four bridges which span the river. This rock is the first seen ascending the river, and was called "Little Rock" in contradistinction to the bold precipice about ten times higher which rises some three miles above upon the opposite bank and is called "Big Rock." This is now the site of an army post.

Movie Star

Five-year-old Ethel had never attended a picture show, but had heard her brothers and sisters talk a great deal about the "movie stars." One evening Ethel was out riding with her parents after dark. It was a new experience to Ethel to be out driving late enough to see the stars, and she was very much interested in watching them. One bright star in particular attracted her attention, and as the machine moved Ethel thought the star was moving and said, "Mamma, that must be a movie star."

One Thing Missing

Mrs. Newlywed rushed in from the kitchen, a smoking pie dish in her hands. She placed it on the table in front of her husband.

"There, dear," she cooed, "that's a cottage pie."

"I'd have known it was cottage pie," he remarked after the first few mouthfuls.

"You would?" she asked, delighted.

"Yes," he replied. "I can taste the thatched roof and the crazy paving. But what did you do with the bricks?"

THE GLORIOUS 4TH

The following letter written to Philip Hale's column in the Boston Herald contains so much commonsense that the Graphic cheerfully reprints it:

That Glorious Day

As the World Was:

It has been noticed that it is never necessary to draft the average American citizen to make a monkey of himself. Let him alone and he'll volunteer. A century and a half ago we wrenched off the shackles of the accursed Sassenach and since then we have celebrated the anniversary of that event by making July 4th a day of terror for the sick and aged and a time of irritation for those who maintain that it is unreasonable to make humanity suffer the torments of hell in both this world and the next. It is a day of orations, confagurations, collisions, contusions, explosions and death in many forms—all of which must amuse our william oppressors across the seas. It has been estimated that five times more people have been killed while celebrating our national birthday than the British killed during the revolution. We permit the manufacture and indiscriminate sale of high explosives but the manufacture and sale of that which might enable us to endure this synthetic patriotism is forbidden by the federal constitution.

Schubert's Opera Rosamunde To Be Given At Warren School, West Newton

American Institute of Normal Methods Closes Its Summer School

The American Institute of Normal Methods, a summer school for the training of music supervisors, closes its 38th Eastern Session at Lasell Seminary, Auburndale, on Tuesday evening, July 31st.

The graduation program is to be given in the auditorium of the Levi F. Warren Junior High School on Washington street, in order to accommodate the general public. An especially large audience is expected, because of the historically significant revival of Schubert's opera, "Rosamunde." Previous to this performance, so far as we know, only two performances have occurred, in December, 1820. The opera was, owing to various complications involving jealousies and quarrels within the company, withdrawn from further performance. Because Schubert lived in almost complete obscurity in Vienna, the public soon forgot the work, and it was not until 1867 that Sir George Grove and Sir Arthur Sullivan found the score and parts in a dusty cupboard in Dr. Schneider's house. Even then the libretto was lost, and further performances have not been possible until the recent work of Alexander Dorn, Assistant Professor of Drama in the School of Fine Arts, Yale University, constructed the dialog from the story of the original play. The performance is to be given in concert form, a full stage performance requiring more time for memorizing the speaking parts than can be spared from regular classroom work at the summer session. However, the principal characters and the ballet are to be in costume. A chorus of 175 voices, and an orchestra of 30 will complete the program.

The production is directed by Mr. Francis Findlay, Director of the Department of Public School Music of the New England Conservatory of Music.

The school is composed of a student body of 225, representing 17 states, Canada, and Great Britain.

This is the third summer music festival to which the public has been invited. In 1926 the Institute unveiled a tablet on the birthplace of the late Horatio Parker, American composer. It is now the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lane, Auburndale. In the evening Dr. Parker's best known work, "Hora Novissima," was performed, at the First Congregational Church in Newtonville. Last year the Beethoven program was given at the Auburndale Club.

TRAFFIC TOWER AT NONANTUM SQUARE

After many years the long awaited traffic tower at Nonantum square, Newton, is assured. At the meeting of the Aldermen on Monday night $2700 was appropriated for a traffic tower and signals at Nonantum square. The tower and signals will be constructed by the General Electric Company and installed by the Edison Company, and according to Street Commissioner Stuart will be artistic in appearance and of the best mechanical type. Last February it was proposed that an automatic signal, somewhat similar in type to the one recently installed at Newtonville square, be placed at Nonantum square. This plan was opposed by the Traffic Committee composed of Aldermen Grebenstein, Worth and Powers; the committee insisting that traffic at Nonantum square cannot be handled by an automatic signal. The aldermen appropriated the $2700 with the proviso that the new tower and signal must conform to the requirements of the bill for uniform traffic signals in Massachusetts recently passed by the Legislature.

ELKS OUTING

The annual outing of Newton Lodge of Elks will take place on Saturday afternoon, August 4, at Vose's Grove, Maynard. Among the attractions promised are a baseball game, a program of sports and a dinner that will satisfy the epicures and gourmands of the lodge. Those who like to swim will find ample opportunity to enjoy this sport at Vose's Grove.

POSTOFFICE STARTED

Work on the new postoffice at Centre avenue, Newton, started on Wednesday when a large power shovel commenced to dig out the excavation for the cellar. The new building will be erected by the Rugo Construction Company of Boston from plans drawn by Architect Clifford White of this city. It will be of brick and artificial stone, Colonial in type, one story high and 50 by 101 feet in dimension. In addition to the postoffice the building will contain one store.

FINDS ALLIGATOR

William Tobin of 163 Jackson road, Newton, found a young alligator yesterday afternoon in Laundry Brook which flows in front of his home. The alligator a lively specimen, is about one foot long. Just how he happened to reach the brook is a mystery. It is doubtful if he swam and hiked from his birthplace in Florida.

Many Hearings At Midsummer Meeting Of Board Of Aldermen On Monday

Kligman Again an Applicant For a Gas Filling Station on Watertown Street

The Board of Aldermen held a regular meeting on Monday night. Considering that many of the members are residing at their summer homes, the attendance was large for a summer session—but three members being absent. A delegation of Upper Falls residents appeared to manifest opposition against the petition of the School Department for the razing of the old Wade School. A counter petition containing 400 names has been presented objecting to the demolition of the old school building which has been used for some years as a "movie" house. The matter did not come before the Board of Aldermen Monday night, having been referred to the Public Buildings committee for consideration, so the delegation from the Upper Falls did not have an opportunity to voice its protests.

The first matter on the docket was a hearing on the petition of L. Frank Perkins for a permit to erect a 3 car garage at 186 Woodward street, Newton Highlands. Hugh Boyd, appearing as attorney for Perkins, told the Aldermen that his client desires to build this garage because he has a fleet of three automobiles, one of them a huge affair called a "House on Wheels." Mr. Boyd contended that if Mr. Perkins is refused a permit for the large garage he can keep the "House on Wheels" either in his yard or on the street, so it will be for the advantage of the neighborhood to have this big vehicle kept under a roof. City Clerk Grant announced that he had received four letters of protest against the permit being granted. These protests were from Anna Spaulding, 15 Brewster road; W. G. Bowler, 14 Brewster road; Gordon McMullin, 1176 Walnut street; John Elwell and other residents of Brewster road and vicinity.

No persons appeared to object to the petitions of Samuel Elliot for a permit to erect a 3-car garage at 70 Suffolk road, and of Thomas Dewire to erect a 3 car garage at 4 Monadnock road. On the petition of B. S. Hatch & Company for a 3-car garage at 1340 Centre street, Newton Centre, Mrs.

J. S. Sumner, owner of the property at 1322 Centre street, protested at length. She contended that the proposed garage will be too near her property.

O. M. Young of 6 Sumner street, Newton Centre, appearing in behalf of Jennie A. Young, asked for a permit to build a 4 car garage at that address. He stated it will replace a much larger old wooden barn and will be 60 feet back from the street.

Reuben Kligman, appearing for his father, Jacob Kligman who petitions for a 19 car garage and filling station at 456 Watertown street, Newtonville, stated that his father has been a citizen for over 30 years and a taxpayer. If the permit is granted for the garage and gasoline station at this location, Kligman promised his father will clean out the junk yard there which is an eyesore to the neighborhood. Mr. Kligman informed the aldermen that there are 150 tons of junk in this yard and his father will promise to clean it out within 90 days if given the garage permit, although he will take a loss by so doing. Referring to the high board fence which surrounds the junk yard, Mr. Kligman made the ingenious statement, "There is not another one like it in the state." He explained that the proposed garage will have a brick front and will be a decided improvement to the neighborhood. He concluded by stating that his father has been repeatedly denied the right to obtain permits to make a livelihood and is entitled to justice.

The Edison and Telephone companies asked for pole locations on Naholten road and Albemarle road. The Basley Lumber Company objected to the taking of land for a sewer in Lengen road which will cause this concern to be assessed for an improvement which will not benefit it. Mr. Rose of 25 Newton street, Chestnut Hill, asked for the laying out and acceptance of that street. He told of tearing the rear end out of his car recently because of the terrible condition of this road, which is practically impassable in the winter time. (Continued on page 3)

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

Gilligan Makes Varsity Squad
Tommy Gilligan, former Newton high and Exeter football star has been named as one of ten backfield men on the Harvard varsity football squad which will begin fall practice on Sept. 14. Gilligan is a sophomore at Harvard this coming year and starred on the freshman team last fall. He will also have a former teammate at Newton high to compete against as Guy Holbrook, former Newton high player and a substitute backfield man on the Crimson team last year, is another of the athletes chosen. Coach Horween has a fine array of backs this fall in addition to the two former Newton men.

Johnson and Partner Win Finals
Henry L. Johnson, Jr., and his partner, Mrs. J. Dallas Corbiere won the finals of the mixed doubles title at the Longwood courts on Monday of this week, the rain last week having forced a postponement of some of the matches so that the finals were not reached as soon as expected. In winning the finals the winners met Malcolm T. Hill and his partner, Miss Sarah Palfrey. Hill is Johnson's cousin and his doubles partner in men's doubles, both living in Waban. The match on Monday was closely fought with the winning pair showing superior power throughout. Hill was a little unsteady at the net and over-head while Miss Palfrey was not driving with her accustomed speed. Mrs. Corbiere and Johnson took the first set by winning four straight games after their opponents had taken the lead at 3-2. In the second set Hill and his partner rallied. Service prevailed to 4-1 all when the younger pair broke through Johnson's service for the lead and then the set on Hill's service. In the third set the Dartmouth freshman athlete and his partner would not be denied. They broke through Miss Palfrey and Hill early in the set and then took Miss Palfrey's service to win the match after the Brookline girl had fought off match point twice.

Newton Upper Falls Wins

The Newton Upper Falls A. A. defeated the J. A. Clear Co. team, 1 to 0, on the Upper Falls playground Sunday afternoon. Charley Bridey, Boston College pitcher, pitched for Upper Falls allowing but five hits. A single and stolen base by Butler followed by Alan McLean's single in the seventh put over the solitary tally. Billy Proctor was the batting star of the game with two safe hits, one of which went for three bases.

Local Players in White Mt. Tourney

Several local tennis players are participating this week in the 23rd annual tennis tourney for the White Mountains and New Hampshire state championships. Fifty entries were received in the singles. The seeded players include Henry L. Johnson, Jr., Malcolm T. Hill, and Robert S. Turner all of Waban. In the women's singles Newtonville is represented by Miss E. Macomber.

Several Local Players at Manchester

Several local tennis players are also competing in the tourney at Manchester, N. H. In the women's singles were Miss Virginia Rice, and Miss Rosamond Newton, both of whom were eliminated in the early rounds. Miss Rice put out Miss Newton in the first round, only to succumb to Mrs. Wm. Endicott of Manchester in the second round.

Newtonville Man Makes Hole-In-One

W. H. Wileman of Newtonville, who was playing a three-some with J. S. St. Clair, and H. G. Boyer on Sunday afternoon at the Sandy Burr C. C. course got in the hole-in-one club on No. 3 hole, 148 yards. Later an unusual incident occurred when W. H. Sullivan of New York got a hole-in-one the same day on No. 13. By a curious coincidence both men have the same initials and both holes were made over water hazards.

"BUCK" DONAHUE GOES TO NATICK

John F. (Buck) Donahue of Oak Avenue, West Newton, a former well known Newton High athlete who for a number of years has been engaged as a supervisor of playgrounds in Newton, has been chosen by the Natick School Board to serve as director of physical education in that town. He studied physical education at the Harvard Summer School, was director of physical education at Watkins, New York, for three years, at Willimantic, Connecticut, for two years and served as assistant coach at Newton High and Boston College. He will begin his new duties in September.

When you see a man tearing along the road at a high rate of speed the chances are he isn't going any place in particular and has nothing to do after he gets there.

The ads and stories in popular magazines all teach that there is no necessity for hard work. Us older folks know better.

BLANEY'S 65 IS NEW RECORD

Bill Blaney of the Brae-Burn Country Club played marvelous golf the last three days of last week in the joint medal play open tournament conducted by the Plymouth and Scituate Country clubs. He ran away with the combined gross prize with a 36-hole score of 142 strokes, opening up a gap of eight shots on the rest of the field. Next to Blaney came a Dedham golfer, Dwight Barnum, and an Oakley golfer, Bill Munsell in a tie for second with a combined gross of 150.

Blaney's playing on the Scituate course established a new course record. He was out in 31 and back in 34 for a 65. This with a 77 on the Plymouth course Saturday morning gave him his 142 gross. During the spectacular round at Scituate that afternoon he had 12 one-putt greens which was the biggest factor in aiding him to the new record.

Blaney started his brilliant day at Plymouth and for 15 holes he was only a single shot over even fours. At the 16th a gallery had assembled to watch him play and he responded with a topped drive that swelled his score for the hole to a six. He got his four at the 17th, but a missed second shot at the home hole cost him another six there and he had to be content with a 77, when he had good reason to expect at least a 75.

From Plymouth he went up to Scituate, teeing off about mid-afternoon and there he literally burned up the course, even with an inauspicious five at the 41st yard first hole, chiefly because of a weak second shot. From the second tee to the turn he knocked off four birdies to get out in 31. His only misplay coming home was at the 12th, where he was too stout with his second and got a five. At the 18th he was trapped with his second and found his ball nesting badly, but he blasted it out to within 12 feet of the hole, whence he got his putt to shave two strokes off the 67 Charley Eaton had in an informal round recently.

The Plymouth gross became a tie at 74 between Perley Crosby of Woodland and Ray Storton of Brae-Burn. After getting his tie at Plymouth Crosby went up to Scituate and reached the turn in 35. When he learned that Blaney had scored his 65 he decided there was no chance for him so called it a day.

LYNCH OUT IN FIRST

Joe Lynch of Albemarle, defending champion in the junior golf championship at the Unicorn course in Stoneham last week was unexpectedly eliminated in the first round by John Reidy of Green Hill who won the extra hole from the little Albemarle golfer on Thursday. This was but one of the many upsets which occurred early in the tourney. Reidy eventually became one of the finalists with Charles Eaton of Winchester. In the final match Eaton played great golf to win his first junior title after finishing well up in the running for the past few years.

Another upset came from the playing of Warren S. Adams, 2nd, of Albemarle who eliminated Tom Fahey, Winchester, king of the caddies. Adams scrambled into the match play by way of the uncertain route of the playoff.

Adams was easily the hero of the matches Thursday. Whatever was wrong with his stroking the day before corrected itself overnight, for he hovered in the close proximity of par in both rounds and beside displacing Fahey also ousted Bill Donnelly of Woodland, another of the early favorites. In that match Adams went to the turn at such a rapid clip that the debonair Woodlander was quickly submerged and at the 13th green was dormie. At this stage, however, the Albemarle started to take things a bit too easily, and with five successive pars Donnelly was able to square the count at the home of Adams player the extra hole the better and won it 4 to 5. In the semi-final match Adams was in turn put out by John Reidy.

MASTER PLUMBERS' OUTING

The Master Plumbers of Newton held an enjoyable outing on Wednesday at Workmen's Circle, Ashland, which was attended by 150 members of the Association and their ladies. The first item on the program was a banquet to which everyone paid particular attention. This was followed by games, races and sports under the direction of a committee composed of Charles Keiser, Leonard Hickman and J. J. Burke.

There was keen rivalry between the Master Plumbers and the jobbers, the Master Plumbers winning the ball game by a score of 8 to 7 as well as the tug of war contest.

SAXONY AND WEST NEWTON IN TIE

The West Newton Town Team displaced the Newton Lower Falls A. A. during the past week in a tie for first place in the Newton Twilight league race with the Saxony Mills outfit. Four games were played with the two leading teams each winning two games from Lower Falls and the Highlands.

The Gilligan managed outfit knocked over the Highlands team on the latter's field.

West Newton shut out the Lower Falls team last Thursday night on the Grove street playground, 4 to 0, to bring the latter's percentage down to .500 and to make its own 1.000 as it was the first game since the recent reorganization for the team managed by Leary. Monday night the Saxony team with a full game into the lead by taking the Highlands team into camp 5 to 2 on the Highlands playground. Tuesday night on the West Newton common the West Newton outfit caught up with Saxony by beating the same team 8 to 4. Not to be outdone the Saxony team the next night nosed out the Lower Falls team by the close score of 6 to 5. While this gives the Saxony outfit a one more game than the West Newton team the two are tied for the top position in the race with a 1.000 percentage.

EVERSON—McLEAN

A very beautiful wedding took place at St. Mary's Episcopal Church, on Friday evening at 8:15 p. m., when Miss Dorothy Hazel McLean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. McLean of Washington street, Wellesley Lower Falls, became the bride of Mr. Robert Leslie Everson son of Mrs. Robert Everson of Needham, Mass.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Guy W. Miner pastor of the church. The bride was gown in white satin, trimmed with dutch lace and orange blossoms. She wore a tulle veil, with a cap of old family lace. She carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Russell Williams of Needham, who wore yellow georgette, with picture hat to match and carried a bouquet of tea roses.

The bridesmaids were, Miss Helen Peterson and Miss Helen Cooper of Lower Falls, who wore pink crepe de chine, with picture hats to match, while Mrs. Roger Parmenter and Miss Amelia Neilson of Wellesley Hills, were attired in Nile green crepe de chine, also with picture hats to match, all four bridesmaids carried pink roses.

The little flower girl was Miss Julie Wales of Grove street, a cousin of the bride, who wore white silk, and carried a basket of pink rose petals.

The best man was Mr. Russell Williams of Needham. The ushers were Larry Nelson, Lewis Kershaw, Murray McLean and Roger Parmenter.

A solo was sung by Mr. George Barnett of Wellesley Hills. Miss Evelyn Hemon of Concord street, assisted at the organ.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors. After an extended honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Everson will reside in Needham.

MR. SCHRAFFT'S WILL

An executor's estimate, filed in Middlesex Probate Court, indicates that the late George F. Schrafft of Newton left an estate valued at $8,160,000, of which $8,000,000 is personal property. The will also was filed for probate. Under its terms the estate remains in Mr. Schrafft's immediate family. His widow, three daughters and a son are named as life beneficiaries with the provision that upon their deaths the property will go to the heirs of the children.

The Schrafft home at 885 Center street, Newton, and all other real estate in Newton is bequeathed outright to the widow, Mrs. Bertha L. Schrafft.

All the holdings in the W. F. Schrafft & Sons Corporation, Frank G. Shattuck Company and the Garrett Realty Company are left in trust, with provision that $5000 a year will be used from the income for each of the four minor children until they have reached the age of twenty-five. Then one-eighth of the trust income will go to each child and the residue to the widow for life, the children to receive the entire income after the death of Mrs. Schrafft.

This trust will terminate on the death of widow and children, the will provides, and the principal will then go to the children's heirs, grandchildren and sons or daughter-in-law of Mr. Schrafft.

A similar trust is created for the residue of the estate.

William E. Schrafft, a brother, is named executor and the widow is named as guardian of the children. The will was executed June 30, 1927. Mr. Schrafft died June 22 at his Newton home.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER

Washington, July 25—Judging from the number of investigations being conducted by governmental departments or in contemplation, the Seventy-first Congress will be more flooded with legislative matters than ever before in the history of the country. The Federal Trade Commission, one of the most active bureaus in the Capitol City today, has employed a corps of specialists on utility affairs to compile information from records in offices of large power utility holding and service companies, to be introduced as evidence in the Commission's inquiry into the industry. Legislative agents, representing every conceivable interest, are working full blast these humid summer days preparing arguments and measures to be presented to Congress on the opening day.

Secretary of State Kellogg and his corps of assistants have been extremely busy making arrangements for the multi-lateral treaty for the outlawry of war, which probably will be signed in Paris the last week in August. There is much speculation here as to the fate of Secretary Kellogg's peace treaty. Many feel confident that it is the solution for the prevention of future wars, while others see in it only a disguised form of an entangling alliance, and believe that the Senate will refuse to ratify it.

The Republican and Democratic headquarters here are conspicuous these days for the apparent lassitude. However, immediately after the acceptance speeches of Mr. Hoover and Governor Smith both bureaus will become the distributors of volumes of literature and thousands of appealing speeches. These speeches will also be the signal for the opening of money-bags.

Plans are now under way to have all six government buildings concentrated in an area known as the Mall-Avenue triangle, which comprises the center of the downtown district. This will be a decided convenience not only to government officials, but also an advantage to those from various parts of the country coming to Washington on official business. National Capitol Park and Planning Commission of Washington is now devising ways and means for the parking of automobiles near these buildings. The solution seems to be to construct a tunnel under the broad plaza, which is to be the central feature of the new construction. The only obstacle in the way of the project is its cost. The proposed underground parking area could not be constructed for less than several million dollars and Congress may balk at the cost.

The Welch bill, providing for increased salaries for Federal employees, passed during the last session of Congress was believed to establish content among the many who thought they were underpaid. However, the conflict still rages between various Federal agencies, not only as to the administration of the Welch salary increase act, but also as to its cost to the Federal Treasury. There seems to be complete agreement on the fact that all of the salary raises in the higher grades are satisfactory, but many of the lower paid workers believe they are receiving far less than what the Senate and House civil service committees intended they should receive when the law was drafted.

NEWTON HOSPITAL

The hospital was recently visited by Miss Elizabeth Dwyer, class of 1908, who is now in the Federal Public Health Service in St. Louis, Mo.

Dr. Hermon Norton, who completed his internship at the Newton Hospital on June thirtieth, was married on July twenty-first to Miss Doris Berry of Jamaica Plain. They will live in Newton Centre.

Miss Gertrude Herrick, Director of the Out-Patient Department, is on her vacation. During her absence, Miss Elizabeth Wheeler is in charge.

Of the 89 patients in the house on Sunday, 27 were paying as much as cost of care or more, 39 were paying less than cost of care, and 23, including the babies, were free. Ninety-five patients were treated in the Out-Patient Department. Six patients were transferred by the Social Service Car. Six calls were made by the Social Service Department.

During the week ending Sunday, July 22, 1928, there were twelve accidents. Of these, one was a woman with a question of a fractured skull—the result of an automobile accident, and one was a girl who fractured her arm when she fell from a chair. Three were boys—one with a fractured arm, caused by a fall of the swing, one with lacerations on the face and shoulders, caused by a fall from his bicycle, and one with lacerations over his left eye, received as he fell downstairs. Seven were men—one with a thumb injured when struck by a falling bar, one with his arm cut with a chisel, one with a question of a fractured skull—the result of an automobile accident, and one with a lacerated thumb caused by an automobile tire "blowing out." Also, one with a punctured wound of the left foot, the result of "running a fork into his foot." One with a fracture of the leg caused by the fall of a heavy weight, and one with lacerations of his left ear.

ROBBLEE HORSE WINS RACE

A three year old gelding owned by D. Harry Robblee of Baldwin street, Newton, won the big event at the races of the Junior League of Amateur Driving Clubs at the Charles River speedway track in Brighton on Tuesday. The race was a sweepstake which brought a purse of $2400 to the winner besides a valuable trophy. The horse was raised by Mr. Robblee, being kept at Whitinsville and was skillfully driven by W. J. McDonald of Boston, the well known real estate man. Mr. Robblee showed his loyalty for his home town by calling the animal "Newton Express."

"Diamond Handcuffs," a fast-moving sensational film featuring Conrad Nagel and Eleanor Boardman will be the feature photoplay which will be presented at the Embassy, Waltham's wonder theatre for the first three days of next week, in keeping with the Embassy policy of presenting high grade summer entertainment.

Five all-star acts of vaudeville will also be presented. These will include some famous stars who have been brought to the Embassy theatre as a special attraction. The vaudeville program will be completely changed on Thursday when some other notable attractions will be offered.

The photoplay for the last three days of the week will be "Stormy Waters," the stirring drama based on Jack London's swiftly-moving story. Malcolm McGregor will be the featured actor and in the picture he enhances his reputation. A special all-feature program—all new—will be presented Sunday.

The beauty of the Embassy, with its moonlit sky and twinkling stars and the promenade along the waterfalls near the theatre, together with the free distribution of cigarettes and cold drinks are other features which are daily increasing the popularity of the wonder playhouse.

The Embassy grand orchestra has made a decided hit since Charles Hatch assumed leadership, while the regular organ recitals by J. Leslie Cahill are other features which make the theatre unique.

EDITORIAL

Notwithstanding the fiasco entailed by the alleged "widening" of St. James street, the board of aldermen is now contemplating another practical joke by proposing to "widen" the corner of Centre and Elmwood streets by taking 29 square feet of land. Some day our city solons will wake up to the fact that it is good public policy to take advantage of such situations as now exist at the site of the old Eliot block, and make substantial widenings whenever possible.

The enclosed clipping from a Texas newspaper is worthy of consideration. "If those people who insist on gluing their eyes to the things prohibition has not accomplished would look for a while on these other things that prohibition has accomplished, they could understand better why there are plenty of people to maintain the prohibition regimen in the United States."

We heartily support the candidacy of the Hon. John W. Haigis for the Republican nomination for State Treasurer. Mr. Haigis has the unusual characteristics of being a practical banker and having a wide political acquaintance. In addition it will be wise policy for the party to recognize the western part of the State in making up its slate.

The Legislature which has just prorogued has been more jealous of its own prerogatives than it has of the general welfare. Its attitude toward Elevated legislation was a standing disgrace and was more like the actions of a group of small boys than of supposedly intelligent men and women.

Lovers of Shubert's music are looking forward with keen interest to the centennial program to be given next Tuesday evening.

The improvement of Governor's square which the Legislature reluctantly authorized this week ought to be paid for by motorists as well as the car riders.

To Take 29 Feet Of Land to Widen Dangerous Corner

When it was announced last year that the old Eliot Block at the corner of Centre and Elmwood streets at Newton Corner was to be torn down, agitation started to have this dangerous corner altered and widened. For many years the corner of Elmwood and Centre streets has been a hazard to traffic and with the razing of the Eliot Block, citizens believed the time most opportune to widen the corner. As a result of the agitation for this improvement on March 22nd, Alderman Fitts of Ward 7 asked City Clerk Grant to call the attention of the Public Works Committee to this matter. The matter was brought to the attention of the Board of Aldermen at the meeting on April 2nd and referred to the Public Works Committee. As a result it was proposed that the southerly corner of Elmwood and Centre streets be altered by taking 157 square feet of land which would allow for a rounding of the dangerous curve to a depth of 7 feet at the widest point of taking.

But, because of certain developments in the plans for the new building which will be erected on the site of the Eliot Block, it is now proposed that instead of taking 157 square feet to remove the blind corner, only 29 square feet will be lopped off. This diminutive "widening" will be but 30 inches at its widest point and will leave the corner just about as blind in the future as it was in the past. Furthermore, the property line at the site of the old Eliot Block and at the Lancaster Block, between it and the Newton Library, extends several feet out onto the present sidewalk. It is quite probable that when new buildings are erected on these two sites, they will be built out to the street line and thus the view from the blind corner will be even more restricted.

With the experience gained from the failure of the city to take the south corner of Washington and Centre streets at Nonantum square, when Washington street was widened over 30 years ago, it would seem that there should not be a repetition of this shortsightedness in the case of the corner at Centre and Elmwood streets. There are three large public garages on Elmwood and Brook streets, cars from which must pass by the corner in question because Brook street is a one-way street. There are several large automotive shops on Elmwood and Brook streets which add to the traffic around this corner. Most of the traffic from the railroad station to Hunnewell Hill passes around this corner. The City of Newton has spent considerable money widening corners where the need was much less than at Centre and Elmwood streets. The original plan, to take 157 square feet for the altering should be adhered to. A hearing on this matter will be held at the meeting of the Aldermen on August 13.

DOG BITES TWO

Policeman Timothy Riley of Station 3 and John P. Dyer of 63 Cabot street, Newton, were severely bitten Monday evening by a Doberman Pinscher dog.

The dog had been struck by an automobile and was lying badly injured opposite 650 Centre street when someone telephoned the police. Patrolmen Maguire and Riley went to the scene from Police Station 3. Mr. Day had been notified of his dog's plight and came to the place. Patrolman Riley, assisted by John Dyer of 63 Cabot street, Newton attempted to aid the dog when the animal sank his teeth through the fleshy part of Riley's left hand and bit Mr. Dyer on the left leg.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

School Boards in many cities have adopted the rule that local girls shall be given the preference when appointments are made to the teaching force of their home city. The growth of this practice is making it increasingly difficult for teachers to obtain positions in other than their home towns. The argument offered against this practice is—that it prevents a community from procuring the best qualified teachers. But, assuming that a young woman has displayed ability as a student in the Newton schools, in Normal School and as a teacher in other places, it would appear that she should receive favorable consideration when she applies for a position in the Newton schools. Newton spends huge sums yearly on its public schools. The Newton schools are supposed to rank amongst the highest in the Commonwealth. It would seem, therefore, that graduates of our schools ought to possess at least equal ability with graduates of schools in other places.

According to the papers the W. C. T. U. at Manchester, N. H., protested against the sale of root beer at a social function because yeast had been put in the beer and the temperance organization contended that the yeast caused a certain amount of fermentation in the root beer. If yeast produces alcohol, what about those total abstainers and strong prohibition advocates who eat yeast cakes regularly?

Many criticisms are being heard regarding the new traffic signal at the intersection of Washington and Walnut streets, Newtonville. This signal was ordered last February but it was not placed in operation until last week. It was manufactured by the General Electric Company and is styled by the Edison Company. "Traffic light experts" of these two big organizations advised as to where this signal should be placed, and how. The signal works automatically during most of the day and night, but during the rush period it is supposed to be operated manually by a traffic officer. The "control box" where the officer stands to operate the signal is located, not at a point where the officer has a view of traffic approaching on both Washington and Walnut street, but on the north sidewalk of Washington street where the M. & B. bus stop was formerly situated and where the policeman operating the signal is unable to see traffic approaching along Walnut street from the north. By looking through the windows of Colarullo's fruit store, assuming that nothing will be placed in the windows to obstruct his view, the traffic officer might see 30 or 40 feet down Walnut street, but to properly regulate traffic, a policeman should be able to see down a street more than 30 feet. The proper place for the control box is at the end of the middle span of the B. & A. bridge.

Because, it was contended that autoists approaching along Walnut street from the south would be unable to see the signal in the middle of the street, an auxiliary signal was placed on the sidewalk at the control box position and no lights were placed on that side of the main signal facing the bridge. Many autoists coming north along Walnut street are confused because of the absence of lights on the south side of the main signal. They do not notice the auxiliary signal.

With all due respect to the judgment of the "experts" who devised the layout of the traffic signal at Newtonville, it would seem that better results might have been obtained if the advice of local men, conversant with local conditions, had been procured. The "Give 'em away boys" have been operating again on Washington street opposite the brick wall near Walnut Park. These philanthropists stand out in the street and hold out alluringly to passing autoists a package. The autoists, not because they are keen to get something for nothing, but because they do not wish to appear discourteous to the generous gentlemen in white, stop their cars and are given the "free" package of soap powder. But, as they are about to thank the donor, they are informed that in conjunction with the "free" sample, one is supposed to purchase several bars of soap and more powder. Many of the autoists thus seduced into stopping, fall for the scheme rather than seem niggardly. If other enterprising concerns adopt this method of vending their wares, our streets will eventually be cluttered with peddlers interfering with traffic. The use of the highways for such a purpose should not be allowed.

A young lady who read our comment on the newest vogue, young ladies traveling about without stockings covering their lower limbs, suggested that we say something about those young men who wear socks without garters and whose slovenly appearance offends persons of refinement who happen to sit opposite them in public places or conveyances. She suggests that such young men wear cuffed socks—or no socks at all. Things look rather bad for the future of the hosiery business. Let us hope the soap business improves.

Persons so afflicted with inferiority complex as to be ashamed of their ancestry, when their ancestors were honest, industrious people, are more to be pitied than scorned. In the Old World countries the practice of trying to camouflage one's racial derivation is indulged in but rarely because in most Old World countries the populations are much more homogeneous than in the United States. It has become quite common during late years in this country for persons of foreign birth of foreign parentage, to assume names either legally, or otherwise, which will lead those who do not know them (or see them) to suppose these "climbers" are of old colonial stock, Anglo-Saxons, Nordics, or something other than what they are. It apparently does not occur to those who attempt to deceive others as to their ancestry, that even though they assume a name savoring of English origin, their features will betray the fact that their forebears did not come over on the Mayflower. To make the deception effective, those who would change their names for supposed social or financial advantages, would, in most cases, also have to undergo drastic facial surgery to alter the appearance of their physiognomies.

What's in a name? Not so much as of yore when men took pride in the accomplishments of their forebears and endeavored to emulate them. In this cosmopolitan country where men have come from all parts of the Old World there has been so much misappropriating of names that one does not know whether the bearer of an honored name is a real or a spurious member of the family whose appellation he claims. After all, it was the men who made the names—and not the names which made the men, as a rule.

"It makes a difference whose ox is gored." Some persons who are quite insistent that violators of the laws shall be apprehended and punished, become very indignant if they or theirs are detected committing some trivial offense. They apparently can't conceive that it is possible for them to transgress and when accused of doing so wax wrathful. In their philosophy it is all right for others to get punitive publicity, but not them.

CITY AFFAIRS

Miss Mary Ryan of the Comptroller's office has been enjoying her vacation at Pemberton.

James W. Feeley has asked that a traffic signal be placed at the intersection of Pearl, School and Thornton streets. A signal for this dangerous spot was recommended some months ago by the Traffic Committee, Police Chief Burke and Street Commissioner Stuart. Formerly a silent policeman stood at this point but it was knocked down and never replaced. Money for a signal at this location was included in the appropriation passed at the meeting of the aldermen on Monday night.

Anna M. Connelly has petitioned that automobile trucks be prohibited on Auburn street, Auburndale Square and Washington street, West Newton.

Mrs. F. O. Harrell has entered a claim against the city because of damage to her clothing from tar on a street. Mrs. Nellie Frost of 152 East Side Parkway, Newton, asks damages because of injuries received when a truck of the Playground Department hit her.

James A. Lowell and others of Chestnut Hill ask that the property of the Boston Ice Company near Hammond Pond, which is on the market for sale, be changed from manufacturing to general residence district.

The following petitions have been referred to the Franchises and Licenses Committee of the Aldermen—permit for Common Victuallers, Helen M. Hamilton, 877a Washington street; Agnes Boudreau and Margaret Kennedy, 1275 Washington street; permit to sell 2nd hand furniture at 2255 Washington street; George Ennis, 191 Pearl street, one 1st and one 2nd class taxi licenses, stand asked for at Newton Corner; William Levert, 87 Freeman street, express license; Ashforth & Barthelmes, 11 West street, trucking license; Peter Jones, Howard street, Watertown, junk license.

POLICE NEWS

Another bunch of "speeders" in court on Friday paid fines for driving at reckless rates on the public highways of Newton. Joseph Patterson, all the way from Castlegate, South Carolina, was fined $15; so was Benjamin Cohan of Wellesley. Those fined $10 each included Emory Felch, Natick; Arthur Marcon, Northboro; Harold Casson, Brookline and Carl Cassano of Melrose.

Three South Boston boys who stole an automobile in Newton last week, and who were caught by the Hyde Park police, were sentenced to the Lyman School by Judge Bacon on Friday. The trio—John Brazis, Anthony Grodis and Lawrence Flaherty appealed.

Daniel Rankin of 19 Maple park, Newton Centre, employed by an ice company was fined $25 in the Newton court on Friday on the charge of assault and battery on a maid employed in the home of Dr. C. A. Boutelle on Ward street. The offence was alleged to have been committed while Rankin was delivering ice at the house on July 10.

Frank Barry of 462 Watertown street, Newtonville, was given a suspended sentence of six months in the House of Correction in the Newton court on Friday on the charge of neglecting to provide for his wife and minor children.

Early Friday morning Patrolman Feeley arrested Jeremiah Coughlin of 19 Fayette street on the charges of drunkenness and creating a disturbance after the latter had come out of a luncheon at Nonantum square and hurled a glass at the operator of an automobile which was being driven away from the luncheon. The glass hit the car and broke on the street. Coughlin claimed that he had been assaulted by the man driving the car, but when the latter was pursued and brought back by the policeman, Coughlin denied this charge. In court Friday he was fined $15 for drunkenness and given one month in the House of Correction for creating a disturbance.

Arthur Beal of Somerville was sentenced to six months in the House of Correction by Judge Bacon on Tuesday. Beal broke into the home of William Henderson at 69 Otis street, Newtonville, last week and stole jewelry and clothing. He was arrested Monday in Somerville when he was found asleep on the porch of a policeman's home in that city.

Louis Stempel of 24 Prince street, West Newton, was fined $5 for operating a motor vehicle by Judge Gibbs in the Waltham court yesterday.

Charles Tobin and Arthur Duffy of South Boston each was fined $50 in the Newton court yesterday for larceny. Several months ago the stock of liquor in the Hudson Drug Store at Newton was stolen and it was learned that Tobin, who worked there, was implicated. They were charged with breaking and entering, and larceny. The first charge was dismissed when Tobin stated that he had left a door open so that the theft might be made.
